

GRADUATE PROGRAMS ORIENTATION

Through our Master's Programs at Barton College we prepare you for current and evolving roles in your field. Through leadership concentrations, Barton's qualified and experienced faculty will prepare you for your role. This evening, you will meet members of the College community who are here to provide assistance as you begin your Barton Experience. The goal of Orientation is to introduce you to the staff, academic structure, and technology that will facilitate your transition, advisement, and registration at Barton College.
