The Catalog

Choice of Catalog

Each Barton College General Catalog takes effect at the opening of the fall semester. The catalog in effect at the time of first enrollment or at readmission governs the student's degree requirements. In cases of extenuating circumstances, the student may request from the Vice President for Academic Affairs a leave without prejudice. Such a request must be made before leaving the College for an extended time. If granted, the student may return to the College under the requirements of the Barton College General Catalog of original enrollment. It is the responsibility of the student to be aware of the information in the catalog.

Nondiscriminatory Policy

Barton College accepts students without prejudice of any kind. The College does not discriminate in administration of its educational, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic or other school-administered programs. Barton is authorized under federal law to enroll non-immigrant alien students. Barton College is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

Barton College briefly ...

Barton College, a four-year, private, liberal arts college, believes in college on a first name basis. By providing students with a strong academic focus and opportunities for leadership development, Barton has earned national recognition for the last three years (2005-06, 2006-07, and 2007-08) as one of the top schools in the U.S. News & World Report's Comprehensive Colleges Bachelor's - South Division rankings as well as being named a Best Southeastern College in The Princeton Review. Barton is ranked in the top 80th percentile nationally for providing an enriched educational experience for its students. This recognition reflects the College's vision of uniting its smaller size with an intentional application of collaborative learning in every aspect of the students' college experience. Barton College, the 2007 NCAA DII National Men's Basketball Champion, is regarded as one of the best student-athlete programs in Conference Carolinas.

Location

Wilson, North Carolina (population 44,000), is located 45 miles east of North Carolina's capital city of Raleigh and seven miles east of Interstate 95 (the main route between New York and Florida). The city is served by Amtrak and by one bus company. Commercial air service is available at Raleigh-Durham International Airport.

Enrollment

Approximately 1,200; nearly half of the full-time students reside on campus. The College has students from 30 states and 16 foreign countries.

Academics

Five schools offering 32 academic majors. Bachelor of Arts, Bachelor of Science, Bachelor of Fine Arts, Bachelor of Science in Nursing, Bachelor of Social Work, and the Bachelor of Liberal Studies degrees are awarded through the schools of Arts and Sciences, Behavioral Sciences, Business, Education, and Nursing.

Calendar

Fall semester, January term, spring semester. During fall and spring semesters, a full-time student carries from 12 to 18 semester hours; a student takes from one to four semester hours during the January term. Two summer terms are also available; a student may take up to seven semester hours per summer term. Courses for students in Weekend College are offered on the trimester system; a student may take up to 10 semester hours per trimester.

History

In 1901, the North Carolina Christian Missionary Convention purchased Kinsey Seminary from the Wilson Education Association. In 1902, Barton College, under its former name of Atlantic Christian College, was incorporated by the state of North Carolina. The College opened with a capacity enrollment of 107 in September. Ada Tyson became the first graduate in the spring of 1903. In May 1922, the College was recognized as a standard A-grade institution by the North Carolina Board of Education. In 1923, the College adopted the words Habebunt Lumen Vitae – “They shall have the light of life” – as its official college motto. In 1955, the College was accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools. On September 6, 1990, the College changed its name to Barton College. Barton College has been served by the following presidents: James C. Coggins, 1902-1904; John J. Harper, 1904-1908; Jesse C. Caldwell, 1908-1916; Raymond A. Smith, 1916-1920; Howard S. Hilley, 1920-1949; Cecil A. Jarman, acting 1949-1950; Denton Ray Lindley, 1950-1953; James M. Moudy, acting 1953; Travis A. White, 1953-1956; James M. Moudy, acting 1956; Arthur D. Wenger, 1956-1977; Milton L. Adams, acting 1977; Harold C. Doster, 1978-1983; James B. Hemby, Jr., President Emeritus, 1983-2003; and Norval C. Kneten, our current president.

Affiliation

The College is affiliated with the Division of Higher Education of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). It is also a member of the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education, the American Council on Education, North Carolina Independent Colleges and Universities, and the Council of Baccalaureate and Higher Degree Programs of the National League of Nursing.

College Name

The namesake of the College is Barton Warren Stone, who was a major figure in the founding of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ). In addition to Stone’s early ministry in eastern North Carolina, he also has roots in private higher education in this state. Born in Maryland and reared in Virginia, Stone used his modest inheritance to attend Caldwell Academy in Greensboro in the late 1700s. Stone’s academic career had its beginnings in law and later in teaching, but it eventually gave way to a lifelong religious evolution that carried him to the frontiers of Kentucky. In that state, a religious movement led by Stone and another led by Thomas Campbell merged in 1832 to form the denomination which, 70 years later, established the College.

Alumni Association

The Barton College Alumni Association includes more than 26,000 graduates and former students. Members of the Association are encouraged to take part in the organization’s many activities, from fund-raising to encouraging prospective students to consider the College. Barton Scope, published twice a year, is a magazine for alumni and friends of the College.

Accreditation

Barton College is accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (1866 Southern Lane, Decatur, GA 30033-4097; Telephone 404-679-4501) to award the baccalaureate degree. Programs of the College also have accreditation from the following organizations: National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education, Council for Exceptional Children, North Carolina Department of Public Instruction, Council on Education of the Deaf, North Carolina Board of Nursing (P.O. Box 2129, Raleigh, NC; Telephone 919-782-3211), the National League for Nursing Accrediting Commission (61 Broadway, New York, NY 10006; Telephone 212-363-5555), and the Council on Social Work Education.

Statement of Purpose

I

The College is organized to maintain and operate an institution of learning for the education and instruction of qualified students within the framework of the Christian ideals and principles and under the auspices of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in North Carolina.

— The College Charter

II

Barton College is a community of learners freely examining the intellectual and cultural experiences of a diverse and interdependent world to understand humanity's rich heritage and to improve the quality of all existence.

Mission Statement

Barton College is committed to providing programs and opportunities to encourage the intellectual, spiritual, social, and cultural development of its students and to challenge them for future leadership and service to their local and global communities.

ADMISSIONS

Admission to Barton College is competitive. The College seeks students from a variety of backgrounds who can contribute to and benefit from the College's many scholastic and extracurricular programs. Barton College admits students on the basis of individual merit following a careful review of their academic and personal qualifications. Barton College reserves the right to refuse admission or re-admission to any student who, in the opinion of the Admissions Committee, does not possess the ability to contribute positively to the campus community. Admission to the College does not guarantee entry into or successful completion of any particular program or course of study.

Barton College does not discriminate against applicants or students on the basis of race, color, religion, gender, age, marital status, sexual orientation, national or ethnic origin, veteran's status, qualified handicap, or any other consideration made unlawful by local, state, or federal law. Barton College is a member of the National Association of College Admission Counseling (NACAC) and adheres to NACAC's Statement of Principles of Good Practice.

Application forms may be requested from the Office of Admissions or completed online at www.barton.edu. Many high school and transfer counselors also have applications available.

Barton College reserves the right to change admissions requirements.

Freshman Admission

Freshman Admission Requirements

The student must meet the following requirements for admission:

- Have a high school diploma or its equivalent with a total of at least 13 college preparatory units.
- The following selection of courses is recommended (except where minimum requirements apply): English (4-unit minimum required); Mathematics (3-unit minimum required, including Algebra I, Geometry, and Algebra II); Natural Science (2 units, including one laboratory science); Social Science (3 units). Foreign Languages, while not required, are encouraged and are counted as college preparatory units to reach the 13-unit minimum.
- Take the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) or American College Testing Program (ACT). As recommended by the testing agencies, no applicant is granted automatic admission or denied admission to the College on the sole basis of these test scores. SAT and ACT scores may be waived when the person is age 21 or older and has graduated from high school at least three years ago.

- Barton recommends students have an unweighted grade point average of 2.30 and an 890 (combined critical reading and math) SAT or 19 ACT. Students that do not meet the recommended grade point average, test score, or course requirements, will be presented to the Admissions Review Committee.

Application for Freshman Admission

The student must take the following steps to apply for admission:

- Submit a completed application form and a non-refundable $25 application fee to the Office of Admissions. An entering student interested in part-time enrollment must submit the application and fee to the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs.
- Have an official transcript of high school work sent to the Office of Admissions directly from the high school records office.
- Have an official copy of SAT or ACT scores sent to the Office of Admissions from The College Board or The American College Testing. The SAT is administered in January, March, May, June, October, November, and December. Either test should be taken during the spring administration dates during the junior year of high school. The SAT or ACT normally are taken during the first semester of the senior year of high school. A student can obtain an application to take the test from a high school counselor or by contacting either testing agency. When registering for either the SAT or the ACT, a student should use the College code numbers: 5016 for SAT and 3066 for the ACT.
- Home schooled students should submit written documentation of successful completion of the equivalency of a college preparatory high school curriculum. Transcripts from a cooperating school district or certified testing agency are preferred.

Transfer Admission

Transfer Admission Requirement

We welcome a student transferring to Barton College from another college or university with a minimum 2.00 transfer grade point average. Admissions for students with transfer grade point averages below 2.00 will be at the discretion of the Director of Admissions. The student must also be eligible to return to the institution last attended. An exception may be made for a student ineligible on a disciplinary basis if special clarification from the previous institution is obtained. Concealment of a disciplinary ineligibility at the time of application to the College is grounds for dismissal from the College.

Application for Transfer Admission

The transferring student must take the following steps to apply for admission:

- Submit a completed application form and non-refundable $25 application fee to the Office of Admissions. An entering student interested in part-time enrollment must submit the application and have official transcripts from all college work taken at other institutions sent to the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs.

- Have official transcripts of college work taken at other institutions sent to the Office of Admissions directly from the college registrar's office.
- Have an official transcript of high school work sent to the Office of Admissions directly from the high school records office if less than 12 semester hours credit of college work is transferable to Barton.

Lifelong Education and Extended Programs

Barton College maintains the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs for the benefit of the student who wishes to attend college on a part-time basis during the fall and spring semester or during Barton's Weekend College. Lifelong Education and Extended Programs are also for the student who is not intending to seek a degree but who wishes to benefit from the cultural, social, and educational offerings of the College.

The Lifelong Education and Extended Programs Student

The Lifelong Education and Extended Programs applicant meets the regular college admission requirements and is subject to academic rules and regulations applicable to the traditional student. The student may enroll for credit or as an auditor. The Lifelong Education and Extended Programs student who is at least 22 years of age is exempted from the First-Year Seminar courses in the General College Core.

Weekend College

Weekend College is offered through the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs to provide an educational alternative to men and women 22 years of age or older, who work or have other commitments, and who are unable to pursue the baccalaureate through programs that are offered at traditional times during the week. This format is a means by which the student may earn a bachelor's degree, update or gain skills for professional advancement, prepare for career change, or pursue personal interests in one or more areas of the liberal arts. Degree opportunities are available in the following degree programs: Accounting; Business Management; Criminal Justice and Criminology; Elementary Education (K-6); Special Education; General Curriculum; Birth to Kindergarten (B-K); Gerontology; Management of Human Resources; and Social Work. Additional programs offered include R.N. to B.S.N. Classes meet once on scheduled weekends on either Friday evening, Saturday morning, Saturday afternoon, or Sunday afternoon during the fall, winter, and spring trimesters. The Lifelong Education and Extended Programs tuition reduction is available to the qualifying Weekend College student who enrolls in no more than nine semester hours and must not have been enrolled as a full-time student in a traditional four-year college or university for at least one academic year.

Financial Aid

Students attending Barton College through the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs may be eligible to receive certain types of financial assistance through the Office of Financial Aid. Eligibility is determined by the Free Application for Federal Student Aid. Students may receive assistance from the Federal Pell Grant and Federal Family Education Loan Program. A minimum of six hours of continuous enrollment per trimester is required to receive any assistance from either program.

Application for Part-time Transfer Admission

The part-time transfer student must take the following steps to apply for admission:

- Submit a completed application form along with a non-refundable $25 application fee to the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs.
- Have official transcripts of all college work taken at other institutions sent to the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs. In certain cases, transcripts of high school records may be requested. Refer to “Transfer of College Credit” for the regulations governing the transfer of credit for courses taken at other institutions.

Special Admission

Barton College admits a person in two categories as a special student. A student from either of these categories must meet the requirements of the courses to be taken.

- The teacher certification candidate who has already completed a baccalaureate degree.
- The college graduate working to complete the requirements of a second major without seeking a second degree.

Application for Special Admission

The special student must take the following steps to apply for admission:

- Submit a completed application form along with a non-refundable $25 application fee to the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs. The application fee is waived for a graduate of Barton College.
- Have official transcripts of all college work taken at other institutions sent to the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs.

Probationary Part-time Admission

The applicant who does not meet the regular admission requirements may be admitted into the Lifelong Education and Extended Programs under probationary admission, and apply later for acceptance into the regular college, upon satisfactory completion of at least 15 semester hours of approved college work with a cumulative grade point average of 2.00. An applicant who does not meet the regular admission requirements and is under the age of 18 may be admitted into the Lifelong Education and Extended Program as a probationary student if permission is obtained from the high school principal. The regulations governing probationary admission are:

- Of the first 15 semester hours, six must come from the General College Core requirements.
- A student failing to achieve a 2.00 in the first 15 semester hours may continue to enroll in approved courses in an effort to bring the cumulative grade point average to 2.00.
- Failure to achieve a minimum grade point average of 2.00 after attempting 30 semester hours results in ineligibility for any additional course work at the College.

Non-Degree Enrollment

Barton College admits the part-time student for non-degree enrollment. This includes:

- The student who is seeking a degree at another college or university.
- The student who is not currently interested in seeking a college degree but who wishes to enroll in classes either for credit or as an auditing student.
- The college graduate who wishes to take personal enrichment courses.
- The high school student whose PSAT/SAT/ACT score is in the upper half of national norms and/or who ranks in the upper quarter of the high school class. A written statement granting permission to enroll at the College must be provided by the high school principal.

Non-Degree Enrollment Regulations

- The non-degree student enrolls through the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs.
- Evidence of previous success in an educational environment is required at the time of registration.
- A waiver of degree-seeking status must be signed at the time of registration. Formal application for admission to the College must be made if the student should later decide to seek a degree. Any course credits earned in the non-degree status would apply to the requirements of a degree program, based on the catalog in effect at the time of enrollment in the College, as a degree-seeking student.
- The grade point standard for continuous enrollment is the same for this category as it is for a student admitted to the College in a degree-seeking status.
- In order for a student to audit a class, a student must provide evidence of previous educational success or have permission of the instructor.
- The instructor may cancel the auditing student's class participation if he/she is a disruption to the remainder of the class.

Summer Session Enrollment

Barton College allows students from other institutions to take courses in the summer sessions. These students enroll under the rules listed with “Non-Degree Enrollment” above. Summer school applications are available through the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs.

Students enrolled in the Lifelong Education and Extended Programs, during the Spring Trimester and Summer Sessions I, may not exceed nine hours when combined. If the student wishes to take twelve hours, the student must petition. The cost of tuition per hour will increase if the student is taking over ten hours.

International Student Admission

Barton College encourages application from the international student and is dedicated to providing the best possible arena for international education. In its recruitment and admission program, the College seeks a diverse student body and strives to admit qualified students from varied national and cultural backgrounds. The admission of an international student requires careful and timely analysis of educational credentials and transcripts. It is imperative that credentials be submitted for evaluation in order to allow adequate time for the processing of appropriate visa information through U.S. consulates and embassies abroad. An admission decision is made once all required documentation has been received by the Office of Admissions. A Form I-20 is issued to each deposited international student.

Application for International Student Freshman Admission

To be considered for admission, the international student must:

- Submit a completed application form along with a non-refundable $50 application fee to the Office of Admissions.
- Submit official transcripts of all academic work completed beyond the elementary school level to a certified National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES) member. For a complete list of NACES members, go to www.naces.org. Evaluation results must be received in the Office of Admissions no later than July 1, for admission in the fall semester, and no later than November 1, for admission in the spring semester.
- Submit proof of ability to pay for at least the first year of study. This may be done either by sending a check to cover expenses or providing valid bank statements clearly denoting the ability to pay and the method of payment. A Certificate of Financial Responsibility must also be completed. All College charges must be paid in full at the time of registration.
- Provide proof of adequate English skills if English is not the native language. This may be done either by submitting a Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) score high enough to demonstrate competency (a score of 525 or greater on the written test, 195 or greater on the computer based exam, or 71 or greater on the internet based exam), enrolling in the English Language Schools program and passing English level 109, as defined by ELS, or enrolling in the ASPECT English program and passing ASPECT level 7, as defined by ASPECT.

Information on the various ESL programs and sites in the United States can be obtained online at www.els.edu. Information on ASPECT can be obtained online at www.aspectworld.com.

Application for International Student Transfer Admission

The transferring international student must take the following steps to apply for admission:

- Submit a completed application form along with a non-refundable $50 application fee to the Office of Admissions.
- Submit official transcripts of all college work taken at other institutions sent to a certified National Association of Credential Evaluation Services (NACES) member. For a complete list of NACES members, go to www.naces.org. Evaluation results must be received in the Office of Admissions no later than July 1, for admission in the fall semester, and no later than November 1, for admission in the spring semester. In certain cases, evaluations of high school records may be requested.
- Provide proof of adequate English skills if English is not the native language. This may be done either by submitting a Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) score high enough to demonstrate competency (a score of 525 or greater on the written test, 195 or greater on the computer based exam, or 71 or greater on the internet based exam).

Refer to “Transfer of College Credit” for the regulations governing the transfer of credit for courses taken at other institutions.

Re-enrollment vs. Readmission

Once a student withdraws from the College, it may be necessary to submit a completed application form in order to enroll again. Part-time students should submit the application to the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs. The Weekend College student will need to reapply to the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs after two consecutive trimester absences in an academic year. If a full-time student wishes to return to Barton after a one semester absence, he/she must contact the Director of Student Success at 252-399-6313 to begin the re-enrollment process. If a full-time student wishes to return to Barton after an absence of two or more semesters, he/she must re-apply through the Office of Admissions. There is no application fee.

Readmission is automatic for the categories of students presented below. However, no student will be readmitted automatically if her or she was not in good standing at the time of leaving Barton College. “Good standing” refers to both the academic record (the GPA required for continuous enrollment, p. 90) and the College’s Honor Code and Policy on Academic Honesty (pages 92 & 93). Any applicant for readmission that has academic or conduct deficiencies or problems will first be reviewed by the Admissions Committee.

- The applicant who left Barton College in good standing and has not attended any other institution.

- The applicant who subsequently attended another institution and maintained a grade point average of 2.00.
- The applicant who left Barton College on academic suspension and has completed the period of suspension.

The readmitted student should understand that the catalog in effect at the time of readmission governs the student's academic program. The readmitted student follows the core requirements in the catalog at the time of readmission. The readmitted student follows the requirements in the major in effect when the student re-declares the previous major or declares a new major.

Any applicant who left the College in good standing and then attended another institution where a grade point average of less than 2.00 was earned, is reviewed by the Admissions Review Committee. The committee, at its discretion, may request written documentation explaining any extenuating circumstances contributing to the unsatisfactory grade point average. The committee may request the student to provide letters of recommendation or to appear before the committee to explain the prior performance and to discuss standards for readmission.

A student on academic suspension who has not served out the entire period of suspension must apply for readmission through the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

All readmitted students are required to update their immunization and health records. Failure to provide current immunization and health records will result in dismissal from the College.

Acceptance Procedure and Fees

The Office of Admissions reviews each application to Barton College on a rolling admission plan. As soon as all required materials have been received, applications are reviewed and acted upon. Each applicant is notified promptly. A student offered admission to the College needs to confirm the decision to attend the College by sending a $200 non-refundable advanced tuition deposit. This advance deposit is credited to the tuition account for the first semester.

Immunizations

Lee Student Health Center provides a medical form for each deposited student. North Carolina State Law requires all students taking more than four credit hours to submit proof of immunization prior to enrollment. Exceptions to this law may be made only for bona fide documented medical or religious reasons. The student health form and immunization documents must be completed and returned to Lee Student Health Center before registration can be completed. Failure to provide a completed student health form, including proper immunization results, health history information and a current medical physical, will result in dismissal from the College.

EXPENSES

Student charges are determined annually by the Board of Trustees. All full-time residential students pay a comprehensive charge that consists of tuition, mandatory fees, room, and board costs. The comprehensive charge assumes enrollment for each semester in a minimum of twelve and a maximum of eighteen billable credit hours of course work. Students who enroll in more than eighteen billable hours of course work in any semester will be subject to an overload charge. Students who are part-time and who register for less than twelve billable credit hours in any semester will be subject to a per credit hours tuition and fees charge. Students who reside on campus are subject to a board charge and a room charge based upon their residence hall room assignment. In addition to the charges listed below, course and lab fees may be charged for enrollment in select courses. Those fees will be noted on the schedule of classes. Please see the table below for specific information.

Payment Information

Payment of all charges billed for each semester or term should be made to the Barton College Business Office according to the dates listed on the student's payment agreement. The College offers extended payment plan arrangements, which are discussed below. The Business Office provides monthly billing statements to all students. Please contact the Business Office for more information regarding payment plan or billing arrangements.

A student is not officially registered or entitled to enroll in classes until satisfactory financial arrangements have been made with the Business Office, including completion of a Payment Option Selection form and a Student Account Agreement and Disclosure Statement. Transcripts and diplomas will be withheld from students with outstanding financial obligations to the College. In order to register for a subsequent semester or term, the student's financial account must be current. Late payment fees of $25 each, and a finance charge of 18%, are added if account is past due.

Payment Plans

The following payment arrangements are available.

- Annual Payment Plan

The total of all amounts owed for the academic year, minus financial aid, is paid in ten monthly installments beginning July 1 and ending April 1. A payment plan fee of $75 is required.

- Summer Session

The total of all amounts owed for the summer session, minus financial aid, is paid in two installments at the beginning and ending of the summer term in which the student is registered. A payment plan fee of $20 is required.

- Weekend College

The total of all amounts owed, minus financial aid, is paid in three monthly installments over the trimester in which the student is registered. A payment plan fee of $30 is required.

Withdrawals and Refunds

Students withdrawing from Barton College, regardless of reason, are required to complete the College's withdrawal process. Withdrawal forms and information may be obtained from the Office of Student Success or the Office of the Registrar.

A student who voluntarily withdraws or reduces his/her course load below full-time status in any semester may receive a tuition, mandatory fees and room charge refund according to the following schedule: on or before the first day of class = 100% refund; second day of class through first ten percent of semester = 90% refund minus administration fee; from first ten percent of semester through the first twenty-five percent of semester = 50% refund minus administration fee; from first twenty-five percent of semester through the first fifty percent of the semester = 25% refund minus administration fee; from first fifty percent of semester through end = no refund. (See schedule below.)

Note: Course fees and private lesson fees are non-refundable following first day of class attendance.

Board charges are prorated and refunded based upon the number of weeks the student participated in the meal plan to the number of weeks of board operation in the semester.

A student who withdraws from the College as a result of his/her documented medical condition, may, upon request, receive a prorated refund of student charges as appropriate and as determined by the College. Medical withdrawal forms and information may be obtained from the Office of Student Success.

Weekend College withdrawal forms and information may be obtained from the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs.

Refunds of federal financial aid (Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan, Federal Stafford Loan, Federal Perkins Loan, Federal PLUS Loan, Federal Pell Grant, Federal Supplemental Opportunity Grant, other Title IV programs) will be calculated based upon the number of days contained in the semester/term during which the student withdraws. Please contact the Financial Aid Office for more information. Students who have financial aid and who intend to withdraw must contact the Financial Aid Office for withdrawal information.

FINANCIAL AID

Some amount of financial aid is often necessary for a majority of the students to meet the cost of a college education. During recent academic years more than 90 percent of the College student body has received financial aid totaling over 17 million dollars annually. The Office of Financial Aid attempts to identify students in need of financial aid and arranges loans, grants, scholarships, and/or part-time employment for them.

Application for Aid

The Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) is the only application required to apply for financial aid. You may complete this form online at www.fafsa.ed.gov. Please make sure to list Barton College's school code number – 02908-00 – in order for us to electronically receive the results of the application.

Some applications are randomly chosen by the CPS for a process called verification. Verification requires the Office of Financial Aid to confirm the information reported on the FAFSA. Additional documentation, including recent tax forms, will be required. However, the Office of Financial Aid will notify students if any supplemental documentation is needed.

Maintaining Eligibility

Federal regulations require any student receiving financial aid to maintain satisfactory progress towards graduation. This requirement includes the following considerations:

- A full-time student must satisfactorily pass 80% of credit hours attempted per year.
- A part-time student (enrolling in fewer than 12 semester hours per semester/trimester) must pass 80% of the appropriate fraction of hours to maintain satisfactory progress.
- The maximum time a student may receive financial aid is 189 semester hours, or 150% of the time it takes to receive a degree from the College.
- A full-time student must earn and maintain at least a 2.00 grade point average after four semesters at the College.
- A part-time student must earn and maintain at least a 2.00 grade point average after four semesters at the College, and Weekend College students, after 6 trimesters.
- A student not maintaining satisfactory progress toward graduation is not eligible for further financial assistance until these requirements are achieved. A student may apply for an appeal upon notice of no longer meeting these requirements.

Probationary Semester for Institutional Funds

A student, who fails to maintain the minimum required renewal criteria for institutional scholarships, could be eligible for funds to supplement the loss of that scholarship. To be eligible for this program, a student must have a minimum 2.00 GPA. Students who no longer meet the requirements for that scholarship will be notified by the Office of Financial Aid with their options for additional assistance. Appeals will be considered when the student submits a completed appeal form and supporting documentation of exceptional circumstances. Appeal forms are located on our web site at <http://www.barton.edu/finaid/forms.asp>.

Loan Funds

Federal Perkins Loan Program is funded by the Federal Government and administered by the College. The program makes available low-interest loans to students with financial need. Awards are made by the Office of Financial Aid to eligible students when they submit the FAFSA. A student may borrow up to $12,000 during the four years of undergraduate study. The student is obligated to repay the loan with interest.

Federal Stafford Student Loan Program allows a student to borrow up to $3,500 in the first year of enrollment, up to $4,500 in the second year, and up to $5,500 per year starting the junior year. The federal government pays the interest on a subsidized loan while the student is enrolled. The interest accrues while the student is enrolled on an unsubsidized loan; in the latter case, the interest may be “capitalized.”

Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loans are a second part of the Federal Family Education Loan Program. These are principally available to students who need to supplement any Stafford Loans and other resources available for their enrollment. The repayment period begins when the loan is disbursed and payment of interest must begin within 60 days following the disbursement and final installment of the loan proceeds. The length of the repayment period depends on the total amount borrowed but normally does not exceed 10 years. The borrower can obtain a combined payment covering multiple loans. Interest must be paid at least quarterly while the student is enrolled unless the borrower chooses to authorize the lender to add accrued interest to the loan principle (This is called “capitalization”). Capitalization costs the borrower more in interest charges over the life of the loan but it does provide an alternative if it is impossible to pay the interest during time of enrollment.

Federal Plus Loans to Parents are the third part of the Federal Family Education Loan Program. These loans are available to parents of dependent students. The parent borrowers must have a satisfactory credit record and must show the ability to meet the monthly payments on the education loan. The parent borrowers must complete a Financial Aid Application. The borrower and the benefiting student must be United States citizens or permanent resident aliens. The student must be enrolled at least half time in a degree or certificate program. A parent may borrow up to the difference between the cost of attendance and other financial aid per year for each dependent student. The interest is a variable rate set annually for the 12-month period starting July 1. The length of the repayment period depends on the total amount borrowed but normally does not exceed 10 years. Parent borrowers can obtain a combined payment covering multiple loans and, under certain conditions set by Federal law, can defer payments. For more information on loans visit www.barton.edu.

Grants

Federal Pell Grants are based on the expected family contribution and the availability of funds appropriated by Congress. The concept of this grant program is one of “entitlement” giving all students on a nationwide basis the same opportunity to share in the total federal allocation for this program.

Federal Supplementary Educational Opportunity Grants are provided by the federal government and must be matched by an equal amount of some other type of aid. Grants under this program can be awarded to students who are citizens of the United States; have been accepted for enrollment as full-time students, or who are in good standing and are in full-time attendance; show evidence of academic or creative promise and capability of maintaining good standing in the course of study; are of exceptional financial need; and would not be financially able to attend the College without such a grant.

North Carolina Legislative Tuition Grants are awarded to each full-time student who is a legal resident of North Carolina. The award amount is established annually by the General Assembly and one-half of the award is available each semester. Eligible students will be notified by the Financial Aid Office.

North Carolina State Contractual Grants are available to North Carolina students who can demonstrate need. The funds are appropriated by the North Carolina General Assembly and are awarded through the Office of Financial Aid. The amount of aid is determined by the degree of need and the availability of such funds.

North Carolina Student Incentive Grant (NCSIG) is offered by the North Carolina State Education Assistance Authority through College Foundation, Inc. The applicant must:

- be a United States citizen.
- be a North Carolina resident.
- be enrolled or accepted for enrollment on a full-time basis.
- not be enrolled in a program designed primarily for career preparation in a religious vocation.
- maintain satisfactory academic progress.
- demonstrate substantial financial need.

The award is $700 annually. Application is made automatically by completing the Free Application for Federal Student Aid.

Scholarships and Award Opportunities

The administration of the scholarships is subject to the following rules.

- A student seeking scholarship aid must file a Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) with the Office of Financial Aid. An eligible student may receive more than one scholarship if qualified.
- The total amount of grants and scholarships from all institutional sources may not exceed the total cost of attendance.
- A student placed on suspension may not be eligible to retain an endowed scholarship.

Religion Scholarships

- A student who is either an unmarried dependent child (under 23 years of age) or a spouse of a minister in active service is eligible for a tuition scholarship up to $2,400 annually, if there is financial need.
- A student who is an unmarried dependent child (under 23 years of age) of a member of the professional staff of the Higher Education and Leadership Ministries of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) is eligible for the same tuition remission offered to dependents of the faculty and staff of the College.
- A student engaging in the study of religion is eligible for a number of endowed and institutional scholarships available for that purpose.

Athletic Grants-In-Aid

Grants-in-aid are offered to athletes, in a limited number, in baseball, basketball, cross country, golf, soccer, softball, tennis, and volleyball.

Alumni Scholarship

The Alumni Scholarship, equaling $1,000, is awarded to dependent children of Barton College/ Atlantic Christian College graduates. The scholarship is renewable when the student maintains a 2.50 grade point average.

Multiple Family Member Tuition Discount

The Multiple Family Member discount, worth $1,000, is awarded to the second and subsequent family member concurrently enrolled at Barton College. The additional family member must be a dependent of the same household and both students must be enrolled on a full-time basis.

International Student Scholarships

The College provides approximately 30 scholarships annually. These scholarships are awarded upon recommendation of the Director of Financial Aid. An individual award for international students is $2,000. For renewal, the recipient must be continuously enrolled full-time and remain in good academic standing.

Veterans Benefits

The Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) provides various educational benefits under Title 38 of the U.S. Code. Details on eligibility and benefits can be obtained from the Registrar, who is the VA Certifying Official for the College.

The Yellow Ribbon GI Education Enhancement Program (Yellow Ribbon Program) is a provision of the Post 9/11 Veterans Educational Assistance Act of 2008. This program allows institutions of higher learning (degree granting institutions) in the United States to voluntarily enter into an agreement with VA to fund tuition expenses that exceed the highest public in-state undergraduate tuition rate. The institution can contribute up to 50% of those expenses and VA will match the same amount as the institution. Barton College will pay up to $5,000 per student, per year.

North Carolina Veterans Scholarship is available to children of deceased or disabled veterans or of veterans who were listed as POW/MIA. The veteran must have been a legal resident of North Carolina at time of entry into service, or the child must have been born in North Carolina and resided there continuously. The yearly value when used at a private college is $3,000 (full) and $1,200 (limited).

Student Employment

Many part-time jobs are available to students at the College to help defray college expenses. Merchants in the city of Wilson also offer employment to many students of the College. The College offers various part-time jobs in the library, dining hall, departmental offices, and elsewhere. A student interested in working on campus should apply to the Office of Financial Aid. To qualify, the student must fill out the Free Application for Federal Student Aid. Many of the students working in campus employment are participating in the federally sponsored College Work-Study Program.

Academic Scholarship Program

Barton College has traditionally recognized the importance of scholarly preparation. Each year Barton College awards entering freshmen and transfer student scholarships and grants based on academic performance. The following scholarships and awards reflect our commitment to helping you set ambitious goals and to experience the deep satisfaction of achieving your dreams.

Academic Scholarships for Entering Freshmen

The Trustee Scholarship was created to recognize our most excellent all-around students. Students must have at least a 3.25 cumulative grade point average, a minimum 1100 SAT score, demonstrate exceptional leadership skills, and be admitted to the institution by January 1 for the upcoming academic year. The scholarship is awarded through an application and interview process and students who meet the criteria will be contacted directly by the Office of Admissions.

Our Presidential Scholarship is awarded to entering freshmen who have worked hard to prepare for the rigors of college. Students who are awarded this scholarship have performed exceedingly well in high school and on the SAT or ACT. Through this award we applaud and reward academic excellence.

We offer the Barton W. Stone Scholarship to students who have thoroughly prepared for the challenges of a liberal arts education. Students who are awarded this scholarship are to be commended for their academic preparation.

The John J. Harper Scholarship is given to students who have performed well in high school and on the SAT or ACT. Students receive this award as an incentive to continue their academic preparation.

Freshman Academic Award	Value	Renewal GPA*
Trustee Scholarship	$10,000.00	3.00
Presidential Scholarship	$6,500.00	3.00
Barton W. Stone Scholarship	$5,000.00	2.70
John J. Harper Scholarship	$3,000.00	2.50

Academic Scholarships for Transfer Students

Barton College offers scholarships for students with previous college or university credit based upon the individuals' transfer college grade point averages (GPA). Transfer students admitted with fewer than 12 semester hours of transfer credit will, at the discretion of the Director of Admissions, be subject to the same scholarship criteria as that of entering freshmen.

The Transfer High Honors Scholarship is awarded to students who have been extremely successful during their previous college or university experience. This award honors their achievement and promotes continued academic excellence.

Barton College offers the Transfer Honors Scholarship to those students transferring from another college or university where they have exhibited an outstanding record in academic scholarship.

The Transfer Incentive Award is given to those transfer students who have high academic ability. Barton College seeks to promote continued learning and personal growth to these excellent students.

Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society is the most prestigious academic honor society for two-year college students. Members of the organization excel academically and are driven to serve as leaders at their schools and in the community. Barton College awards transfer students of Phi Theta Kappa a $2,000 scholarship toward their tuition.

Transfer Academic Award	Value	Transferable College GPA	Renewal GPA*
Transfer High Honors Scholarship	$3,000.00	3.20 or greater	3.00
Transfer Honors Scholarship	$2,000.00	2.85 - 3.19	2.50
Transfer Incentive Award	$1,000.00	2.50 - 2.84	2.00
Phi Theta Kappa	$2,000.00	-	2.00

In addition to the required renewal GPA, students must maintain satisfactory academic progress as outlined in the College Catalog and be enrolled continuously on a full-time basis. Fifth year seniors are not eligible for these scholarships.

Endowed Scholarships

Barton College is fortunate to offer scholarships made possible through the generosity of various donors. These scholarships are awarded by the Office of Financial Aid, and other departments as designated, based on specified criteria. Students receiving endowed scholarships are requested to acknowledge this assistance by sending a thank you letter to the donor. Endowed and donor scholarships may be used to replace previously awarded Barton academic awards.

The George H. Adams Memorial Endowed Scholarship was established through a bequest from the estate of Mr. Adams, a longtime member of the Board of Trustees of the College. The scholarship is awarded annually to a presently enrolled or entering student with first preference given to a resident of Wilson County, North Carolina. Second preference is given to a resident of North Carolina. The recipient is chosen by the Office of Financial Aid in consultation with the Office of Admissions.

Barton College offers opportunities for the student to develop interests in many academic disciplines. The College also provides options outside the classroom for the student to develop through various organizations, religious activities, leadership opportunities, athletics, recreation, and cultural events. Residence life, an integral part of a college education, enhances and develops the student's interpersonal relationships and builds community.

Student Organizations

Numerous campus organizations offer opportunities for leadership development, as well as providing experience in the democratic process, and in making social contacts.

Student Government Association (SGA)

The Student Government Association of the College provides each student with an opportunity for expression regarding issues. The Student Government Association also provides a setting for learning the operations of democracy. The officers of the Student Government Association are elected by the members of the student body. The President of the Student Government Association serves as an ex-officio member of the College Board of Trustees.

Honor Societies

The various honor societies of the College are listed in the "Honors and Awards" section of the catalog.

Student Clubs and Organizations

Barton College has a growing number of student organizations. Currently there are approximately 50 different clubs and organizations. Student clubs and organizations typically relate to one of seven categories:

- Academic (These clubs are usually focused on specific academic pursuits and/or are affiliated with an academic department.)
- Common Interest (Organizations in which the members share an interest in an activity or subject.)
- Greek social organizations
- Leadership (Organizations whose members volunteer leadership on campus.)
- Programming (Groups that sponsor events and performers.)
- Religious
- Service
- Honor Societies (A complete list of these groups can be found in the "Honors and Awards" section of the catalog.)

To find out more about any of these organizations, contact the Office of Student Activities.

Greek Organizations

There are three social men's fraternities and three women's sororities at the College.

- Fraternities are Alpha Sigma Phi, Pi Kappa Phi, and Sigma Phi Epsilon.
- Sororities are Delta Zeta, Phi Mu, and Sigma Sigma Sigma. The sororities occupy a floor in the residence halls on campus.

Student Publication

Campus Newspaper

The Collegiate is a bimonthly newspaper published by the students. The paper affords an opportunity for open discussion of matters of concern to the College community.

Student Activities

The Campus Activities Board brings popular entertainers and groups to the campus and sponsors events such as outdoor concerts, dances, comedy and novelty acts, and solo performers. The Concert, Lecture and Convocation Coordinator invites distinguished speakers, artists, and entertainers to the campus each year. Theatre at Barton College offers a variety of theatrical performances and the music program presents concerts throughout the year.

Religious Life

The religious program is designed to undergird and permeate the total life experience of each student. The College Chaplain coordinates the religious life program and counsels with members of the College community in matters of personal and spiritual concerns. The Chaplain's Office provides retreats, concerts, lectures, and programs of religious significance. The College's religious life program seeks to provide opportunities for the student to discover, to question, and to develop an awareness and understanding of the role of faith in the life of the academic community and in the scope of human existence.

The Allan R. Sharp Religion-In-Life event is sponsored, during each fall semester, by the Barton chapter of Theta Alpha Kappa, the National Honor Society for Religious Studies and Philosophy.

The Thedford G. and Woodrow W. Sprinkle Lectureship was established in 1980 by a gift from Stephen V. Sprinkle '74, as a memorial to his father and uncle. Each March, the lectures explore the relationship between theology and Christian preaching. The annual speaker is selected by the Department of Religion and Philosophy.

The E.G. Purcell, Jr., Bible Conference was established in 1984 in honor of Eugene G. Purcell, Jr., who was a member of the Department of Religion and Philosophy from 1957 to 1984. The lectures are designed to provide the public with the finest in recent biblical scholarship each year. From the beginning, the Purcell Bible Conference has been planned with the laity of the church in mind.

Chapel Services are offered on designated Sunday evenings in Howard Chapel. The College community also gathers for worship around major holidays or College-sponsored events, such as Homecoming, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Baccalaureate. See the campus calendar for specific dates and times.

Athletics and Recreation

A well-rounded athletic program is fostered by the College. Although intercollegiate sports are encouraged, the campus community seeks to maintain a healthy interest in intramural sports, so that a greater number of students may benefit from sports activities.

Eligibility to represent the College in intercollegiate sports is governed by the regulations of the College and by the constitutional requirements of the Conference Carolinas and NCAA Division II. The College participates in the following intercollegiate sports: basketball, fast-pitch softball, soccer, tennis, cross-country, and volleyball for women; baseball, basketball, golf, soccer, cross-country, and tennis for men. Barton College intercollegiate teams compete as “The Bulldogs.” Intramural and recreational services are conducted through the Department of Physical Education and Sport Studies. The major programs and services include, but are not limited to, intramural sports, informal recreation, equipment check-out services, and various fitness programs.

Student Services

Counseling Services

Barton College offers a variety of counseling services designed to assist in the development and adjustment of each student within the College community from the time of admission through graduation. These services are conducted through the offices of the Director of Counseling, the College Chaplain, the Director of Career Services, and the Director of Student Success.

Student Insurance

An insurance plan chosen by the College is available for all full-time and part-time students to purchase. This insurance plan covers an entire year, beginning at the end of August. Any medical expenses incurred, which insurance will not pay, are the responsibility of the student.

Bookstore

The Bookstore stocks all required textbooks and reading materials. It also carries a wide selection of Barton College insignia items, including stationery and clothing, as well as other gift items, cards, art supplies, and school supplies. Purchases may be paid for by cash, personal checks, student debit card, or by Discover, MasterCard, or Visa credit cards. The store is located directly behind the Hamlin Student Center, and is open during the academic year and summer sessions from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday. The store has special opening hours to serve the Weekend College student.

Post Office

The Post Office is located directly behind the Hamlin Student Center. This post office station is operated by the College under contract with the United States Postal Service. Post office boxes are assigned to full-time residential students. United Parcel Service also delivers to this post office station.

Shuttle Service

The Office of Student Activities provides a shuttle to and from the Raleigh-Durham International Airport to assist residential students arriving at the beginning of school terms, returning home at the end of school terms, and during school holidays. Shuttle times are posted in the Office of Student Activities. The student is responsible for making travel plans to coincide with shuttle times. The student who wishes to utilize the shuttle service must register in the Office of Student Activities two weeks in advance.

Student Housing

The freshman and sophomore student is required to live in College housing when such facilities are available, unless the student is eligible to reside off-campus. In order to be released from on-campus housing, the student must complete an “Off-Campus Housing Release Form,” (by June 15 for fall semester, and by December 15 for the spring semester), and must receive written approval from the Assistant Vice President for Student Affairs. A release from campus housing does not imply a release from financial obligations in the Business Office. A student moving off campus without permission of both offices may be billed for campus housing. Each student who is at least of junior academic standing is automatically eligible to live off-campus. Specific criteria for housing release is delineated in the Barton College Student Handbook.

Housing Application

Application for campus housing must be submitted for each academic year or term for which housing is desired. The application process varies according to whether the student is newly entering the College or continuing from a previous year. Readmission status is considered the same as new-student status. The new student is required to indicate housing needs as part of the application process to enter the College. The continuing student is required to complete a housing application each year at a time announced by the Director of Residence Life. An application for campus housing does not necessarily ensure a housing assignment. Any student who has not physically occupied the assigned room or otherwise made arrangements through the Director of Residence Life by the start of classes will have the assignment canceled and the room will then be made available to other applicants.

Room Assignments

The Director of Residence Life coordinates room assignments. The student has the opportunity to request a specific roommate and residence hall and also indicate other preferences. Each request is considered; however, the final decision is based on overall College policy and general student welfare. Each resident is assigned a roommate unless approval for a private room is granted (see “Private Rooms” below). Under no circumstance shall a student change rooms without approval of the Office of Residence Life. A room assignment for the fall semester may be changed on an availability basis and with written notification from the student until two weeks prior to the beginning of classes. After this time, each placement is frozen and remains so until the end of session. Special arrangements may be made as necessary for the student with a physical challenge.

Private Rooms

Any student wishing to reside in a private room must submit a “Private Room Application Form,” available from the Office of Residence Life. In the event that a student is left with a “forced private room” (i.e., roommate failed to arrive at school), the student has the option to be assigned to another room with a roommate, or to remain in the room (without a roommate) for a prorated private room fee. A new roommate may be assigned at any time during this period. The student may have the option to retain the single room for the spring semester. If the student so chooses, then he/she is charged the private rate.

The Housing Contract

The payment of room fees does not constitute a lessee-lessor contract. While the student is a resident in the residence hall, the occupancy of a residence hall is a use of a College facility. This usage does not give the same latitude as does a lessee-lessor rental contract. The College is not responsible for loss or theft from residence hall rooms. The College reserves the right to deny housing to any student whose conduct, in its judgment, is inconsistent with the aims and purposes of the institution, and whose continuation as a resident student is deemed detrimental. Any resident student who demonstrates by deed or action an inability or unwillingness to abide by the rules and regulations established for the welfare of all residents may be required to relinquish the privilege of occupancy. In such a case, there is no refund of room fees.

Student Conduct

Academic institutions exist for the transmission of knowledge, the pursuit of truth, the development of the student, and the general well-being of society. Free inquiry and free expression are indispensable to the attainment of these goals. The College recognizes the right of a student to formulate a personal philosophy and to respond to important issues as a matter of paramount importance which must be zealously guarded. The fact that this freedom is sometimes misused and finds expression in unacceptable conduct must not, however, lead to its abridgment. Standards and regulations of the College governing student conduct have been formulated to meet the needs of the entire College community. These are published in the Barton College Judicial System and Procedures Handbook and in other College publications, which are distributed and available to the student upon matriculation and at the beginning of each academic year. A student comes under the jurisdiction of College regulations at the time of enrollment. A student enrolled at the College is also subject to federal, state, and local laws. A student is not entitled to greater immunities or privileges before the law than those enjoyed by other citizens. A student is subject to such disciplinary action as the administration of the College may consider appropriate for the breach of federal, state, or local laws, or of College regulations.

Note: This principle extends to off-campus conduct having an adverse effect on the College.

Motor Vehicles

Motor Vehicle Registration

Each motor vehicle utilizing the parking lots of Barton College is required to be registered with the Administration and Finance Division-Wilson Police Department/Barton College District Office. Campus parking areas are provided for students and faculty; however, the College cannot guarantee the availability of parking spaces. A parking permit is issued for each registered motor vehicle at the beginning of each academic year or semester. The parking permit should be affixed to the window of the vehicle in keeping with instructions from the Wilson Police Department/Barton College District Office. A temporary parking permit for an unregistered vehicle may be obtained from the Wilson Police Department/Barton College District Office in Waters Hall.

Disabled Student Parking

The disabled student is eligible to use special reserved parking spaces located as close as possible to campus facilities. In order to use these spaces, the student must display a handicapped license tag or a handicapped placard. Special handicapped parking decals are available from the Wilson Police Department/Barton College District Office.

Parking Violations

All parking fines incurred as a result of parking violations must be cleared prior to enrolling for the subsequent semester. Traffic regulations are printed in the Barton College Student Handbook, and each student should become familiar with all traffic rules and regulations. If an individual receives a parking citation and wishes to appeal such, then the appeal must be initiated in writing within 10 business days to the Wilson Police Department/Barton College District Office.

Responsibility for Motor Vehicles

The College is not responsible for theft, loss, or damage to vehicles on College premises or property under its control.

Degrees Awarded

Barton College offers six baccalaureate degrees:

- A Bachelor of Arts degree provides a broad background in coursework with a special emphasis on historical, aesthetic, and values perspectives.
- A Bachelor of Science degree provides a focused program in technical, scientific, or pre-professional options.
- A Bachelor of Fine Arts degree provides a broad background in the visual arts along with focused study in a single medium.
- The Bachelor of Liberal Studies is an interdisciplinary degree designed for students in the Lifelong Education and Extended Programs.
- The Bachelor of Science in Nursing indicates the completion of a curriculum approved by the National League for Nursing.
- The Bachelor of Social Work indicates the completion of a curriculum approved by the Council on Social Work Education.

Second Degrees

The following policies govern the awarding of a second degree.

- To satisfy the requirements for a second baccalaureate degree from the College, a student must complete a minimum of 30 semester hours over and above those applied toward the requirements of the first degree.
- A student may be awarded two degrees in one commencement provided the degrees are not of the same kind (i.e., two Bachelor of Arts degrees, two Bachelor of Science degrees, two Bachelor of Fine Arts degrees). The General College Core requirements and general electives for one degree may be used to satisfy requirements for the second degree.

Baccalaureate Degree Course Requirements

To earn a baccalaureate degree the student must complete the academic program listed below:

- General College Core requirements. These are listed on the following pages.
- Academic Major requirements. An academic major is a concentration of courses designed to qualify the student for entry-level positions in the field or for beginning-level graduate study. Academic majors are listed under each academic school in the “Schools and Departments” section of the catalog. The student must complete a “Request for Major” form.

It is necessary to file a new “Request for Major” form when the student changes academic majors.

- An Academic Minor may be selected. These are listed under each academic department in the “Departmental Programs” section of the catalog. For an academic minor to be recognized, the student must declare a minor on the “Request for Major” form.
- Any deviation from the published requirements must be approved by the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Baccalaureate Degree Standards

In addition to the courses required for the baccalaureate degree, the student must meet the following criteria:

- Semester hours completed. A minimum of 126 semester hours of academic credit is necessary for graduation. There are a few programs at the College that require as many as 134 semester hours.
- Grade point average. The student must complete the requirements for graduation with a grade point average of at least 2.00. In addition, the requirements of the academic major must be completed with at least a 2.00. Some major programs require a grade point average higher than a 2.00. A 2.00 grade point average is required for the completion of any minor program. The grade point average is computed on work taken at Barton College only. Graduation honors are computed on all college work attempted.
- Residency at Barton College. A minimum of 45 semester hours of work must be taken at the College. Within these 45 hours the following conditions must be met: 1) at least 30 hours must be in 300-, 400-, or multi-level courses. 2) at least 15 hours must be in the major (of which at least nine must be in 300-, 400-, or multi-level courses). The last 30 hours must be taken at the College. The student who has completed at least 64 hours at the College may take up to 12 semester hours of the last 30 hours at another regionally accredited college or university. In order to pursue this option, it is necessary to file a petition with the Office of the Registrar and have it approved before starting course work at another institution. Work taken elsewhere is treated in the same manner as transfer credit at Barton College.
- Limit on hours in academic major. Only a total of 60 semester hours of the minimum of 126 hours needed for graduation can be both prescribed and elective hours within the major. The student who elects or who is required to take more than 60 semester hours within the major needs more than 126 hours to graduate. All areas of study prescribed by the major department are included in the 60 hours.
- Second academic major. A student may earn a second academic major in any one commencement. The student who seeks a second major may count courses common to both majors in fulfilling the requirements of the second major. The college transcript indicates both majors.

- Minor. A student seeking a minor is required to fulfill at least nine semester hours of minor coursework at the College, of which, six semester hours must be at the 300- or 400- level. A student may be awarded a minor in a field closely related to the academic major, or majors, only if at least nine hours of minor coursework are not duplicated by the requirements for the major or majors.
- Assessment of education progress. Barton College is committed to examining and continually improving its effectiveness as an institution. Schools, departments, and programs may elect to assess effectiveness by administering major field tests outside of class time.
- Limit on hours in certain courses. There are certain courses listed in the catalog that may be repeated more than once. However, there is an upper limit on the number of hours that may be counted in the 126 semester hours needed for graduation. COM 010, 011, 012, and THE 016 are each limited to six semester hours. All Fitness and Lifetime Activity courses in Physical Education are collectively limited to six semester hours. Music Ensemble courses (MUS 011, 022) are collectively limited to eight semester hours. Academic credit in the Experiential Education Program (EED 091, 092, 093, 094) is limited to eight semester hours.
- Topics courses. Consecutive offerings of a topics course cover different topics and a student may take a course no more than two times. These include courses such as ART 303 and 375; AWC 201; BUS 360; CJC 440; ENG 305, 450, and 452; GEN 301; SCI 110; WDC 202, and others as approved by schools or departments.
- Application for graduation. A student applies in September for December, May, or August graduation. Diplomas are ordered based on these applications.
- Choice of catalog for core requirements. All current and new students are required to complete the new general education core requirements adopted by the Faculty Assembly in November 2007.
- Choice of catalog for major requirements. The catalog in effect at the date that the student makes formal application for a major or at readmission (whichever is later) is the catalog which governs the major of the student.

The General College Core

The General College Core intentionally focuses upon the Learning Outcomes of Barton College and embeds the skills in content courses. It provides clear places for assessment of the Learning Outcomes in specific courses and follows a unified vision designed to create a “Barton College graduate” who will face the future with an understanding of the actual world in which he/she lives and works. The Core concludes with a capstone seminar in which students demonstrate their improved analytical abilities, improved oral and written communication skills, increased understanding of the world by defining, researching, discussing, writing about and attempting to solve real-world problems.

Freshmen are strongly urged to complete 24 hours in the General College Core in the first year of enrollment. Students are strongly urged to complete at least an additional 18 hours of core courses during the sophomore year. Because of the importance of the intellectual and philosophical background provided by core courses, academic programs at Barton are designed to assist the student in meeting the above guidelines.

A student is required to complete the General College Core requirements as a part of the degree program.

To promote students' success throughout the curriculum, all Barton students are expected to complete the Core within their freshman and sophomore years. The General Education Capstone Seminar, GEN 301, will be taken during the junior year.

FYS 101 and 102. First Year Seminar I and II. 3 and 1 semester hours.

The course is especially designed for Barton College first year students. It explores topics related to the intellectual and social transition from high school to college, and it is an introduction to Barton College. It includes an introduction to the concept of liberal arts education as an endeavor to develop a deeper and richer understanding of the world we live in and an understanding of ourselves in relation to that world. The course is based on the belief that we are not truly educated unless we are able to use our knowledge to enrich ourselves and to contribute to the lives of others. Fall and Spring, freshman year.

Written Communication. 6 semester hours.

This requirement may be satisfied by testing out of both ENG 101 and 102 (only through AP or CLEP), by testing out of ENG 101 and by successfully completing ENG 102 or 103, or by successfully completing ENG 101 and 102. Writing Proficiency Placement Credit: A student whose placement is ENG 102 or 103 receives placement credit on the transcript for ENG 101, upon successful completion (with a grade of C- or better) of ENG 102 or 103, at Barton College.

During orientation, a student is placed into ENG 100, 101, 102, or 103. Placement is determined by the Department of English and Modern Languages. The Writing Program is competency based. The student is tested at the end of each course and, if the test scores indicate that a student has the required skills, then the student is assigned to the next course in the sequence. To satisfy the Writing Proficiency requirement, a student entering at the ENG 100 level has a 9-hour Writing Proficiency requirement. A student missing 25 percent or more of the ENG 100, 101, or 102 classes in one semester receives an officially recorded F for three hours of English. Students who place in ENG 100 must take the course during the first two semesters of enrollment at Barton College.

Computational Proficiency Requirement. 3 semester hours.

Computational Proficiency Course Placement Levels:

The student is placed at one of the following levels: Level I course placement, MTH 100; Level II course choice, MTH 120 or 130; Level III course choices, MTH 150, 210, 250 or 260; Level IV course choices, MTH 170, 210, 250 or 260. A student whose Mathematics placement is Level I or II must complete either MTH 120 or 130. A student whose Mathematics placement is Level III or IV has satisfied the Computational Proficiency requirement. Computational Proficiency Placement Credit: A student whose Mathematics placement is Level III or IV receives three semester hours placement credit upon successfully completing a course at the respective level with a C- or better.

Information and Communication Technology. 3 semester hours.

This requirement may be satisfied by successfully completing CIS 110 (which includes terminology as well as hands-on applications of word processing, spreadsheets, database, and Internet skills). The School of Business administers placement testing. A student who tests out of CIS 110 has satisfied the Computer Proficiency requirement but receives no credit hours. A student who tests out of CIS 110 and then completes CIS 330 with a grade of at least C- receives six semester hours of credit (three hours for the Computer Proficiency requirement and three hours for an upper level elective).

Global Awareness. 12 semester hours.

The Global Awareness courses, including both American/Western Culture (AWC) and WDC (Global) electives are 100-200 level courses in the humanities and social sciences that students may choose from a short list provided by the College. These are the courses which Barton College believes can best give students an understanding of the world in which they live. Two of the courses must primarily focus on the American and Western culture (AWC) in which they live or its development. The other two must primarily focus on the other cultures which exist around the world (WDC) or their development.

Note: Each course in this area will have one of the following learning outcomes: Written Communication (W), Oral Communication (O), and Critical Thinking (C). All students must complete two Written Communication courses, one Oral Communication course, and one Critical Thinking course. Courses that are offered will have the learning outcome indicated on the course title with either "W" for Written Communication, "O" for Oral Communication, or "C" for Critical Thinking

American/Western Culture Courses (AWC)

AWC 201. Introduction to Western Culture. 3 semester hours.

Learning Outcome emphasis (written communication, oral communication, or critical thinking) determined by professor and need. A study of a selected aspect of American or western civilization relevant to the modern world. Topics will be chosen by professors and advertised before registration.

American/Western Culture Courses (AWC)

Social Sciences. 3 semester hours.

This requirement may be satisfied by completing any one of the following critical thinking intensive courses:

Social Sciences

- ECO 101. Principles of Microeconomics
- POL 101. American Government and Politics
- PSY 101. Introductory Psychology
- SOC/SWK 101. Society and Social Experience

Sport Science Perspective. 2 semester hours.

This requirement may be satisfied by completing one Physical Fitness course and by completing one Lifetime Activity course.

Physical Fitness

- PED 100. Lap Swimming.
- PED 101. Total Fitness.
- PED 102. Jogging for Fitness.
- PED 103. Aerobic Dance.
- PED 104. Walking for Fitness.
- PED 105. Water Aerobics.
- PED 106. Zumba
- PED 131. Wellness for Life.*

 Note: PED 131 fulfills both the Physical Fitness and the Lifetime Activity components of the Sport Science Perspective.

Lifetime Activity

A student may take any 100-level Physical Education (PED) course except those listed in the Physical Fitness list above and PED 132, 133, and 136.

Science. 4 semester hours.

This requirement may be satisfied by completing the following course:

SCI 110. Modern Topics in Science.

Critical thinking intensive course, an introduction to science and the scientific method in the context of current issues in science, intended to give non-science majors an understanding of scientific developments and controversies adults should be cognizant of in the 21st century world. Required of all students unless their prospective major requires a more specialized course. Includes laboratory experience. Fall, spring.

Exploration. 12 semester hours.

These courses are intended to allow students to explore a possible major. If they take a course as Exploration and then pick up that major, they simply take a different course to become their Exploration course. They allow students to take travel and J-term courses for the core. They allow students to take courses in a minor or double major. No Exploration courses may be counted toward the first major or serve as prerequisites for the first major; they must be outside of the school or department of the first major. They may count toward a minor, cognate, concentration or second major provided it is outside the school or department of the first major. They allow students to take upper division courses outside the major during their college career. Two of these four courses may be in a foreign language provided they do not count toward the first major.

Travel Courses.

Travel courses may count as Exploration. A travel course must be taught by a Barton College faculty member who accompanies the student, must contain rigorous reading and writing requirements, and must be approved by the Curriculum Committee. Any student participating in a travel course must sign the Barton College indemnity agreement.

General Education Capstone

GEN 301. General Education Capstone Seminar. 3 semester hours.

A problem-based learning seminar in which students think soundly and creatively to plan, design, and evaluate real solutions to authentic problems in today's world (i.e., global warming, globalization, energy policy, social security reform, immigration). Topics will vary with the faculty. The course is axiomatically interdisciplinary because all modern problems inherently cross academic disciplines. Students must collaborate to define and analyze the problem, consider its many sides, examine various perspectives, develop and analyze possible solutions and consider the planned and unintended consequences of those solutions. Students will be expected to discuss, debate and present their solutions orally and in writing. Required of all students in their junior year.

Regulations Governing Enrollment in General College Core Courses:

- No course may be used to satisfy more than one requirement or perspective in the General College Core.
- For the student transferring to the College, any transferred course is accepted for credit toward the General College Core if it has been taken for credit in a course category comparable to Barton College's core requirements or perspectives.

Honors for Graduating Seniors

The Coggins Cup is awarded at Commencement to the graduating senior, who, in the estimation of the faculty/staff, has the best general record in academic achievement and overall contribution to the College and surrounding community. The student must have achieved a grade point average of 3.00 in order to be considered for this award. The cup is named for J.C. Coggins, who served as the first President of the College from 1902 to 1904.

The Hemby Leadership Cup is awarded at Commencement to the graduating senior, who, in the estimation of the College community (including students, faculty and staff), has demonstrated outstanding leadership throughout a career at Barton College. The honoree must have held significant leadership roles in the outside formal structures of the college and broader community, and must have shown a spirited and faithful commitment to the college mission. The cup is named for alumni James B. and Joan Edwards Hemby, in honor of Dr. Hemby's twenty years as president and in recognition of the many contributions of both to the campus and surrounding community.

The Hilley Cup is given at Commencement to the graduate who has received the highest grade point average earned over an entire collegiate career. To be considered for this award, the student must have completed at least 60 semester hours at the College. The grade point average is computed on all work attempted at all colleges attended. The cup is named for Howard Stevens Hilley, a former Professor of Ancient and Modern Languages, who served as President of the College from 1920 to 1949.

Graduation Honors are based on academic achievement as measured by grade point average. A senior whose cumulative average is between 3.30 and 3.59 graduates cum laude; one whose cumulative average is between 3.60 and 3.89 graduates magna cum laude; one whose cumulative average is 3.90 or more graduates summa cum laude. The grade point average is computed on all work attempted at all colleges attended.

Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges is a listing of outstanding students in many of the colleges and universities in the United States. In the fall of each year, the faculty selects a number of senior students for this recognition. The selection is based on scholarship, participation and leadership in extra-curricular activities, citizenship and service to the College, and future promise.

The David and Charlotte Blackwood Award is a cash gift which is given annually to the church-vocation senior, who, in the opinion of the faculty of the Department of Religion and Philosophy, is most outstanding. The recipient must be a member of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) and must be planning to attend a theological seminary.

The Coastal Plains Chapter of the North Carolina Association of Certified Public Accountants has provided an endowment at Barton College. The proceeds are to be awarded annually to a senior accounting major. The recipient must have a grade point average of at least 3.00 and demonstrate a commitment to work as a CPA in the coastal region of North Carolina.

The Chamber of Commerce Award is given annually to the graduating School of Business student, who, by vote of the school faculty, is considered to be the most outstanding graduate.

Delta Kappa Gamma International Society, Gamma Mu Chapter, Award is given every year to a senior female education major, chosen by the Teacher Education Committee. The recipient must have at least a 3.00 grade point average, show great promise in the teaching field, and have a record of participating in co-curricular activities.

Delta Kappa Gamma International Society, Omicron Chapter, Award is given every year to a senior female education major chosen by the Teacher Education Committee. The recipient must have at least a 3.00 grade point average, show great promise in the teaching field, and have a record of participating in co-curricular activities.

The George Henry Swain Business Award is named for the individual who planned and developed the business program at the College and who served as the Department Chair for 27 years. The award is given annually to that graduating senior who has made the most significant contribution to the students and faculty of the School of Business.

The Wall Street Journal Award is given annually to the graduating School of Business student voted the most outstanding in the area of economics and finance.

Other Student Honors

The President's List is announced at the end of each semester. This list is limited to all full-time students who have achieved a grade point average of 4.00 for the semester. A separate President's List for part-time students is published once a year at the end of the spring trimester. The list for part-time students recognizes those students who have achieved a grade point average of 4.00 from 18 hours of work during the course of the three trimesters (fall, winter, spring) or 12 hours of work during the course of the two semesters (fall, spring).

The Dean's List is announced at the end of each semester. This list includes all full-time students who have achieved a grade point average of at least 3.30 for the semester. A separate Dean's List for part-time students is published once a year at the end of the spring trimester. The list for part-time students recognizes those students who have achieved a grade point of 3.30 from 18 hours of work during the course of the three trimesters (fall, winter, spring) or 12 hours of work during the course of the two semesters (fall, spring).

The Rotary Cups are awarded in the spring to the students from the freshman, sophomore, and junior cohorts, who have the highest cumulative grade point averages at the end of the fall semester. The grade point average is computed on all work attempted at all colleges attended.

The Cloyd-Hendrix Physical Education Award was established by Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Cloyd, Jr., in memory of their parents, Dean and Mrs. Edward L. Cloyd and Mr. and Mrs. J. Max Hendrix. The recipient must be a rising senior with a major in physical education with teacher certification. The selection, made by the faculty of the Department of Physical Education and Sport Studies, is based on the best general record in academic achievement and overall contribution to the department.

The Jerry W. Davis Memorial Music Award is a cash award available each semester to a student who, in the estimation of the music faculty, has contributed most to music ensembles.

The Duchess Trophy is awarded to the student who has participated most effectively in dramatic performances on the campus. The award is given in honor of Doris Campbell Holsworth, director of drama from 1947 until her retirement in 1962. She was affectionately known as "The Duchess."

The Gene A. Purvis Most Exemplary Student Award is given annually to a rising senior in the School of Education in honor of Gene A. Purvis, who was a faculty member for over 27 years. The student who receives the award is selected by the faculty of the School of Education. Accompanying the award is a $200 tuition credit made possible through an endowed fund established by Mr. Purvis.

The Milton H. Rogerson Photography Award is given annually to a student who is either pursuing course work in photography or is involved on campus as a student photographer. The award is funded by an endowment established by the family and friends of Mr. Rogerson, who served as Director of Public Information from 1961 to 1990.

The Zondervan and Barton College Annual Student Award for Outstanding Achievement in the Study of Biblical Greek was established in 2004 by Zondervan Publishers, and is presented annually by the Department of Religion and Philosophy to the student who has exhibited outstanding achievement in the study of Biblical Greek. See <http://www.zondervan.com/academic/grkawrds.htm>.

Honor Societies

Alpha Chi, the National College Honor Scholarship Society, is for the outstanding student in any discipline at Barton College. The student with a minimum grade point average of 3.50 and academic ranking in the top 10 percent of the junior and senior classes is eligible for membership.

Alpha Lambda is a the national honor society for religion and philosophy.

Alpha Phi Sigma is the national honor society for criminal justice.

Gamma Sigma Alpha is the National Greek Academic Honor Society. A student who is active in a Greek fraternity or sorority and has a minimum cumulative grade point average of 3.50 at the start of the junior year or a minimum grade point average of 3.50 in any semester in the junior or senior year is eligible for membership.

Kappa Delta Pi is an International Honor Society in Education founded in 1911 to recognize excellence in education. Membership is extended to those who exhibit the ideals of scholarship, high personal standards, and promise in teaching and allied professions.

Sigma Theta Tau is the national honor society for nursing students.

The Society for Collegiate Journalists is the national honor society for Mass Communications majors.

Marshals

In the spring semester, in anticipation of Commencement, class marshals are selected. Two marshals, a man and a woman, are chosen from each of the freshman, sophomore, and the junior cohorts. One additional junior marshal is selected as the chief marshal. Marshals are the students who have earned the highest grade point averages in their cohorts. The junior with the highest grade point average is the chief marshal. Grade point averages are determined at the end of the fall semester and are based upon all college hours attempted at all colleges attended. To qualify for the marshal position, a student must be enrolled as a full-time student, both in the fall and spring semesters. To qualify as chief marshal, a student must have completed at least 45 semester hours at the College. To qualify as a junior or sophomore marshal, a student must have completed at least 30 semester hours at the College. Marshals lead the graduating seniors, the faculty, the administration, and other distinguished guests at Commencement. They also serve at other formal ceremonies during the college year.

Academic Advisement

Barton College maintains a comprehensive advising system to assist each student in realizing the greatest benefit from the college experience. Each student has a faculty advisor who helps coordinate the resources of the institution to accomplish the following goals:

- To assist the student in adjusting to college life.
- To assist the student in identifying needs, clarifying values, and establishing educational and career goals.
- To assist the student in planning and implementing a suitable curriculum.

Student Classification

A freshman is a student who has completed 1 to fewer than 27 semester hours; a sophomore, 27 to fewer than 62 semester hours; a junior, 62 to fewer than 92 semester hours; and a senior, 92 semester hours or more.

Freshman Advising Program

Advisor's Role:

The freshman advising team at Barton College is made up of faculty members or staff from various disciplines. Although a freshman may indicate an intended major, a member of our freshman advising team will serve as the student's advisor during the first year. The freshman advisor also serves as the student's instructor in the First-Year Seminar. Students will have the opportunity to select F.Y.S. sections based on individual course content, which will vary slightly by instructor.

The student formally declares a major during the second semester of the freshman year, at which time a new advisor within the major department or school is assigned. Each department or school has a system of advising that has been developed within the framework of its own characteristics and needs; all advising is carried out within the major department or school of each student after the freshman year.

Student's Role:

Academic advising is a two-way process. Ultimately, monitoring the individual's program and progress is the responsibility of each student. It is the responsibility of each student to make appointments and meet with advisors throughout every semester. Attendance at departmental or school advisor/advisee meetings is of extreme importance to each student and is a vital part of program planning. Each student has the primary responsibility for planning the academic program and meeting the graduation requirements; the academic advisor serves as a resource in this process.

The student is expected to:

- become familiar with the requirements of the General College Core and the academic major.
- comply with deadlines for drop/add, registration, withdrawal, removing incomplete grades, etc.
- meet with the academic advisor before registration and during the semester, as needed. This includes showing up for all scheduled appointments.
- attend all general advising sessions and departmental or school advisor/advisee sessions.
- respond promptly to notices concerning academic matters. Barton College provides every student with a free email account. Important information is often sent out via Barton email accounts.
- carefully monitor academic progress, course selection, and registration procedures.

Sophomore Advising Services

Each academic school or department provides advising services which facilitate the sophomore student's transition into the academic major and encourage a sense of community within the school or department. These services foster more independence in organizing, monitoring, and evaluating the individual's own educational plan. In addition, these services foster participation in the activities of the school or department as well as within the professional field.

Registration

Each student is expected to complete the registration process on the designated registration day at the beginning of each semester or summer term. Registration includes academic advising, selection of courses, obtaining a student identification card, registering an automobile, and paying fees. To be officially registered, fees must be paid to the Business Office by 5:00 p.m. the day before classes begin. If a student registers for a class but never attends that class during the first three consecutive class meetings of the semester or term, then the student's registration in that class is canceled.

A student may drop a course only by using the procedures outlined in the section "Dropping or Adding Courses." These procedures must be used if the student desires to drop a course and has attended the class for any period of time during the semester or term. Late registrations require the approval of the Registrar and the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Any approval granted after the last day for registration is charged a late registration fee. Refer to "Other Tuition and Fees" in the "College Expenses" section of the catalog for the amount of the late registration fee. The student is required to attend meetings scheduled by advisors, department chairs, or school deans for registration purposes. A student cannot sit in a class without first being registered for that class.

Class Scheduling

Courses listed in the Catalog are offered at times appropriate for maximum availability to the student, and the "Master Schedule of Classes" for each semester and term is prepared well in advance. The schedule is available on-line at www.barton.edu; click on "Academics/Majors" and click on “Current Course Schedules.” Barton College reserves the right to withdraw a course if registration is insufficient to justify offering it at the time planned.

Registration Periods

A student currently enrolled at Barton College may register for the following semester during the Registration Period that is scheduled in the latter part of the semester. Registration for January term and for spring semester is held in November. Registration for fall semester and summer sessions is held in April. Any course registration obtained before the beginning of the semester or term of actual enrollment is conditional. The student is required to complete the registration procedure on the designated registration dates at the beginning of the semester. A schedule for the student failing to pay by the stipulated time is subject to cancellation.

Class Guarantee for Registered Students

A currently enrolled student who registers for a class is guaranteed a place in the class through the first class meeting. If the student is not in attendance at the first class meeting, then, the reserved place may be reassigned to another student. A registered student who is prevented from attending the first class meeting must call the class instructor or the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs prior to the class meeting time to hold that reserved place in the class.

Course Load

- The normal college course load is 12 to 18 semester hours. A student who enrolls in one of the following courses and thereby exceeds the 18-hour limitation is not charged for the 19th hour: COM 010, 011, 012; EDU 200, 300, 360, 400; MUS 011, 022; THE 016. When a student enrolls in two or more of these courses and thereby exceeds the 18 hour limitation by two or more semester hours, there is a tuition charge for any hours beyond 19.
- Refer to “Other Tuition and Fees” in the “College Expenses” section of the catalog for tuition rates when 19 or more semester hours are taken.
- If the student exceeds the 18-hour limitation, then the student must have the permission of the Chair of the Department or Dean of the School as documented on the college petition form. The petition form must be submitted to the Vice President for Academic Affairs.
- Petitions to exceed 18 hours are generally approved if the student has a high grade point average (3.00 or above) and documented extenuating circumstances.
- A student with a low grade point average may be required to have a reduced course load.
- A freshman student must take a minimum of 12 hours in the General College Core requirements each semester.
- A sophomore student must take a minimum of 18 hours in the General College Core during the sophomore year.

- The normal course load allowed for each term of summer school is six semester hours. However, any student may take seven hours if the course load includes a four-hour science course with a laboratory, or any one-hour course.
- Freshmen are eligible to take 100- and 200-level courses; sophomores are eligible to take 100-, 200- and 300-level courses; juniors and seniors may take courses at any level.

Dropping or Adding Courses

A short period of time following registration is designated as “drop-add period,” during which time courses may be dropped or added without grade penalty providing permission has been secured from the Registrar, the student’s advisor, and the instructor of the course. The following conditions govern the right to drop a course:

- A student may drop a course without penalty only by returning a completed “Drop/Add Form” to the Office of the Registrar no later than the last day for dropping courses. This date is not later than approximately 1/3 of the length of the term (regardless of the length of the term). Specific dates are published in the College calendar. The form is available at the Office of the Registrar.
- A student enrolled in the First-Year Seminar (FYS 101/102) may not drop.
- If a course is not officially dropped through the Office of the Registrar, then an F is recorded for the course because of lack of class attendance.

Military Deployment

Any student called to active duty, once a term or semester has begun, will be dropped or withdrawn with a W grade from all courses. The student must provide the Office of the Registrar with documentation indicating the call to active duty. See the “College Expenses” section of the catalog for refund information.

Withdrawal from Courses

- A student may withdraw from a course up until the published last date to withdraw from a course, which will be at the end of the first two-thirds of the term. Specific dates are published in the College calendar.
- A student who intends to withdraw from a course must meet with the instructor to complete a “Withdrawal from Course” form. This form will become the official record for the instructor, the Registrar, and the student, as confirmation of the intention to withdraw from the course.
- A grade of “WP” will be issued to students who are passing the course at the time of withdrawal and will have no effect on the student’s grade point average.
- A grade of “WF” will be issued to students who were failing the course at the time of withdrawal and will affect the student’s grade point average as a failed course.

- Any student withdrawing from a course after the published last day to withdraw, which is during the last one-third of the term, will automatically receive a grade of “WF,” irrespective of the grade being earned at the time of withdrawal.
- A student failing a course or withdrawing after the last published day to withdraw may submit a formal written petition to the Vice President for Academic Affairs to have a “W” grade issued due to documented medical and/or other extenuating circumstances.

Withdrawal from the College

- A student who officially withdraws from Barton College after the last day to drop, but before the last day to withdraw from a course, receives grades of “WP” for the courses in which the student was earning a passing grade, or “WF” for courses in which the student was earning a failing grade, in all courses taken that semester or term.
- The last day to withdraw from Barton College with a grade of “WP” or “WF” in all courses is at the end of approximately two-thirds of the semester or term. Specific dates are published in the College calendar.
- A student who officially withdraws from Barton College after the last day to withdraw from a course receives a grade of “WF” in all courses, irrespective of the grade being earned at the time of withdrawal.
- Any student wishing a medical withdrawal from the College must submit appropriate corroborating documentation from a physician or certified health care professional within 30 days from the date of withdrawal.
- A student failing one or more courses may submit a formal written petition to the Vice President for Academic Affairs to have “W” grades issued due to documented medical and/or extenuating circumstances.
- Official withdrawal is handled through the Office of Student Success.
- The last day to begin the withdrawal process is the last day of class during the semester in which the withdrawal is to occur.

Auditing Courses

The following rules apply when a student wishes to audit a course:

- A full-time student may audit classes without charge if the total number of semester hours for both credit courses and for audit courses is 18 or fewer.
- When the total number of semester hours, for both credit and audit courses, exceeds 18, the student is charged the “audit tuition” rate for each semester hour in excess of 18. Refer to “Other Tuition and Fees” in the “College Expenses” section of the catalog.
- Twelve hours of credit courses, audit courses, or any combination of the two categories, is considered a full load.

- In order to audit a course, a student must have the permission of the instructor and go through normal registration procedures.
- A course registration may not be changed to audit status after the last day for adding courses.

Pass/Fail Courses

Certain courses are specified in the catalog as having the option of using the Pass/Fail grade. The following regulations govern the use of the Pass/Fail grade:

- A junior or senior student may elect up to 12 semester hours using the Pass/Fail grade for courses that are not specified for Pass/Fail grades. A student may register for course requirements in the major on a Pass/Fail basis if the appropriate department indicates that these courses are available on a Pass/Fail basis. No course may be taken to satisfy the General College Core requirements on a Pass/Fail basis. The student must declare intention to take a course as Pass/Fail and have the instructor's approval by the end of the add period. A student must have 100 hours exclusive of Pass/Fail grades for graduation.
- Pass/Fail courses with a grade of "P" earn course credits but are not computed in determining grade point average. A grade of "P" is granted when the quality of the student's work is the equivalent of a C or better.
- Pass/Fail courses with a grade of "F" are computed as any other F in determining hours and grade point average. An "F" is granted when the quality of the work is judged to be below a C.

Final Examinations

A student may petition to have the final examination schedule altered if the student is scheduled for three or more examinations on the same day. The student should submit evidence of the scheduling difficulty to the instructor of the course whose examination is to be moved. An alternate time should be established at the mutual convenience of the instructor and the student, and the Vice President for Academic Affairs will review all petitions.

Individualized Study

In certain circumstances the student may be allowed to take a course with an instructor on an individual basis. The two basic types of courses that may be taught this way are directed studies and independent studies.

Directed Studies

A Directed Study is a course already listed in the College Catalog that a student asks to take from the instructor when the course is not on a regular schedule. A student desiring to take a course as a Directed Study must fill out a Request for a Directed Study Form and submit it to the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The form requires the signatures of the instructor and the chair or dean and must include a rationale for the request. The form is available online and also from the Office of the Registrar. Directed Studies will be allowed only in special circumstances.

Independent Studies

An Independent Study is a course that is created by the student and instructor in order to allow the student to pursue a special topic of study to supplement coursework taken in regularly scheduled classes.

The following guidelines apply to any Directed Studies or Independent Studies:

- They are open only to junior or senior level students.
- They are limited to the area of the student's major or minor.
- For a study in the minor, the student must have successfully completed nine hours in a field outside the major.
- The student must have a 2.50 overall grade point average and a 2.50 in the major or minor.
- No more than six hours of Individualized Study may count in the hours toward graduation.
- Any exceptions to these guidelines must be approved by the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Transfer Credit

College-level credits earned at another institution may be transferred to the College if they meet the following criteria:

- The transfer grade point average is based on all hours attempted at all institutions attended other than Barton College. The institution must be regionally accredited. In evaluating transfer credit, the College accepts the provisions of the North Carolina Comprehensive Articulation Agreement. For institutions outside the North Carolina Comprehensive Articulation Agreement, the eligibility of non-core courses for transfer is determined by the Registrar in consultation with the major faculty. In a core course, the course is eligible for transfer if taken for credit in a course category comparable to the core requirements or perspective at Barton College, under the assumption that the College recognizes the professional integrity of other post-secondary institutions which are regionally accredited. The underlying concept is that competencies and understandings developed by general education programs as a whole are more important than individual courses.
- Transfer credit is not given for life experience, continuing education units (CEU's), or courses taken at non-regionally accredited institutions.
- All quarter credit transfer courses are converted to semester credits.
- The transfer GPA is computed using the whole letter grades; pluses and minuses are not computed.
- No more than 64 semester hours can be transferred to the College on work taken at a two-year institution (community college, technical institute, junior college).
- The College does not give credit for any D grades; although, D or F grades may be indicated on the Barton College transcript as part of the academic record.

- The transfer student fulfills the requirements for a multi-course perspective in the General College Core requirements if the total hours in that area are lacking only one hour. This exception does not apply in the Writing Proficiency requirement.
- Barton College accepts up to 64 semester hours of military coursework if such work parallels courses at the College and is recommended in the lower division baccalaureate category by the American Council of Education in its Evaluation of Educational Experiences in the Armed Services.
- Transfer courses that have an equivalent at Barton College are brought in at the level of the equivalent Barton College course.

Summer Transfer Credit

Summer school credits from another regionally accredited institution will be transferred to Barton only if the student has prior permission from the advisor and the Registrar. The Registrar reviews all petitions for summer school transfer credit. Transfer credit does not affect the Barton College grade point average.

Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) Courses

The College accepts, in transfer, up to 24 semester hours of ROTC credit earned at a regionally accredited institution.

Concurrent Enrollment at Another Institution

Normally the College does not allow the concurrent enrollment of a student at another institution of higher education. There are occasions, however, when the Registrar reviews requests for concurrent enrollment.

- The student needs to begin or continue in a sequence of courses, especially when beginning or continuing in later courses at the College causes hardship (e.g., delay in graduation or in licensure). This request must have the support of the student's advisor.
- The student's full-time job assignment conflicts with the time a course at the College is offered. This option is allowed for a student during the last 36 semester hours at the College, and concurrent enrollment is limited to six semester hours (or two courses).
- Two required courses are offered in the same time period. This option is allowed for a student during the last 36 semester hours at the College, and concurrent enrollment is limited to six semester hours (or two courses).
- Concurrent enrollment for part-time or Weekend College students cannot exceed the number of hours equivalent to a normal full-time schedule.
- Concurrent enrollment is not allowed simply for the convenience of the student or the cost to the student.

Concurrent Enrollment for the Student Seeking Licensure Only

The student who has already earned a degree from the College or from another accredited institution of higher education needs to plan a schedule of classes when seeking licensure only (certification), e.g., Teacher Education. The program of study must be approved by the faculty member who is responsible for the program.

College Level Examination Program of the College Board (CLEP)

CLEP exams in subject areas may also be used to gain college credit. Only the subject exams of CLEP may be used; the general exams are not acceptable. The CLEP exams are administered by the Director of Career Services or may be taken at other locations. For currently enrolled students, a permission form to take a CLEP exam must be completed and approval granted prior to taking any exams. Students who wish to receive credit based on CLEP exams taken prior to enrollment at Barton must submit an official score report to the Director of Career Services.

Listed below are the CLEP subject exams that are offered, the required score for receiving any credit (as recommended by the American Council on Education), the applicable courses for which credit is granted, and the hours of credit granted.

Challenge Exams

A student whose background provides preparation to challenge a course may request to take a challenge examination. The student who does not pass this examination on the first attempt may not repeat the challenge examination process for the same course. Only an individual currently enrolled at the College or who, though not enrolled, has filed an application with the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs as a degree seeking student, is eligible for this procedure. A “Request for Challenge Examination” form is available in the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The form needs the signatures of the following three persons to gain approval: The Chair of the Department or the Dean of the School in which the course is listed; the faculty member who administers the exam, and the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The student must pay the fee to challenge the course prior to taking the exam. Upon completion of the exam, the instructor must submit the grade to the Office of the Registrar. The student will be billed for the credits challenged, irrespective of the grade earned. The grade earned is final and cannot be changed. See “College Expenses” for the fee for challenging a course.

Regulations Governing Credit by Examination

A maximum of 30 hours of credit may be granted for Advanced Placement, CLEP Subject Examinations, extension courses, challenge examinations, or any combination of these.

Course Grades

Grade Reports

Grade reports are not printed or mailed. All grades can be accessed by each student on the Barton College intranet. Parents of dependent students may request, in writing, that a copy of the grades be sent from the Office of the Registrar without the student’s permission. Such requests are honored only once the Office of the Registrar has confirmation that the student is dependent according to federal tax information.

Grade Transcripts

A transcript reflects the student’s complete academic record. Requests for a copy of the transcript should be make to the Office of the Registrar. Transcripts are not issued without the written permission of the student. Transcripts are not issued for a student who has a financial obligation to Barton College.

Grading System

Passing Grades	Quality Points	Passing Grades	Quality Points
A Excellent	4.0	C Average	2.0
A-	3.7	C-	1.7
B+	3.3	D+	1.3
B Good	3.0	D Poor	1.0
B-	2.7	D-	0.7
C+	2.3

Failing grades having no quality points are issued as follows:

- F Failing grade from failure to perform at a passing level on course work.
- F Failing grade due to excessive absences.
- F Failing grade due to failure to drop or withdraw from a course.

Special grades having no quality points are issued as follows:

- P Passing grade in a Pass/Fail class.
- PL Passing grade awarded by CLEP, AP, IB or Credit by Examination.
- I Incomplete grade. See below.
- W Official withdrawal. Refer to “Withdrawal from Courses” and to “Withdrawal From the College.”
WP
WF

Incomplete Grades

A student may request a grade of incomplete when circumstances warrant such a grade.

- To be considered for an incomplete grade, a student must have completed at least two-thirds of the requirements of the course and have attended at least two-thirds of the classes. Exceptions must be cleared with the Vice President for Academic Affairs.
- Normally the date for completion of a grade of incomplete is the middle of the succeeding semester. In negotiating the incomplete grade, the faculty and student must determine an appropriate date for completion of the course, and complete a Request for Incomplete Form.
- All incomplete grades must be removed no later than one year following the assigning of the grade of I. Any incomplete not removed by that date is assigned a grade by the instructor, as indicated on the Request for Incomplete Form.
- The student must submit the Request for Incomplete Form before the last day of classes.

Grade Changes

The instructor of a course may change the grade for a student when circumstances warrant such a change. The reason for the grade change must be clearly indicated on the grade change form.

- Grade changes must be made prior to the end of the succeeding term or semester.
- Grades can be routinely changed due to miscalculation of the original grade.
- A grade cannot be changed simply because the student turns in additional work after the course ends.
- An incomplete grade may be changed according to the incomplete grade policy; this new grade is final and cannot be changed.

Repeating Courses for New Grades

The following guidelines govern the College policy on repeating grades.

- The repeated course must have the same content as the course originally taken.
- While the grades from all attempts at taking the course appear on the transcript, the highest grade earned determines the credit hours and quality points earned. For example, if a student should receive a grade of F on repeating a three-hour course for which a D had already been earned, the student's grade point average is based on the three hours of D earned the first time the course was taken. If a student repeats a course for which an F has previously been earned and on repetition receives a grade of E, the grade point average is computed using the course hours only once and no quality points.
- A student may repeat a course in which the student has earned less than a grade of C. If the student earns less than a C in the second attempt, the student may enroll in this course for a third time, with the permission of the advisor and Chair or Dean, using a petition form.
- The repeated course must be taken at the College to affect the grade point average.

Computation of Grade Point Average

The grade point average is computed by dividing the total number of quality points earned at the College by the total number of semester hours attempted at the College.

Academic Alert or Warning

The desired grade point average for the student is 2.00 or higher each semester. The following categories are designed to assist the student who is experiencing difficulty achieving this goal.

- Academic Alert

A student whose semester grade point average falls below a 2.00, but whose cumulative grade point average is above the minimum standard for continuous enrollment, is placed on Academic Alert, which is not a punishment, but simply an alerting mechanism.

- Academic Warning

A student whose cumulative grade point average is below the minimum standard for continuous enrollment is placed on Academic Warning. The student who is on Academic Warning is notified by the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The student will then work with the Office of Student Success to develop an Academic Action Plan. This plan may include a revised class schedule, appointments with appropriate campus support services, and a schedule for regular meetings with the academic advisor or the Director of Student Success. A student who achieves a grade point average of at least a 2.00 during the term in which the Academic Warning is in effect may continue in enrollment at the College. A student may continue in enrollment until the Academic Warning is removed as long as a 2.00 grade point average is achieved during each term of enrollment.

The criteria for Academic Alert, Academic Warning, and Academic Suspension listed in the current catalog are in effect for any student currently enrolled at the College.

Academic Suspension

Because a student with persistent academic difficulties may benefit from taking time off, the College imposes a suspension of one regular semester when a student fails to meet the minimum cumulative grade point average required for continuous enrollment. At the end of spring semester, any student placed on academic warning the previous semester or term must meet the minimum standards for continuous enrollment based on total hours attempted. Any student not meeting this standard is then notified by the Vice President for Academic Affairs that he or she is not eligible to return to the College for the following fall semester. A student on Academic Suspension may not enroll for collegiate course work at any college or university during the semester of suspension without prior approval of the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The student who enrolls in collegiate course work during a semester of suspension without approval, may not transfer any of the credit hours earned to the College. A student may remove the academic suspension status by completing one or more of the following:

- obtaining the required minimum cumulative grade point average in the summer sessions at the College.
- earning a minimum grade point average of 2.00 on a minimum of six hours in the summer sessions of the College.
- returning to the College as a non-degree student in the fall semester and agreeing to the following limitations: (a) the student must enroll in courses with the sole purpose of improving current standing; that is, enroll in only those courses for which the student has received a D or F, (b) the student must earn a C or better in all repeated courses, (c) as a non-degree student, the student is ineligible for participation in intercollegiate athletics and all other extra-curricular activities, (d) as a non-degree student, the student is ineligible for financial aid, (e) as a non-degree student, the student is ineligible for veterans assistance, (f) the student must meet with the Director of Student Success and the advisor at mid-semester to discuss the student's academic progress. If a student does not achieve the required grades as a non-degree student in the fall, then the student may not enroll in the spring semester, but may re-enroll the following summer or fall.
- not returning in the summer or fall, but re-enrolling the following spring semester.

A student on Academic Suspension may re-enroll at the College after the period of suspension. If the student has met the conditions of suspension, then, the student is customarily readmitted. Any question regarding the reinstatement of financial aid should be directed to the Office of Financial Aid.

Second Academic Suspension

Any student who is placed on Academic Suspension for the second time is not permitted to re-enroll at the College.

Minimum Standards for Continuous Enrollment

A student must have the following grade point averages to be eligible to continue enrollment at the College: 1 to fewer than 27 hours attempted, 1.60; 27 to fewer than 48 hours attempted, 1.80; 48 or more hours attempted, 2.00. Hours attempted are based on total hours attempted at all colleges that student has attended.

Academic Grade Appeal

A student may appeal a final course grade, without fear of recrimination, under any of the following conditions:

- a) Miscalculation of a grade
- b) Failure to consider work which was properly submitted
- c) Assignment of a grade in a capricious or prejudicial manner

Appealing a grade is a serious action. The student must bear in mind that the faculty member has both the right and responsibility to render a fair and critical judgment, according to the grading criteria stated in the course syllabus, regarding the quality of the academic work performed. The student has the burden of proof to show otherwise, and must be able to provide some evidence of the lack of a proper evaluation in order to file an appeal. The following procedure must be followed in filing an appeal:

1. Within 10 working days after the beginning of the fall or spring semester following the term in which the grade was earned, the student must submit a letter to the instructor explaining the student's view of how the grade was evaluated inaccurately or unfairly according to the grading criteria in the course syllabus. Within 10 working days after receipt of the letter, a meeting will be held between the instructor and the student to try to resolve the grade dispute. If the instructor is not available on the campus during that semester, the student should submit the letter to the Chair of the Department (School of Arts and Sciences) or Dean of the School (Behavioral Sciences, Business, Education, Nursing).

The student is encouraged to consult with his/her advisor, who will help the student define the issue and the basis for the appeal.

2. If a resolution is not reached and the student still believes the appeal has merit, the student shall submit, within 10 working days following the meeting with the instructor in Step #1, a written request, to the Department Chair or Dean of the School, for a meeting with the chair/dean and the instructor. A copy of the letter given to the instructor in Step #1 should be attached to the request. Within 5 working days of notification from the chair/dean of the grade appeal, the instructor will respond, in writing, to the chair/dean explaining the basis for the grade. Within 10 working days of receipt of the letter from the instructor, the meeting with the student, instructor, and chair/dean will take place. A copy of the instructor's letter will be given to the student 2 days before the meeting. If the instructor is a Department Chair/Dean, a senior faculty member in the department, appointed by the Dean/Vice President for Academic Affairs, will serve in place of the chair/dean. The student may be accompanied to this meeting by one person, of his/her own choosing, to serve in an advisory role to clarify issues, not as an advocate. In the advisory role, the individual is limited to communicating with the student and does not address others present. This person must be a member of the full-time Barton College faculty.

3. Should the resolution be unsatisfactory to the student or the instructor, within 10 working days of the meeting in Step #2, either party may submit a written letter to the Vice President for Academic Affairs, who will collect all evidence and documentation concerning the outcome of the first 2 steps. A meeting will be held within 10 days of receipt of the written letter, with the student, Department Chair/Dean, and the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The student may be accompanied to this meeting by a member of the full-time Barton College faculty to serve in an advisory role to clarify issues, not as an advocate. In the advisory role, the selected faculty member is limited to communicating with the student and does not address the others present. If the Vice President for Academic Affairs and the chair/dean do not agree, then either the student or the instructor may proceed to the next step.
4. If there is no satisfactory resolution, an ad hoc Grade Appeal Committee will be formed, within 15 working days of the meeting in Step #3. Such a committee shall be composed of five full-time teaching faculty and one student. The student appealing the grade selects one of the faculty; the instructor, one; and the Vice President for Academic Affairs, three. The committee members selected by the Vice President for Academic Affairs may not be members of the department involved in the case. The Committee shall select one of the three persons appointed by the Vice President for Academic Affairs to serve as the chair. The student member shall be appointed by the Vice President for Academic Affairs. The student may be accompanied to this meeting by a members of the full-time Barton College faculty to serve in an advisory role to clarify issues, not as an advocate. In the advisory role, the selected faculty member is limited to communicating with the student and does not address the Committee. He or she also does not have a vote at the proceedings. Both parties to the appeal shall be given at least 72 hours notice of the hearing by the Chair of the Committee. If the student or the instructor fails to appear at a scheduled session of the Committee or fails to submit material requested by the Committee, then that person shall have waived any right to further consideration. (The Committee may consider extenuating circumstances for failure to appear or to submit materials). The Committee will make a final decision based on a review of materials that have been submitted from Steps #1, 2 and 3, and the process that has been followed. The Committee will also hear testimony from all parties. The rule of the Committee shall be final. There is no further appeal.

Procedural Guidelines

- 1. No legal counsel will be present during the grade appeal process.
- 2. The student may withdraw the appeal at any juncture by a written request to the chair/dean who will notify the Vice President for Academic Affairs.
- 3. If in Step #1, the student, because of the absence of the instructor, meets with the Chair or the Dean and there is no resolution, the next step in the process will be #3.
- 4. Appeals will normally be heard during the fall and spring semesters. Appeals must be heard during other terms if the Vice President for Academic Affairs or the Registrar determines the need.
- 5. Both the student and the instructor are entitled to the following due process rights during all formal proceedings:
 - a) To be informed of all formal hearings and to be present
 - b) To cross-examine the witness
 - c) To have the information regarding the case kept confidential.
- 6. The committee hearing will be audio taped except for deliberations.
- 7. The records of the Committee shall be on file in the Office of the Vice President for Academic Affairs for five years. Only the President, the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and the Board of Trustees may have access to them.

Honor Code

The mission of the College is rooted in our commitment to developing ethical and socially responsible behavior in all human relationships. Responsible living in a community of learners requires adherence to demanding standards.

Members of the Barton Community Will:

- Express opinions with civility.
- Show consideration and respect for the opinions of others.
- Promote the honor code in all their actions for the benefit of the community of learners at Barton.

Members of the Barton Community Will Not:

- Lie.
- Cheat.
- Plagiarize.
- Steal.
- Violate others' property.
- Tolerate others' disregard for the honor code.

Policy on Academic Honesty

The following list of violations outlines infractions. The list is not comprehensive.

- Academic Dishonesty is defined as any act of cheating and plagiarism.
- Cheating is defined as giving or receiving aid, including attempting to give or receive aid, without the specific consent of the professor, on quizzes, examinations, assignments, etc.
- Plagiarism is defined as presenting as one's own the writing or work of others. Whenever phrasing is borrowed, even if only two or three words, the indebtedness should be recognized by the use of quotation marks and mention of the author's name. The language of another is not made the writer's own by omission, rearrangement, or new combinations; such is an act of plagiarism.
- Disruption of educational process is defined as the obstruction or disruption of teaching, disciplinary procedures, administration, or other College activities.

Sanctions for violations of academic honesty are found in the Barton College Judicial System and Procedures Handbook.

Class Attendance

A student is responsible for class attendance and, even in necessary absences, is accountable for all academic activities and deadlines. The following is the basic attendance policy of the College.

- In 100- and 200-level courses, unexcused absences in excess of the equivalent to the number of class meetings in one week result in a reduction of the grade in the course.
- In upper level courses and multi-level courses the student is provided, at the beginning of the course, a written statement of attendance requirements for the course.
- In all courses the student is expected to attend at least seventy-five percent of the class meetings. Attending less than seventy-five percent may result in failure in the course.
- Some courses or programs for pedagogical reasons have a more stringent attendance policy. The syllabus for each course provides the attendance policy for that course.
- Generally, absences are excused only for personal illness, family emergency, or for required participation in a College function. In all cases, the burden of proving that an absence is to be excused rests with the student. Faculty may require adequate and appropriate documentation before excusing an absence.

- A student who is absent from a class for two consecutive weeks may be dropped from the course with a grade of F unless adequate notice is given during the course of the absence. Notification must be given to the instructor or to the Vice President for Academic Affairs. Excessive absences from several classes can result in the student's being administratively withdrawn from the College.
- Any unexcused absence taken on the last class of any course before an official break, or the first class of any course following an official break, will be counted as a double cut.
- All absences, excused or unexcused, are recorded and can affect the student's grades.

Access to Student Records

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) affords the student certain rights with respect to student records. They are:

- The right to inspect and review one's own educational records.
- The right to request the amendment of one's own education records to ensure that they are not inaccurate, misleading, or otherwise in violation of the right to privacy or other rights.
- The right to consent to disclosures of personally identifiable information contained in one's own education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.
- The right to file with the U.S. Department of Education a complaint concerning alleged failures by the College to comply with the requirements of FERPA.
- The right to obtain a copy of the College's student record policy. A copy of the policy may be obtained from the Office of the Registrar.

FERPA also gives the College the right to disclose directory information without the student's permission. Directory information may include name, address, telephone number, date and place of birth, major fields of study, participation in officially recognized activities and sports, awards received, most recent educational institution attended, religious affiliation and other similar information, as defined by the College, which would not generally be considered harmful to the student, or an invasion of the student's privacy.

If a student does not wish such directory information to be released, the student must file a request to prevent disclosure of directory information with the Office of the Registrar. This request must be on file within 30 days of the first day of class during the semester of initial enrollment and must be refiled annually thereafter.

Under FERPA the College retains the right to disclose personally identifiable information to those deemed to have a legitimate educational interest in the student's records. These include, but are not limited to authorized representatives of state and federal audit agencies, school officials, accrediting organizations carrying out their accrediting functions, the Veterans Administration, officials at other educational institutions to which the student may be planning to transfer, persons or organizations providing the student financial aid, persons in an emergency where release of information is reasonably deemed necessary to protect the student's health or safety, persons in compliance with a judicial order or lawfully issued subpoena, and parents who have established that the student is their dependent according to Internal Revenue Code of 1954 Section 152, or to whom the student has given permission for disclosure. The college does not report this information unless it is requested and does not provide ongoing reports without separate requests.

Every effort is made to protect the student's privacy and to comply with the law regarding release of educational records. Additional information regarding the College's "Compliance with the Federal Education Rights and Privacy Act Policy" on file in the Office of the Registrar. Copies are available upon request.

Honors Program

The Honors Program exists to enhance learning and challenge qualifying students academically, socially, and culturally. Barton College is committed to the development of the whole person, so Honors students are encouraged to seek out opportunities for personal growth in understanding themselves and others, contributing significantly to the lives of all members of the Barton community of learners.

To participate in the Honors Program, students take Honors Freshmen Composition and Honors Seminar in the freshman year, and in the sophomore year, a course called “The Nature of Inquiry,” which introduces the student to the ways different disciplines interpret our experiences. In addition, students complete, in two regular courses, an “honors component” involving additional research projects, papers, etc. that will result in a significant contribution to other members of the class. Students must also maintain a 3.25 grade point average to remain in the Honors Program.

Besides the academic requirements, students are expected to attend a number of social and cultural events selected from already scheduled events and also some informal social events. The students themselves decide what political, social, and intellectual topics they will discuss when they get together informally as a group. They are also encouraged to attend such cultural events as plays, lectures, and art exhibitions and then discuss their experiences later. The Coordinator of the Honors Program will help facilitate these co-curricular and extra-curricular events.

See “International Programs” below for information about special Honors Scholarships. For more information, contact the Director of the Honors Program.

International Programs

Barton College is firmly committed to the belief that education involves learning how to see the world from multiple perspectives. One of the best ways to develop an awareness of other perspectives is to travel and to experience first-hand cultural differences. The International Programs at Barton exist to provide these learning experiences.

Study Abroad

The College has exchange agreements with the following institutions in other countries: Aichi Shukutoko University in Aichi, Japan; Franklin College in Lugano, Switzerland; University of East Anglia in Norwich, United Kingdom; University College of Chichester in West Sussex, United Kingdom; and Yonsei University in Seoul, South Korea. The College also has an agreement with Central College in Iowa to provide a variety of travel and study abroad programs for Barton students and an agreement with AustraLearn, an organization that provides study abroad programs in Australia and New Zealand. In addition, travel courses are taught outside the United States by Barton faculty, especially during the January Term. Each year, in early spring, the College hosts an Honors Day competition for students invited to campus to compete for four $1,000 scholarships to be used for one of the Barton International Travel courses taught in January Term. All students invited are eligible to become part of the Barton Honors Program.

January Term

The January term provides the student with an opportunity for a change of pace in learning. The intensive study of a single subject during this time can reveal the depth of that subject more effectively than a regular course taken during the fall or spring, and the concentration on one topic can encourage the student to be more creative and independent. However, because the shortness of the term is suited only for some approaches in some disciplines, and because January term is intended to be an enrichment experience, the course offerings are very limited. Travel courses, including the international travel courses mentioned above, are an important component of the term. For more information about the January term contact the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

Bachelor of Liberal Studies Degree

A Bachelor of Liberal Studies degree program is offered through the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs. The interdisciplinary degree program is designed for the Lifelong Education and Extended Programs student. Extremely flexible, the program provides tracks that may be tailored to meet the personal and professional needs of the individual student.

Admission to Liberal Studies

To be admitted to the Bachelor of Liberal Studies degree program one must:

- Apply to enter the program.
- Have a personal interview with the Dean of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs.
- Be enrolled through Lifelong Education and Extended Programs and enrolled in no more than 11 semester hours per semester, and have reached the 22nd birthday.

After review by the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs, the applicant is notified in writing of his/her admission status.

Liberal Studies Requirements

If the application is approved, then the student is assigned a primary advisor within the Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs. The student has a choice of two tracks.

- Track A has areas of concentration in two primary departments. This track requires 24 semester hours in each department and 12 semester hours of electives outside the two primary departments ($24 + 24 + 12 = 60$).
- Track B has areas of concentration in one primary department and in two secondary departments. This track consists of 24 semester hours in the primary department and 18 semester hours in each of the two secondary departments ($24 + 18 + 18 = 60$).

In either of the tracks, an academic advisor is assigned in each of the departments. The course selection must be approved by the respective departments and by the primary advisor. In all cases, the student must fulfill the prerequisites for courses identified for the B.L.S. course of study in addition to the courses themselves.

Academic Resources for Student Success

All students are encouraged to meet regularly with their academic advisors, utilize study time wisely, ask their instructors for advice on study strategies, and assume responsibility for their own learning. Because Barton College is committed to student success, a number of support services have been made available to assist students in developing their academic skills. Many courses use textbooks that offer electronic study aids; whenever possible, these aids have been installed on computers that students have access to. The following list describes a number of places on campus where academic resources are available. For more information about academic resources, contact the Director of Student Success at 399-6313 or success@barton.edu.

- The Office of Student Success is located on the lower level of Hardy Alumni Hall. The office provides counseling on academic progress and study skills development and advises students exploring majors or considering a change in major. The office also coordinates academic resources and the Early Alert Referral System (EARS). EARS provides a mechanism for faculty to report academic behaviors that may hinder a student's success. Copies of the EARS report are sent to the student, the academic advisor, the Director of Student Success and, in the case of excessive absences, the Vice-President for Student Affairs.
- The Career Services and Student Success Resource Room, located in Hamlin Student Center, has books on study skills, basic college subject mastery, and test taking; it also has two computers dedicated to academic resources and practice tests for the GRE, LSAT, MCAT and Praxis I.
- Strategies for Academic Success (SAS 110) is a 1-credit course offered in the spring semester, designed to help students create greater success in college and in life. The course examines strategies for personal, academic and professional growth.
- The Sam and Marjorie Ragan Writing Center is available for students who desire extra help with writing, reading, and research skills.

- Peer Tutors are available to supplement in-class instruction in several core courses. The Mathematics Laboratory is open at a variety of times for students who need help with mathematics.
- Hackney Library has seven computers dedicated to searching library materials and 11 other computers connected to the campus network. The library has 630 software items that support the Barton curriculum, such as HyperStudio and Inspiration for Education students and Granite Bay Accounting software used by the School of Business. The library has one computer equipped with assistive software for the blind, visually disabled, and learning disabled. Audiovisual items including interactive computer software and video tapes on test taking and study skills, and specific college subjects are also available in the library. The Academic Enrichment Center has 46 books on study skills, basic college subject mastery, computer software skills, and test taking; it also has 75 audiovisual items including interactive computer software and video tapes on test taking, study skills, and specific college subjects.
- The Office of Student Success, on the first floor of Hardy Center, has books on study skills, basic college subject mastery, and test taking; it also has two computers dedicated to academic resources and practice tests for the GRE, LSAT, MCAT and Praxis I.
- The Office of Career Services on the first floor of Hamlin Student Center has registration information for many tests used for graduate school admissions, including law and medical school, and admissions information for most of the graduate schools in North Carolina and some from other states.
- The School of Business in Hines Hall has a Computer Lab for student use and makes software available for tutorials in Accounting and Economics.
- The School of Nursing has a Computer Lab with ten computers and a variety of software tutorials for Nursing.
- The Department of Art has a Computer Lab in Case Art Building, open regularly in the evenings and on weekends. The lab has hardcopy and CD copies of tutorials related to presentation programs, electronic portfolios, and web programs.
- The Department of Physical Education and Sport Studies has some computers available with software to aid Athletic Training students. SIMS Master and Exam Master are computer simulations of the National Athletic Trainers Association certification exam.
- The Chem Lab in the Department of Science and Mathematics has nine computers available in a student study room, which also contains a number of scientific reference books.
- The School of Education has a Computer Lab available to students at many different times. The software Inspiration and HyperStudio 4.0 are installed on all computers. Ten computers have Dreamweaver, for creating web pages. The computers run on Microsoft Windows XP, which has built-in features for the visually impaired students, an onscreen keyboard that allows the physically impaired to “type” with the mouse, and tools that change speech to written text.
- Hines Hall has two computer labs, with 24 computers each, that are frequently used for classes, but are available for students when no classes are scheduled.

Academic Services for Students with Disabilities

Barton College complies with the requirements of the Americans with Disabilities Act. Students with disabilities needing special academic services should consult with the ADA Academic Coordinator.

Students with learning disabilities who wish to receive academic accommodations must:

1. Provide written verification of disability from an appropriate licensed professional (i.e., psychologist, audiologist, neurologist, etc.)
 - Testing and evaluation must be current within three years
 - Documentation must include professional's recommendation for specific academic accommodations.
2. Schedule an appointment with the ADA Academic Coordinator during the first week of each semester.
 - The coordinator will serve as a liaison between faculty and the student.
 - The student will present a letter (from the coordinator) to faculty, verifying services needed.

Resources from Career Services

The Career Services Center assists students and alumni with their career development and securing employment. Professional staff is available to assist the student in choosing a major, assessing skills and interests, exploring information about jobs, arranging informational interviews or internships, analyzing resumes, developing employment interviewing skills, and expanding job search strategies.

Career Services maintains information in its Resource Room on career fields by major, career exploration, graduate schools, resume writing, interviewing and guides on employment, internships, summer jobs and work/internships abroad. Career Services also offers the following services to all students and alumni.

- The Career Services Web Site
Student and alumni may further access the resume writing assistance services of Optimal Resume. This service can be used to create and store multiple copies or variations of resumes.
- An Online Job Posting System that includes Job Fair and Event Announcements
The system contains full-time and part-time jobs, as well as internships and summer jobs. Many of these can be applied to through the system.
- A Career Resources Library
Available for students to check out a variety of helpful books, including test preparation books and software for all graduate admissions exams.

- Credentials Files

Can be created by seniors for use in applying to graduate schools or when required by potential employers. The credentials files typically include recommendations and official transcripts. Contents of the file can be sent upon request via email, mail or fax. Reference forms are available in the Career Services Center.

- Career Services Hosts or Sponsors a Variety of Career Fairs

These include Nursing Career Day, Education Career Fair, Eastern Carolina Career Alliance (ENCCA) Career Fair, and the ENCCA Non-Profit Career Fair.

Experiential Education Program

Barton College strongly supports programs that allow the student to relate classroom learning to work experience. Active internship programs provide opportunities throughout the academic year and during summers for the student to explore careers, to integrate theory with practice, and to examine future job possibilities. Barton College students have participated in a variety of locations and fields.

Special Programs:

- 1. The Washington Center

The College has an agreement allowing its students to participate in internships in the nation's capital through the Washington Center. These internships include opportunities in all academic disciplines with government agencies and corporations located in Washington, D.C.

- 2. Co-Operative Education

The College also has a semester Co-Op experience with the Disney College Program. Students work at Disney World Park or Resort with responsibilities related to their academic discipline and career goals.

Each experiential education opportunity is governed by the following considerations:

- An Internship Agreement / Co-Op Agreement form must be completed and turned in before the add period of the semester ends.
- The Internship Agreement / Co-Op Agreement form must be signed by the student's faculty advisor (or sponsoring faculty) and by the Director of Career Services.
- Any credit earning internship must be directly related to the student's academic major or minor.

- Internships may be paid. Compensation is to be determined by the student and the employer.
- One to four semester hours of academic credit may be earned for an internship. There must be a minimum of 45 on-site work hours per credit, in addition to an academic assignment to be determined by the sponsoring faculty member before the internship begins.
- A student may not register for more than four semester hours of internship in any one semester.
- Students should register for the department appropriate internship course (ex. BUS 470). If no such departmental course designation exists, the student must register for credit under EED 09X.
- A maximum of eight total semester hours may be received for all experiences.
- Participation in an internship requires junior or senior standing with at least 62 semester hours completed. Transfer students must have completed at least 30 semester hours at Barton College.
- A 2.50 minimum grade point average is required to participate.

Washington Center internships offer additional credit as noted below. Academic credit earned is elective credit, unless an exception is made by the department or school of the student's major program.

Courses of Instruction: Experiential Education Program EED 094. Experiential Education. 4.

An off-campus student work assignment, supervised and evaluated by faculty from the College.

Note: Pass/Fail grading. Other considerations governing the course are listed above. Course also offered as EED 091 for one semester hour, as EED 092 for two semester hours, and as EED 093 for three semester hours.

Course of Instruction: Washington Center

Courses taken through the Washington Center are entered on the College transcript with the prefix WCE and are not considered transfer courses. The courses available to the student vary from semester to semester. A student may participate in the program offered by the Washington Center for one semester and may take up to 15 semester hours.

Course of Instruction: Co-Op

Participation in the Co-Op experiences with the Disney College Program are entered on the College transcript with the prefix WRK, for which no semester hours are earned. Consequently, no tuition is charged. Co-Op designation is required to maintain continuous enrollment and to maintain eligibility for financial aid and coverage by family medical insurance.

Career Services is located in the Offices of the Hamlin Student Center in room 102-E. Career Services and Student Success share the Resource Room in 101 Hamlin Student Center. The Resource Room contains the career library and a bank of computers accessible 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Some books from the career library (including graduate program test preparation materials) may be checked out for three weeks at a time from Career Services.

010-099	Repeatable Courses	300-399	Junior-Level Courses
100-199	Freshman-Level Courses	400-499	Senior-Level Courses

Multi-, junior-, and senior- level courses are designated as upper-level.

Courses offered by each of the schools at the College are listed in this section of the catalog. Under the School of Arts and Sciences there are separate sections for each of the academic departments. The following order is used for each listing: Three-letter discipline designator, three-digit course number, course title, course credit in semester hours, description of course content, prerequisites, notes with other important information, and semester when course is normally offered. This information is followed by an additional letter code in the course descriptions under the Department of History and Social Sciences; in this case, the codes are explained in the listed major requirements.

ART

Faculty:

- Professors: Fecho (Department Chair), Wilson.
- Associate Professor: Gordon.
- Assistant Professor: Lange.

Note: All courses listed in the requirements are three-hour courses except where noted with a number in parentheses. Each set of double course numbers represents a lecture course/studio course combination.

Art and Design Major (B.A.) Requirements:

- Art core courses: ART 110, 190 (2), 191 (2), 220, 240, 250, 270, 301, 302, 305 (1), 403.
- Other art courses: Select four courses from the following: ART 221, 241, 251, 260, 271, 320.
- Junior-Level Portfolio Review with at least a “3” rating for the class.

Total: 41 semester hours.

Art and Design Major (B.F.A.) Requirements:

- Art core courses: ART 110, 190 (2), 191 (2), 220, 240, 250, 271, 301, 302, 303 or 094, 305 (1), 403.
- Choose one Studio Art Emphasis. Each emphasis has 25 semester hours.
- Junior-Level Portfolio Review with at least a “3” rating for the class.

Total: 57 semester hours.

Art and Design EmphasisCeramics Emphasis Requirements:

- Ceramics courses: ART 241, 340, 341, 440.
- Other art courses: ART 230, 291 (2), 391 (2), and choose three semester hours from the following: ART 260 or ART 376.
- Art elective: three semester hours (not ceramics).

Design Emphasis Requirements:

- Graphic Design courses: ART 251, 260, 350.
- Select two of the following: ART 356, 360, 450, 451.
- Required art courses: ART 270, 290 (2), 310, 390 (2), and choose three semester hours from the following: ART 221, or COM 215.
- It is highly recommended that ART 310. Drawing Advanced, and ART 390. Color Theory, be taken before Junior Review (second semester of junior year).

Painting Emphasis Requirements:

- Painting courses: ART 221, 320, 321, 420.
- Required art courses: ART 290 (2), 310, 390 (2), and choose three semester hours from the following: ART 260, 270 or 311.

Residency at Barton College

A student receiving a degree for any of the majors in the Department of Art must have completed at least 15 semester hours in art courses at the College. For the B.F.A. degree, at least six hours in the Art and Design emphasis must be completed at the College. For a B.A. degree in Studio Art, at least three hours in each of the Art and Design emphasis must be completed at the College.

Exhibition of Student Work

The department reserves the right to show examples of each student's work in exhibitions at the College or elsewhere. The department reserves the right to keep samples of a student's work for instruction, exhibition, publication, or internet exhibition.

Pass/Fail for the Non-Major in the Visual Arts

Any junior or senior, not majoring or minoring in the visual arts, may, for enrichment purposes, elect up to six semester hours of visual art for a pass/fail grade. When such a student is enrolled in a visual arts course, written notification to the College Registrar must be made before the end of the add period if pass/fail grading is desired. The student electing pass/fail grading may not change from one grading specification to another (pass/fail grading to regular grading, or regular grading to pass/fail grading) after the initial registration and declaring of grading mode. The pass/fail option may not be applied to a course taken to satisfy a General College Core requirement.

Auditing Art Courses

A person who is not working toward a degree may enroll for studio art courses, without credit, when studio space is available. The interested individual should contact the instructor and refer to the procedure for auditing a course.

Courses of Instruction: General Visual Arts

Note 1: All studio classes require additional class/laboratory time. Studio courses listed below are marked with an [S].

Note 2: Some studio classes, marked with an asterisk (), require an additional lab fee.*

ART 003. Exploring The Arts in New York City. 3.

Course is designed for the potential patron of the theatre and fine art forms, either as a major or as a person simply interested in the arts as cultural enrichment. The course takes advantage of New York's blend of fine, popular, and ethnic art, and includes selections from musical, theatrical, and visual art forms. January term.

Note: Also listed as THE 003.

ART 005: Arts Skills Laboratory I. 1.

A supervised studio laboratory for the art student. The student may pursue personal studio development beyond that covered in studio classes, project development in support of work done in studio classes, or personal studio development necessary to achieve success in the art curriculum. Since this class has students working in various media, this class is an opportunity to pursue design problems with multi-media solutions. [S]. Fall, Spring.

Corequisite: the student must be enrolled simultaneously in at least one other art studio course if an art major at the College.

Note: Two hours per week.

ART 006. Arts Skills Laboratory II. 1.

A continuation of ART 005. [S].

ART 007. Arts Skills Laboratory III. 1.

A continuation of ART 006. [S].

ART 008. Arts Skills Laboratory IV. 1.

A continuation of ART 007. [S].

ART 009. Arts Skills Laboratory V. 1.

A continuation of ART 008. [S].

ART 094. Museum Field Experience. 3.

A study of the visual and/or decorative arts through both classroom and on-site experiences. Course includes some tangible academic and/or creative product related to the museum experience.

Note: Travel to specific museums and/or architectural works is required. Pre and post-travel classroom work is required. The student is responsible for costs relating to the on-site experience. May be taken as ART 092 for one semester hour and as ART 093 for two semester hours. The specific course number (and corresponding credit hours) depends upon duration of experience and the complexity of the project (at least 15 contact hours per credit hour).

ART 102. Art Appreciation: Lecture. 3.

Art theory and technique in the language of the visual arts. Survey of history of western art and world as related to cultural development.

Note: A student majoring or minoring in Art may use this course as an art elective only.

ART 103. Art Appreciation: Studio. 3.

Introduction to art through a study of the basic principles, procedures and materials of the studio arts. Lecture, demonstration and hands-on experiences employed. [S].

Note: A student majoring in Art may use this course as an art elective only.

ART 110. Drawing: Introduction. 3.

An introduction to the study of drawing. An emphasis in basic skills in drawing from visual perception. Expressive drawing and visual problem solving is introduced. [S].

ART 190. Two-Dimensional Composition. 2.

Introduction to the fundamentals of two-dimensional design and color. Emphasis placed on design elements, principles, materials exploration, creative problem solving and aesthetics. [S]. Fall.

ART 191. Three-Dimensional Design. 2.

Introduction to the fundamentals of three-dimensional design. Emphasis on design elements and principles, materials exploration, and creative problem solving. [S]. Fall or Spring.*

ART 220. Painting: Introduction. 3.

An introduction to the study of painting and the skills necessary for expressive problem solving. The media are acrylic, oil, or watercolor, on a rotating basis. [S]. Fall, Spring.

ART 221. Painting: Intermediate. 3.

Prerequisite: ART 220.

ART 230. Sculpture: Introduction. 3.

Introduction to the fundamental process of sculpture: addition, substitution, subtraction, and assemblage. Emphasis on design, materials exploration, safe use of tools, and contemporary trends in sculpture. [S]. Alternate years.*

ART 240. Ceramics: Introduction. 3.

An introduction to the forming and finishing processes of ceramics, including wheelthrowing, handbuilding, glazing, and firing techniques. Emphasis on ceramics as historical craft and contemporary art. [S]. Fall, Spring.*

ART 241. Ceramics: Intermediate. 3.

A continuation of ART 240, with emphasis on developing control of forming and finishing. Includes investigation of chemical and physical properties of clay and glazes, clay and glaze preparation, and kiln loading and firing. [S]. Fall, Spring*

Prerequisite: ART 240.

ART 250. Visual Design Studio. 3.

An entry-level course designed to introduce the student to the computer as a design tool. Students develop skills in visual literacy, creative problem-solving, and digital imaging. Students are introduced to the use of text/typography in image making. A variety of imaging applications introduced through design studio problems. Emphasis is on the development of basic creative thinking methods, investigation of form and design analysis techniques as they apply to a variety of real world projects. [S]. Fall, Spring.

ART 251. Visual Design Studio: Intermediate. 3.

A continuation of the study of design as a communicative and marketing medium. Students will produce projects exploring visual communication problems, design principles and history. [S]. Fall, Spring*

Prerequisite: ART 250.

ART 260. The Multi-Media Print: Introduction. 3.

Exploration of techniques, styles and media for illustration. Emphasis on medium and technique, including electronic environment. Experimental forms of image making utilizing diverse imagery sources including electronic media, traditional print media, and traditional printmaking methods. [S].*

ART 270. Digital Imaging. 3.

This course will provide an in-depth study of digital imaging techniques using industry standard software. Students will learn digital image acquisition skills, digital manipulation and editing techniques and aesthetics related to computer-derived artwork.

Note: Manual 35mm camera ownership required.

ART 271. Introduction to Black and White Photography. 3.

An exploration of the basic tools, techniques, and aesthetics of 35mm black and white photography. Emphasis on the use of camera controls, film exposure, development and darkroom printing methods. [S]. Fall, Spring*

ART 290. Two-Dimensional Composition: Advanced. 2.

Prerequisite: ART 190.

ART 291. Three-Dimensional Design: Intermediate. 2.

A continuation of the fundamentals of three-dimensional design. Emphasis on design principles, material exploration and creative problem solving.*

Prerequisite: ART 191.

ART 301. Art History of the World: Before 1300 AD. 3.

A chronological study of the visual arts of the world from Paleolithic through 1300 AD. Art from Europe, Asia, Africa, and the Americas is presented to reflect various cultures. Painting, sculpture, architecture emphasized. Fall.

ART 302. Art History of the World: Since 1300 AD. 3.

A chronological study of the visual arts of the world from 1300 AD until the present. Art from Europe, Asia, Africa, and the Americas is presented to reflect various cultures. Painting, sculpture, architecture emphasized. Spring.

ART 303. Topics in Art History. 3.

Three topics in art history presented. Relationships between the topics will be emphasized. Topic one: painting, sculpture, and/or architecture of the Western Tradition selected from the period beginning in 1300 AD. Topic two: a specialized area of art or design history usually not covered in ART 301 or 302. Topic three: a study from a non-Western culture.

Note: This is a topics course that may be taken for credit two times, providing that the course studies a different topic each time, as ART 304.

ART 305. Junior Portfolio. 1.

A course providing information pertaining to professional development. The course concentrates on preparing the student for the career market by focusing on such topics as resume writing, interviewing, business etiquette, and the job search. Successful participation in the junior portfolio review is required. [S]. Spring.

ART 310. Drawing: Advanced. 3.

A continuation of the development of analytical and expressive skills, as well as creative problem solving. An emphasis on drawing from the human figure. [S].

Prerequisite: ART 110.

ART 311. Drawing: Expressive. 3.

Continued development of drawing skills. An emphasis on the drawing for expressive purpose. [S].

Prerequisite: ART 310.

ART 320. Painting: Advanced. 3.

A continuation of the study of painting and the skills necessary for expressive problem solving. An introduction to a new painting media not used in ART 220 or 221. [S]. Fall, Spring.

Prerequisite: ART 221.

ART 321. Painting: Skill Development I. 3.

A continuation of the study of painting and skills necessary for expressive problem solving in a media already introduced. [S]. Fall, Spring.

Prerequisite: ART 320.

ART 326. Integrated Arts in Elementary School. 3.

This course is an exploration of procedures for incorporating creative arts (art, music, and movement) into the total curriculum, in grades K-6, through hands-on teaching activities. This course includes investigation of visual art, movement, and music, at the elementary school level.

Prerequisite: Pre-Entry Stage II.

ART 330. Sculpture: Advanced. 3.

Selection of sculptural materials and methods on an advanced level, with emphasis on individual expression. [S]. Alternate years.*

Prerequisite: ART 230.

ART 340. Ceramics: Advanced. 3.

A continuation of ART 241, with emphasis on advanced problems in the ceramic process for artistic expression. Technical investigation of clay and glaze chemistry, kiln selection, design, construction, and firing techniques. [S]. Fall, Spring.*

Prerequisite: ART 241.

ART 341. Ceramics: Skill Development I. 3.

A continuation of the study of ceramics and the skills necessary for expressive problem solving through ceramics materials and processes. Emphasis is placed on developing a personal aesthetic. [S]. Fall, Spring.*

Prerequisite: ART 340.

ART 350. Visual Design Studio: Advanced. 3.

A continuation of ART 251 and ART 260, with an emphasis on advanced problems in design. Development and preparation of design concepts for application to the printing process. [S]. Fall, Spring.*

Prerequisite: ART 251 or ART 260.

ART 356. Image Design for the Web. 3.

Students will examine design-related issues, theories and practices as a basis for expanding their knowledge of the field of design. They will participate in seminar discussions and collaborative project work to promote communication, research, team building, and critical thinking.

Prerequisite: ART 250, (for CIS students: CIS 310 or 330).

ART 360. The Multi-Media Print: Advanced. 3.

Prerequisite: ART 260.

ART 370. Photography: Alternative Processes. 3.

An introduction to alternative photographic processes, which could include one or more of the following: Digital Imaging, Cyanotypes, Van Dyke Printing, Liquid Light, Posterization, Mural Printing, Gum Bichromate, Sabattier Effect, Cliché Verre, etc. [S].*

Prerequisite: ART 271.

Note: Manual 35mm camera ownership required.

ART 371. Photography: Color. 3.

An exploration of the basic aesthetics of color photography. Emphasis will be placed on the use of effective color, composition, and print development. [S]. Spring.*

Prerequisite: ART 271.

Note: Manual camera, tripod, and flash ownership required.

ART 375. Photography: Professional Photography I. 3.

Prerequisite: ART 271.

Note 1: Manual 35mm camera ownership required.

Note 2: This course may be taken for credit two times providing the course studies different processes each time.

ART 376. Fine Art Photography. 3.

Development of advanced technical control of black and white film and print production. Increased emphasis on creative use of photography for artistic expression.

Prerequisite: ART 271.

Note 1: Manual 35mm camera ownership required.

ART 390. Color Theory. 2.

A continuation of ART 290 with emphasis on advanced study color theories and their application to design principles.

Prerequisite: ART 290.

ART 391. Three-Dimensional Design: Advanced. 2.

A continuation of study in the fundamentals of three-dimensional design. Emphasis on environmental, interactive, and societal artwork, materials exploration and creative problem solving.

Prerequisite: ART 291.

ART 403. Senior Portfolio. 3.

A capstone course for the Art major which explores options for entry into the profession or advanced study. Preparation of an exit portfolio which may involve refining of works and/or the production of additional or new works. Covers the skills necessary for professional presentation. Successful participation, with professional presentation in an exit exhibition at the College, is required. Issues of business aspects of the profession are covered. [S].

Prerequisite: Successful completion of the Junior Review with at least a “3” rating.

Note: Lecture and studio. Must be taken in the spring semester prior to graduation.

ART 410. Drawing: Creative Development. 3.

Continued development of drawing skills. An emphasis on the use of drawing skills in creative visual problem solving. [S].

Prerequisite: ART 311.

ART 420. Painting: Skill Development II. 3.

Prerequisite: ART 321.

ART 421. Painting: Artistic Development I. 3.

A continuation of the study of painting and the skills necessary for expressive problem solving, with an emphasis on the individual's personal development as a creative artist. [S]. Fall, Spring.

Prerequisite: ART 420.

ART 422. Painting: Artistic Development II. 3.

A continuation of the study of painting and the skills necessary for expressive problem solving, with an emphasis on the individual's personal development as a creative artist. [S]. Fall, Spring.

Prerequisite: ART 421.

ART 440. Ceramics: Skill Development II. 3.

A continuation of ART 341, with emphasis on expressive problem solving and developing a personal aesthetic. [S]. Fall, Spring*

Prerequisite: ART 341.

ART 441. Ceramics: Artistic Development I. 3.

A continuation of the study of ceramics. The course builds upon skills previously developed, with emphasis on the individual's personal development as a creative artist. [S]. Fall, Spring*

Prerequisite: ART 440.

ART 442. Ceramics: Artistic Development II. 3.

A continuation of the study of ceramics, building upon skills previously developed. Emphasis on the individual's personal development as a creative artist. [S]. Fall, Spring*

Prerequisite: ART 441.

ART 450. Visual Design Explorations: Skill Development I. 3.

Exploration of theoretical and conceptual concerns of visual design problem solving. The course builds upon skills previously developed, with emphasis on the individual's personal development as a creative artist. [S].*

Prerequisite: ART 350 or 356.

ART 451. Visual Design Explorations: Skill Development II. 3.

Prerequisite: ART 450.

ART 459. Instructional Design and Strategies. 3.

A course designed to develop the student competency in the methods, materials, and activities appropriate for the teaching of art at the secondary level. Fall.

Prerequisite: Admission into the Teacher Education Program.

Corequisite: EDU 400.

ART 460. Gallery/Museum Management Internship. 3.

Option of being placed in an on-campus or off-campus non-paid internship. Under the direct supervision of the gallery/museum director, the intern will perform day-to-day tasks which support the operations of the exhibition space and permanent collections.

Note: Course is also offered as ART 462 for two semester hours, and ART 461 for one semester hour. Course can be taken twice.

ART 470. Advanced Digital Media. 3.

A continuation of ART 270. This course provides greater emphasis on digital photography and advanced digital imaging techniques and stresses the production of consistent series of images. [S].*

Prerequisites: ART 270 and ART 271.

ART 471. Medium and Large Format Photography. 3.

Concentration on both formats, including various models and applications. Emphasis on sheet and roll film development and creative problem solving. [S].*

Prerequisites: ART 275 or ART 375 and ART 370 or ART 475.

Note: Tripod ownership required.

ART 475. Professional Photography II. 3.

Prerequisite: ART 375.

ART 480. Individual Problems. 3.

Allows the student of art the experience of evolving a personal program of limited scope to be carried out with minimum faculty supervision. Individual programs chosen cooperatively by the student and the instructor with the approval of the Department Chair.

Note: Also offered as ART 481 for one semester hour, and as ART 482 for two semester hours.

Faculty:

- Associate Professors: Bostick (Department Chair), McConnell, Struthers.
- Assistant Professors: Stewart, Twiss, Valera.

Student Organizations:

Stage and Script, Society for Collegiate Journalists.

Special Opportunities:

Barton College Choir, Barton College/Wilson Symphony Orchestra, The Collegiate (campus newspaper), Sara Lynn Riley Kennedy Recording Studio, WEDT (Wilson Educational Television), Theatre at Barton College.

Note: All courses listed in the requirements are three-hour courses except where noted with a number in parenthesis.

Mass Communications Major (B.S.) Requirements:

- Mass Communications Core: COM 101, 212, 215, 301, 360, 451, 470.
- Completion of one Mass Communications Concentration: 24-30 semester hours.
Total: 45-51 semester hours.

Mass Communications ConcentrationsAudio Recording Technology Concentration Requirements:

- COM 216, 310, 311, 312, 340, 410; COM 010 taken three times for a total of three semester hours; Music lessons or ensemble for a total of five semester hours.

Broadcast/Video Production Concentration Requirements:

- Select two courses from: ART 190 (2), 250, 251.
- COM 214, 216, 320, 330, 340, 429; COM 012 taken three times for a total of three semester hours; THE 340.

Print and Electronic Journalism Concentration Requirements:

- ART 250; COM 214, 316, 317, 322, 416; COM 011 taken three times for a total of three semester hours; ENG 312.

Mass Communications Minor Requirements:

- Mass Communications courses: COM 101, 212, 214, 215, 216, 301, and one COM elective course at the 300- or 400-level.
Total: 21 semester hours.

Theatre Major (B.A.) Requirements:

- Theatre Core: THE 110, 201, 220, 310, 314, 330, 340; THE 016 taken four times for a total of four semester hours; COM 212, 451; and ENG 307 or 308.
- Completion of one Theatre Concentration: Minimum of seven semester hours.
Total: 41-43 semester hours.

Theatre ConcentrationsDesign Concentration Requirements:

- Choose any combination of the following courses: ART 190 (2), 191 (2), 290 (2), 291 (2), 390 (2), 391 (2); COM 215; THE 480.

Management Concentration Requirements:

- Choose any combination of the following courses: ACC 101, BUS 101, ECO 101, MGT 301, COM 322, THE 480.

Performance Concentration Requirements:

- Choose any combination of the following courses: MUS 011 (1), 022 (1), 062 (2) or 052 (1); ENG 207; THE 480. MUS 011, 022, and 062 may each be taken two times; MUS 052 (if substituted for 062) may be taken three times.

Theatre Minor Requirements:

- Theatre courses: THE 220 or 016 for three semester hours, 201, 110 or 330, 310 or 314, 340.
- English course: ENG 307 or 308.
Total: 18 semester hours.

Courses of Instruction: Mass CommunicationsCOM 010. Practicum in Audio Recording Technology. 1.

Instruction and hands-on experience in sound reinforcement and recording. Fall, Spring.

Prerequisite: COM 216.

Note: Course may be taken for credit no more than six times.

COM 011. Practicum in Journalism. 1.

Credit given for active participation on the staff of the College's student newspaper, The Collegiate. Fall, Spring.

Note: Course may be taken for credit no more than six times.

Courses of Instruction: Theatre

THE 016. Theatre Participation. 1.

A student participating in Barton Theatre productions is expected to spend a great deal of time in the rehearsal and production phases of a given show. This course is designed to give appropriate credit for those valuable laboratory experiences. Grades are based upon time spent working on the production, as well as the quality of the work produced. The reliability of the student and his or her ability to work well with other students will factor into grading as well. Fall, Spring.

Note: Course may be taken for credit no more than six times.

THE 110. Beginning Acting. 3.

This course will introduce the fundamentals of acting with regard to vocal and physical communication, text analysis, spacial awareness, and acting theory. Along with readings and exercises from our text, students will be expected to memorize simple monologues and scenes for presentation within the class. This course is appropriate for inexperienced actors as well as those with experience but little formal training. Fall.

THE 201. Introduction to the Theatre. 3.

This course is designed to stimulate the students' appreciation and understanding of a live theatre event, while establishing its social, cultural, and historical context. Through readings, theatre experiences, discussions, oral presentations, and research, the student will become a more educated audience member, and possibly an active theatre practitioner. This course is appropriate for non-majors and satisfies the College AWC requirement. Fall.

THE 214. World Drama. 3.

This course will examine the dramatic literature and performance styles of diverse world cultures as well as the social, political, historical, and artistic forces that helped shape them. Critical understanding of a nation and its people begins with a study of context; we will use theatre as an entry point to break down barriers and gain insight into worldwide movements.

THE 220. Stagecraft. 3.

This course is an introduction to theatre production through the study and use of basic design elements including sets, lights, props, sound, costumes, and makeup. Students will be involved in design, construction, and execution of Barton College theatrical productions. Lecture, demonstration, and hands-on experience are employed, as well as the manipulation of hand tools, power tools, and paint, so students are expected to dress accordingly. A student should never use tools without a clear understanding of appropriate safety procedures. Additional hours may be required during the theatre production period: show and hours TBD. Fall.

THE 310. Advanced Acting. 3.

This course will involve the rigorous study of advanced acting techniques, character analysis, rehearsal process, and presentation style in relation to selected monologues and scenes. Exercises for physical, vocal, and interpretive skills will be undertaken, and a final performance before an audience is required. Spring, alternating with THE 330.

Prerequisite: THE 110.

THE 314. Theatre History. 3.

This course will address the history of theatre from its origins to the present time with an emphasis on primary motivators and innovators in the field. Key political, cultural and socio-economic factors and their influence on individuals and institutions will be studied as well as major periods and their representative dramatists. This will be an oral-intensive course with group and individual presentations used to cover the material. This course is appropriate for non-majors, and there is no prerequisite, although THE 201 is advised. Spring.

THE 330. Directing. 3.

This course will study the craft of play directing, including material selection, casting, rehearsals, and the principles of intention-driven composition (imagery, movement, tempo, and rhythm). Each student directs exercises in class and produces a one-act play. Spring, alternating with THE 310.

THE 340. Voice and Diction. 3.

This course is designed to heighten awareness and improved execution of vocal communication. Public speaking is studied and employed as well as group and individual exercises to target specific areas of concern for students. Standard American English and the International Phonetic Alphabet are utilized. Spring.

THE 480. Special Studies in Theatre. 3.

Directed individual research or creative work in theatre and special study in areas not covered by course listings. Fall, Spring.

Note: Also offered as THE 481 for one semester hour, and as THE 482 for two semester hours.

- Total: 58 semester hours.

Entrance Requirements (ATEP) and Application Process

- Apply by April 15th of freshman year.
- Have an overall 2.50 GPA at time of application.
- Those applying with a GPA of 2.30-2.49 may be considered on a provisional basis for the fall semester of sophomore year in the program. After the fall semester, a GPA of 2.50 is required to stay in the ATEP.
- Earn a C or better in the following pre-professional classes: ATR 111 and/or ATR 112 (or equivalent).
- Provide proof of completion of minimum of 25 hours of observation under an ATC/Approved Clinical Instructor at Barton College.
- Be current in first aid and CPR.
- Provide proof of HBV series of shots or provide a declination form.
- Three letters of recommendation – one from an athletic trainer preferred.
- Provide a writing sample in response to specific career questions.
- Complete the Athletic Training Education Program Application.
- Complete a physical (by an MD, DO, PA, or NP) within six months of application. This determines if a student meets the Technical Standards of the ATEP.
- Proof of OSHA and Acknowledgement of Communicable Disease Policy.
- Complete an interview with the Athletic Training Education Program Selection Committee* (After April 15th of the freshman year).
- Students will be notified of their selection into the ATEP, in writing, prior to the start of the first semester of the sophomore year.

Please note that a student may meet all of the requirements and not be selected into the ATEP. Selection depends upon the number of spaces available at the time of application.

 The Athletic Training Education Program Selection Committee consists of the chair of the department of Physical Education and Sport Studies, the ATEP director, and all Barton College Athletic Training faculty (ATC's).*

ATEP Retention Policy:

- Have and maintain 2.50 GPA after first semester of sophomore year.
- Students must have a C or better in all major classes.
- Athletic training students will minimally complete a series of clinical rotations that include upper extremity, lower extremity, general medical, physical therapy, and equipment intensive.
- Expected to complete hours as determined by ACIs.

Exit Criteria

- Completion of all didactic and clinical course work according to program requirements.
- Mastery of all clinical skills.

Note 1: The Barton College Athletic Training Program is accredited by the Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education (CAATE). Students completing this program are eligible to take the Board of Certification (BOC) examination.

Note 2: Transfer Credit Information is located on page 81.

Note 3: Complete admission criteria is located in the Athletic Training Handbook/ATEP Policy and Procedure manual.

Note 4: Athletic Training Education majors (and all Barton College students) have access to healthcare services as described in the "Student Health Services" section of the Barton College Datebook and Handbook.

Transfer Student Admission:

A traditional student from another accredited baccalaureate athletic training program may submit completed coursework for review by the Barton College Athletic Training Education Program Director. A letter from the Program Director from the previous institution must state the student is in good standing with that program. The acceptance or waiver of the course(s) is contingent upon the theoretical and clinical congruence with the equivalent course(s) offered by the Barton College ATEP. The interested student would also have to complete the Barton College ATEP application process. A copy of the procedure/course sequence followed by the traditional athletic training student may be obtained from the Program Director.

Additional Expenses:

- Clothing: the student is required to purchase shirts and a name tag ($20 - $25) prior to selection into the program.
- HBV series of immunizations (or sign a declination form) prior to selection into the program. Students may need additional vaccinations for clinical rotations.

- The student must have access to a car after selection into the program.
- NATA membership (recommended) after selection into the program (senior year).
- Liability insurance annually ($18 - $20) after selection into the program.
- Physical examination within six months of application into program.

The Athletic Training Education Program at Barton College is a rigorous and intense program that places specific requirements and demands on the students enrolled in the program. An objective of this program is to prepare graduates to enter a variety of employment settings and to render care to a wide spectrum of individuals engaged in physical activity. The technical standards set forth by the Athletic Training Education Program establish the essential qualities considered necessary for students selected into this program to achieve the knowledge, skills, and competencies of an entry-level athletic trainer, as well as meet the expectations of the program's accrediting agency (Commission on Accreditation of Athletic Training Education [CAATE]).

The Barton College Athletic Training Education Program does not discriminate with respect to race, color, creed, gender, sexual orientation, age, disabling conditions (handicaps), and national origin.

- Choose two courses from: ATR 220/221 (3/1); MGT 345; NUR 315; 335; PSY 220, 230; SWK 322.

Total: 46-56 semester hours.

Physical Education Teacher Licensure (B.S.) Requirements:

The Evolving Professional Teacher

The Physical Education-Teacher Licensure (PETL) faculty guide PETL majors as they “evolve into professional physical educators.” Our commitment is to provide a nurturing environment for each teacher candidate as they deepen their content knowledge, develop leadership skills, and increase acceptance and understanding of all children. These goals, coupled with a mandate to provide effective pedagogical skills necessary for student success in a gymnasium, is the basis for the conceptual framework of all licensure areas, “The Evolving Professional Teacher.” Instilled in PETL graduates is a love of learning and an ongoing interest in professional development, a reflective process to ensure teacher effectiveness and empowerment, and a self-confidence that results from membership and participation in the teacher education learning community at Barton College.

The Physical Education-Teacher Licensure Program graduate earns a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education, leading to the initial North Carolina teaching license for Kindergarten through 12th grade. This program is accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) and the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction (NCDPI).

- Courses within the School of Arts and Sciences prescribed for special area licensure: BIO 101/103 (3/1), 219 (4); EDU/PSY 223; PSY 325.
- Professional Education courses:
 - Prior to the Professional Semester (spring of senior year):
 - Field Experience courses: EDU 200 (1), 300 (1), 360 (1), 400 (1).
 - Other professional courses: EDU 201, 343 (2), 434; ENG 363.
 - During the Professional Semester: EDU 451, 470 (10).
- Complete all Professional Education Program requirements.
 - To be completed during the sophomore year: Program projection.
 - To be completed during the senior year: Videotaped lesson from Student Teaching.

See School of Education section of catalog for remaining requirements.

Total for Teacher Licensure requirements: 42 semester hours.

Note: A grade of D is not acceptable for licensure in a major course or in a professional education course. Only the student who successfully completes all phases of the Professional Education Program and meets all other department requirements can be permitted to enter pre-service teaching

Sport Management Major (B.S.) Requirements:

- Sport Studies courses: SPS 201, 210 (1), 310 (2), 410, 460.
- Accounting courses: ACC 101, 102.
- Computer course: CIS 330.
- Management courses: MGT 210, 301, 305, 315, 325, 330, 345, 350.

Total: 45 semester hours.

Note: SPS 460 may be replaced with SPS 470 (12) (see special prerequisites under the course listing); either course must be passed with at least a C grade. The major has 54 semester hours if this alternative is used.

Strength and Conditioning Minor Requirements:

- Biology course: BIO 219 (4).
- Nursing course: NUR 214.
- Physical Education course: PED 350.
- Sport Studies courses: SPS 212/213 (1/1), 312/313 (1/1), 320, 420.

Total: 20 semester hours.

Courses of Instruction: Athletic Training

ATR 111. Athletic Training Practicum I. 1.

This course is designed to introduce the student to fundamental taping and wrapping skills and athletic training room operations. Consists of lecture or practical skills and athletic training observation. The observations are four-week rotations assigned by the instructor in men's, women's, individual, team, high-risk sports, and in the athletic training room. Requires 50 hours of observation with minimum of four hours per week and completion of clinical proficiencies. This class is a requirement for admission into the Athletic Training Education Program. Fall.

ATR 112. Athletic Training Practicum II. 1.

This course is designed to introduce the student to acquisition of CPR, AED, first aid skills, and athletic training room operations. Consists of lecture or practical skills and athletic training room observation. The observations are four-week rotations assigned by the instructor in men's, women's, individual, team, high-risk sports, and in the athletic training room. Requires 50 hours of observation with minimum of four hours per week and completion of clinical proficiencies. This class is a requirement for admission into the Athletic Training Education Program. Spring.

ATR 211. Athletic Training Practicum III. 1.

This course is a structured clinical experience designed to introduce the student to splinting, bracing, and padding techniques. Consists of lecture or practical skills and incorporates clinical experiences in the athletic training setting as assigned by the Approved Clinical Instructor or program director. Requires completion of clinical proficiencies and clinical rotations. Spring.

Prerequisites: ATR 220/221, acceptance into the Athletic Training Education Program.

ATR 220. Basic Athletic Training. 3.

This is an introductory course to athletic training. Topics include the athletic trainer and sports medicine team, health care administration, legal concerns, training and conditioning techniques, environmental considerations, protective sports equipment, mechanisms and characteristics of sports trauma, acute care and emergency procedures, and basic evaluation of athletic injuries. This class is a requirement for admission into the Athletic Training Education Program. Fall.

Prerequisite: ATR 112.

Corequisite: ATR 221.

ATR 221. Basic Athletic Training Laboratory. 1.

This course is designed to introduce the application of theories presented in ATR 220. Laboratory experiences will be related to first aid, emergency care, protective sports equipment, environmental considerations, injury evaluation, and modalities. Requires 100 hours of observation and completion of clinical competencies. This class is a requirement for admission into the Athletic Training Education Program. Fall.

Prerequisite: ATR 112.

Corequisite: ATR 220.

ATR 320. Evaluation of the Lower Extremity and Spine. 3.

This course involves the study of the theory and techniques of evaluation of injuries to the thoracic and lumbar spine and lower extremities. Emphasis is on orthopedic assessment, including neurological evaluations, manual muscle testing, special tests and postural evaluations of the physically active. Fall.

Prerequisites: Admission into the Athletic Training Education Program; ATR 220/221; PED 350.

Corequisite: ATR 321.

ATR 321. Evaluation of the Lower Extremity and Spine Lab. 1.

This course is designed to enable student to put the theories and concepts learned in ATR 320 into practice. Emphasis is on the application of the skills and proficiencies of orthopedic assessment, including neurological evaluations, manual muscle testing, special tests and postural evaluations of the physically active. This is a skills based course that incorporates clinical experiences in the athletic training setting as assigned by the Approved Clinical Instructor or program director. Requires completion of clinical proficiencies and clinical rotations. Fall.

Prerequisites: Admission into the Athletic Training Education Program; ATR 220/221; PED 350.

Corequisite: ATR 320.

ATR 340. Evaluation of the Upper Extremity and Special Topics. 3.

This course involves the study of the theory and techniques of evaluation of injuries to the head, cervical spine, and upper extremities. Emphasis is placed on orthopedic assessment, including neurological evaluations, manual muscle testing, biomechanics and special tests of the upper extremity. Internal injuries, dermatology and general medical topics are also included. Spring.

Prerequisites: Admission into the Athletic Training Education Program; ATR 220/221; BIO 311/313; PED 350.

Corequisites: ATR 341; PED 350.

ATR 341. Evaluation of the Upper Extremity and Special Topics Lab. 1.

This course involves the application of the theory and techniques learned in ATR 340. Emphasis is placed on the application of the skills and proficiencies of orthopedic assessment, including neurological evaluations, manual muscle testing, and special tests. This is a skills based course that incorporates clinical experiences in the athletic training setting as assigned by the Approved Clinical Instructor or program director. Requires completion of clinical proficiencies and clinical rotations. Spring.

Prerequisites: Admission into the Athletic Training Education Program; ATR 220/221; BIO 311/313; PED 350.

Corequisites: ATR 340; PED 350.

ATR 360. Therapeutic Modalities. 3.

This course will familiarize the athletic training student with the scientific basis and physiological effects of various modalities on acute and chronic injuries and/or pathologies. This will include the theory of preparation, set up, dosages, indications, and contraindications, of each modality, based on physiological response of the athlete and objective findings. Spring.

Prerequisites: Admission into the Athletic Training Education Program; SPS 320.

Corequisite: ATR 361.

ATR 361. Therapeutic Modalities Lab. 1.

This course is designed so that the student may put the theories and concepts learned in ATR 360 into practice. The student will practice the skills needed to be able to perform the appropriate patient setup, operation, and application, of various therapeutic modalities. This is a skills based course that incorporates clinical experiences in the athletic training setting as assigned the Approved Clinical Instructor or program director. Requires completion of clinical proficiencies and clinical rotations. Spring.

Prerequisites: Admission into the Athletic Training Education Program; SPS 320.

Corequisite: ATR 360.

ATR 420. Rehabilitation of Athletic Injuries. 3.

A study of techniques of therapeutic exercise and planning of rehabilitation programs for the physically active from the time of injury, back to activities of daily living, work, and sport. Concepts of functional tests and isokinetics will also be included. Common surgical procedures and the rehabilitation process will be discussed for the spine and extremities. Fall.

Prerequisites: Admission into the Athletic Training Education Program; ATR 320/321, ATR 340/341, ATR 360/361; SPS 420.

Corequisite: ATR 421.

ATR 421. Rehabilitation of Athletic Injuries Lab. 1.

This course is designed so the student may put the theories and concepts learned in ATR 420 into practice. The student will do a rehabilitation project with an injured athlete and practice the skills needed to be successful in a rehabilitation setting. This is a skills based course that incorporates clinical experiences in the athletic training setting as assigned by the Approved Clinical Instructor or program director. Requires completion of clinical proficiencies and clinical rotations.

Prerequisites: Admission into the Athletic Training Education Program; ATR 320/321, ATR 340/341, ATR 360/361; SPS 420. Fall.

Corequisite: ATR 420.

ATR 460. Senior Seminar. 3.

This is a capstone course that has advanced topics in athletic training and an emphasis on achieving mastery of previous skills and proficiencies. This is a skills based course that incorporates clinical experiences in the athletic training setting as assigned by the Approved Clinical Instructor or program director. Some advanced topics isokinetics, computer simulation testing, pharmacology and health care administration. CPR re-certification is also included. Spring.

Prerequisites: Admission into the Athletic Training Education Program; ATR 420/421.

Courses of Instruction: HealthHEA 201. First Aid and CPR. 1.

Course covering first aid and cardiopulmonary resuscitation, taught according to American Red Cross guidelines.

HEA 202. First Aid/CPR/Athletic Injuries. 2.

Covers the topics included in the American National Red Cross guidelines, as well as the basics of athletic injuries. Prepares the student in the fundamentals of first aid, cardiopulmonary resuscitation, and the immediate treatment and rehabilitative care of injuries which commonly occur during the school day or during sports participation. Fall.

HEA 301. Healthful Living. 1.

Today's society appears to have a genuine concern for living a healthful lifestyle and those issues and practices which will promote this form of healthy living. This course will help students to understand the issues for promoting healthy living and aid in clarifying values related to healthful practices and topics. Spring.

HEA 340. Health and Safety for Secondary Schools. 1.

Current issues in health and safety, the secondary school health curriculum, effective teaching aids and techniques explored. Fall.

Prerequisite: Pre-Entry Stage I.

Courses of Instruction: Physical Education – Fitness

All of these courses may be counted toward the Physical Fitness component in the Sports Science Perspective in the General College Core requirements. The student must complete one of these courses for the Sports Science Perspective.

PED 100. Lap Swimming. 1.

PED 101. Total Fitness. 1.

PED 102. Jogging for Fitness. 1.

PED 103. Aerobic Dance. 1.

PED 104. Walking for Fitness. 1.

PED 105. Water Aerobics. 1.

PED 106. Zumba. 1.

Courses of Instruction: Physical Education – Lifetime Activity

All of these courses may be counted toward the Lifetime Activity component in the Sports Science Perspective in the General College Core requirements. The student must complete one of these courses for the Sports Science Perspective.

PED 110. Weight Training. 1.

PED 111. Tennis . 1.

PED 112. Badminton. 1.

PED 113. Frisbee. 1.

PED 114. Golf. 1.

PED 115. Yoga. 1.

PED 116. Tae Kwon Do. 1.*

PED 117. Intermediate Swimming. 1.

PED 118. Advanced Swimming. 1.

PED 119. Ballroom Dance. 1.

PED 120. Beginning Swimming. 1.

PED 122. Volleyball. 1.

PED 124. Line Dance. 1.

PED 128. Archery. 1.

PED 129. Racquet Sports. 1.

PED 131. Wellness for a Lifetime. 2.

Note: PED 131 fulfills both the Physical Fitness and Lifetime Activity requirements of the Sports Science Perspective in the General College Core requirements.

PED 134. Basic Sailing. 1.PED 135. Advanced Scuba. 1.

* Course requires an extra fee.

General College Core Requirement Placement Credit

A student who participates in an intercollegiate sport for at least two years receives one semester hour of placement credit in physical education. This credit will count for the Lifetime Activity requirement of the Sports Science component of the General College Core requirement. No more than one semester hour of credit may be earned by participation in intercollegiate sports.

Students with Disabilities

A student who has a permanent disability which prevents participation in all or part of the Sports Science component of the General College Core requirements may be allowed to modify this requirement. After the presentation of a doctor's verification of the disability to the Chair of the Department, the requirement can be modified to comply with the restriction. If the student's disability is such that there can be no benefit from the Sports Science classes, then a petition for exemption from this requirement may be submitted through the normal petition procedure. Such a petition should be accompanied by appropriate medical recommendations.

A student enrolled in a Sports Science activity course who becomes ill or injured to the extent that continuation in the course is not possible should elect to drop or withdraw from the course and enroll in the course in a later semester.

Courses of Instruction: Physical EducationPED 132. Water Safety Instructor. 2.

Certifies the student as an American Red Cross Water Safety instructor.

PED 133. Lifeguarding. 2.

Certifies the student as an American Red Cross Lifeguard.

PED 136. Scuba Divemaster and Instructor Preparation. 2.

Qualifies the student to apply for certification as a Divemaster with one of the nationally recognized certification agencies. After Divemaster certification, the student is qualified to enter further training for certification as an open water scuba instructor.

Note: Special fee required.

PED 210. Individual and Dual Sports. 3.

Covers the pedagogical skills involved in teaching individual/dual sports to novice, intermediate, and advanced skill levels. Individual sports covered include badminton, archery, fitness, tennis, and golf. Spring.

Prerequisite: Pre-Entry Stage I.

PED 220. Team Sports. 3.

Covers the pedagogical skills involved in teaching team sports to novice, intermediate, and advanced skill levels. Team sports covered include basketball, soccer, volleyball, baseball/softball, and flag football. Fall.

Prerequisite: Pre-Entry Stage I.

PED 230. Gymnastics and Rhythms. 2.

Covers the pedagogical skills involved in teaching gymnastics, rhythms and dance to novice, intermediate, and advanced skill levels. Spring.

Prerequisite: Pre-Entry Stage I.

PED 240. Outdoor Pursuits. 1.

An introduction to the broad area of outdoor pursuits and the goals and benefits of participation in such activities. Multiple outdoor activities.

Prerequisite: Pre-Entry Stage I.

Note: Special fee required.

PED 310. Physical Education and Health for Classroom Teachers. 3.

Studies the philosophical base and the conceptual framework from which the elementary school physical education curriculum can be developed and evaluated. Includes principles of motor learning, mechanical principles, and teaching styles. Movement experiences include learning, teaching, participation in general and personal space awareness, mimetics and story plays, singing games, manipulative activities, stunts and tumbling, games of lower organization, relays, folk dance, rhythms, and lead-ups to sports skills. Other topics included effective class management, human wellness concepts, programs for children with special needs, teacher responsibilities, and legal liability. Acquisition of health and safety information which are pertinent to elementary school children. Includes identification of specific responsibilities of the elementary school educator for protecting and improving the health of school children. Exploration of elementary school health and safety curriculum and services. Spring.

PED 320. Elementary Physical Education for the Physical Educator. 3.

Studies the curriculum, conceptual considerations, and pedagogical skills involved in providing a developmentally appropriate physical education program at the elementary school level. Fall.

Prerequisite: Pre-Entry Stage II (refer to page 220).

PED 325. Total Fitness for Police Trainees. 2.

Focus is on total fitness for police trainees including physical training, nutrition, and stress management. The student participates in rigorous exercise regimen which prepares for participation in basic law enforcement training. Recommended to be taken in the trimester/semester preceding CJC 453, 456, or 459 and admission to law enforcement academy training program.

Prerequisite: CJC 101.

PED 330. Physical Education for Special Populations. 3.

Promotes competencies in the selection, organizational, and evaluative skills necessary for providing an appropriate individualized physical education program to meet the physical, emotional, and social needs of students with handicapping conditions. Fall.

Prerequisite: Pre-Entry Stage II (refer to page 220).

Corequisite: EDU 300.

PED 340. Physical Education in the Secondary Schools. 3.

Studies the skills and curriculum included in junior and senior high school physical education programs. Observation of classes and programs in the public schools included. Spring.

Prerequisite: Pre-Entry Stage II (refer to page 220).

PED 350. Kinesiology. 3.

A study of human movement from the viewpoint of biomechanics, musculoskeletal anatomy and neuromuscular anatomy and neuromuscular physiology, with the greatest emphasis on the mechanical aspects. Spring.

Prerequisite: BIO 219 or BIO 311/313.

PED 405. Measurement and Evaluation in Physical Education and Sport Studies. 2.

Use, interpretation, and application of fundamental statistical techniques. Fall.

Prerequisite: At least junior level standing in the major.

PED 410. Measurement and Evaluation in Physical Education and Sport Studies. 3.

Theory and practice of evaluation and measurement: test construction, selection, use, administration, scoring and interpretation. Also includes elementary statistical techniques and work with specific tests. Fall.

Prerequisite: Admission to the Teacher Education Program.

PED 459. Instructional Design and Strategies in Physical Education. 2.

Emphasis on the methods and materials used and problems encountered in teaching Physical Education. The course includes course design, instructional procedures, and strategies used in teaching Physical Education. Fall.

Prerequisite: Admission to the Teacher Education Program.

Corequisite: EDU 400.

Courses of Instruction: Sport Studies

SPS 201. Introduction to Sport Studies. 3.

Includes vocational opportunities, history, philosophies, relationships to education, social sciences, physical sciences, and current trends and issues in the field. Entry level course for majors in the Physical Education and Sport Studies Department. Fall.

SPS 210. Early Field Experience. 1.

A supervised field experience in the student's Sport Studies major area. Fall, Spring, Summer.

Prerequisite: Sophomore level standing for Sport Management majors and Fitness Management majors.

Note: A minimum of 30 hours in the field required. Physical education majors seeking teacher licensure may not count this course toward graduation.

SPS 212. Training Concepts. 1.

This is a theory-based course dealing with strength training concepts, activities, and beginning foundation program planning for different segments of the population. Spring.

Prerequisite or Corequisite: BIO 219 or BIO 311/313.

SPS 213. Training Concepts Lab. 1.

This course is designed to provide practical experience to become familiar with basic strength and conditioning drills and fitness center supervision. Spring.

Prerequisite: SPS 212.

SPS 310. Psychological and Sociological Bases of Sport. 2.

A study of the personality, self-concept, motivation, group interaction, learning, perception, maturation, and other psychological and sociological phenomena as they apply to fitness, skill acquisition, and physical performance. Spring.

SPS 312. Program Design and Implementation. 1.

This is a scientific and applied course dealing with strength training activities and design concepts for different segments of the population. Fall.

Prerequisites: SPS 212/213.

SPS 313. Program Design and Implementation Lab. 1.

This course is designed for students specializing in strength and conditioning. Content includes program design, exercise techniques, organization, testing and evaluation, and exercise science. This is a course which provides practical professional experience in the field of Strength and Conditioning and Fitness Management. Fall.

Prerequisite: SPS 312.

SPS 320. Exercise Physiology. 3.

A study of the basic physiological changes that accompany physical exercise, sports and movement. Included are the effects of the environment, altitude, nutrition, ergonomic aids, sex, and age, and the implications provided for developing conditioning programs. Fall.

Prerequisite: BIO 219 or BIO 311/313.

SPS 410. Organization and Administration of Physical Education and Sport Programs. 3.

A study of organization and administration as they apply to health, physical education, athletics, and other sport studies areas. Special emphasis on general management techniques, fiscal management, personnel administration, legality in operations, and public relations. Spring.

SPS 420. Exercise Prescription. 3.

A “hands-on approach” that applies basic exercise testing principles of cardiovascular fitness, muscular strength and endurance, flexibility, nutrition, and body composition to specific populations. Screening and testing devices, physical activity, disease, aging, and psychological health will be studied. Implications of each area will be investigated. Spring.

Prerequisites: PED 350, SPS 320.

SPS 460. Field Experience in Sport Studies. 3.

Supervised practical experience in one of the various sports studies areas including physical education, sport administration and sports communications. Fall, Spring, Summer.

Prerequisite: Completion of 90 credit hours. Student must have at least a 2.00 overall grade point average to be eligible for a field experience.

Note 1: Course is also offered as SPS 461 for one semester hour, and as SPS 462 for two semester hours. Involves a minimum of 30 hours of field work for each hour of credit. May be taken more than once, but no more than six semester hours may be counted toward graduation, and no more than three semester hours may be taken in any semester.

Note 2: Must have junior or senior status in Physical Education and Sport Studies majors.

SPS 470. Internship in Sport Studies. 12.

Course allows the student opportunities to participate in field-based learning experiences in agency, business and education settings. Fall, Spring, Summer.

Prerequisites: Completion of 90 semester hours with a 2.50 minimum cumulative grade point average in all major courses.

SPS 480. Independent Research in Sport Studies. 3.

Individual research project selected and designed by the student with guidance of the instructor. The course is designed for students who have demonstrated the competence to do independent work. The student may be asked to present the study and its results at a seminar composed of faculty and students. Fall, Spring, Summer.

Note: Also offered as SPS 481 for one semester hour, and as SPS 482 for two semester hours.

Psychology Club.

Psychology Major (B.S.) Requirements:

- Psychology courses: PSY 101, 220, 270 (4), 271 (4), 340, 350, 380, 415, 420, 425, 435, 440, 470 (6).
 - Psychology research and thesis courses: PSY 490, 499.
- Total: 50 semester hours.

Psychology Minor Requirements:

- Psychology courses: PSY 101, 270 (4), 271 (4).
 - Psychology elective courses – choose three: PSY 220 [or 230 or 325], 340, 380, 415, 420, 425, 440.
- Total: 20 semester hours.

Courses of Instruction: PsychologyPSY 101. Introductory Psychology. 3.

An introduction to the various sub-areas that comprise psychology, including the development of psychology as a science, learning and memory, biological foundations of behavior, sensation and perception, human development, motivation and emotions, and social psychology. Emphasis placed on critical thinking and understanding the scientific methods used in the discipline. Fall, Spring.

PSY 220. Developmental Psychology. 3.

A study of theories and principles of human development across the life span. Includes introduction to research methods and emphasis on understanding underlying mechanisms for developmental change. Covers the major areas of development, but most especially those of perception, cognition, social awareness, and personality. Fall, Spring.

Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 223. Educational Psychology. 3.

Research and theory of psychology that applies directly to the study of teaching and learning. Fall, Spring.

Note: Also listed as EDU 223.

PSY 230. Psychology of Aging. 3.

Describes the changes in behavior and mental processes that accompany aging. Included are biological, socio-cultural, personality and developmental theories of the aging process as well as factors that contribute to individual differences in how people respond to aging. Emphasis is placed on reviewing recent research on aging and applying that research to the issue of how to make the aging process a positive experience. Fall, odd years.

Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 270. Statistics and Research Design. 4.

Introduction to the basic principles of research design and analysis in psychology, including the formulation, testing and evaluation of empirical questions. Students learn methodological and statistical techniques utilized in the research process. Specifically, the course focuses on experimental designs and statistical techniques including descriptive statistics and preliminary inferential techniques (i.e., probability theory, z-tests and t-tests). Emphasis is placed on the development of an independent research proposal written in APA style. Students also learn to use a statistical software package (SPSS).

Prerequisite: PSY 101 and MTH 120 or equivalent.

Note: 2-hour laboratory required in addition to the regular three hours of lecture per week.

PSY 271. Statistics and Research Design II. 4.

A continuation of PSY 270. Students learn advanced statistical techniques, including factorial analysis of variance and nonparametric statistics (i.e., correlation, regression, chi-square). Nonexperimental designs such as surveys, observational research, case studies and program evaluation are covered. Emphasis is placed on the conduction of the research proposed in PSY 270, including data collection, analysis, an oral presentation, and a written empirical report in APA style. Continued focus on statistical analysis skill is also stressed.

Prerequisite: PSY 270.

Note: 2-hour laboratory required in addition to the regular three hours of lecture per week.

PSY 325. Psychology of Childhood and Adolescence. 3.

A study of the psychological development of the child and adolescent as influenced by heredity and the environment – the context of multiplicative interaction in which all human development occurs. Although importance is placed on the contemporary contextualist view of psychological development, classic perspectives are analyzed. The interrelatedness of theory, research, and applications is emphasized. Current social issues related to child and adolescent psychological health and welfare are addressed. Fall, Spring.

Prerequisite: PSY 101 or 223.

PSY 335. Sport Psychology. 3.

This course provides an opportunity for the in-depth study of research findings related to the different areas of sport psychology. Primary focus is on the application of these findings to various sport settings. Topics include research methods in sport psychology, sport socialization, motivation and performance, intervention and performance enhancement, self-efficacy and attribution, anxiety and skill performance, racial and gender discrimination in sport, violence in sport, the psychology of sport fans and spectators, and the psychology of coaching. Spring, odd years.

Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 340. Introduction to Personality. 3.

Examines the major theories of personality, including the psychodynamic, humanistic, trait, and cognitive-behavioral approaches. Includes the significant research and methodological concerns associated with each personality theory and how the theories and research on personality are applied to understanding human behavior. Fall, odd years.

Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 350. Psychological Assessment. 3.

Introduction to psychological and educational testing and assessment. Topics include the foundations of psychological measurement, test design and construction, test standardization and administration, applications of testing in various settings, criticisms and issues in testing. Emphasis placed on testing reliability, validity, and item analysis. Spring, even years.

Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 365. Health Psychology. 3.

This course examines the uses of psychology in medicine and other aspects of health care. Topics include biofeedback and self-control, the placebo effect, the role of personality factors and stress in the etiology and prevention of disease, coping with disease and pain, psychoneuroimmunology, and the doctor-patient relationship. Fall, even years.

Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 380. Social Psychology. 3.

A study of how human behaviors are affected by different social settings. Topics include altruistic behavior, the relationship between attitudes and behavior, attraction, persuasion, eyewitness testimony, aggression, prejudice, and group decision making. Emphasis placed on methods used by social psychologists. Spring.

Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 415. Cognitive Psychology. 3.

This course will address concepts, theories, research, and applications of cognitive psychology. Content areas of this course include the history of cognitive psychology, current issues in cognitive psychology, and the relationship between cognitive psychology and such fields as artificial intelligence and neuroscience. Furthermore, the course material will focus on perceptual processes, the study of memory, acquisition and use of language, reading, problem solving, creativity, reasoning, decision making, and cognitive development. Fall, even years.

Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 420. Abnormal Psychology. 3.

An overview of past and current views on the factors that contribute to the presence of abnormal behavior. Introduces the following: biological, cognitive, social, emotional, and cultural factors that influence behavior; patterns of behavior associated with different psychological disorders; current multiaxial systems of clinical diagnosis; research and methodological concerns associated with different approaches to treatment. Fall, even years.

Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 425. Learning and Motivation. 3.

This course is designed to provide an introduction to the primary empirical research areas in learning and motivation: classical conditioning, operant conditioning, verbal learning, drive theory, and the role of motives. Emphasis is on the research on conditioning and its motivational processes as the foundations for techniques in behavior modification. The course examines both the uses and limitations of current information on learning and motivation. Spring, even years.

Prerequisite: PSY 101.

PSY 435. History and Systems of Psychology. 3.

The history of psychology and how it has progressed from its ancient roots as a branch of philosophy to psychology as a separate scientific discipline. Topics include the founders of psychology and their contributions to the development of the discipline of psychology, the history of the mind-body problem, and the basis of human knowledge. Spring, odd years.

Prerequisite: PSY 101.

Note: Recommended for the upper-level psychology major only.

PSY 440. Biological Foundations of Behavior. 3.

Study of the structure and function of the nervous system and how it contributes to language, sleep, learning and memory, and abnormal behavior (such as schizophrenia and substance abuse). Fall, odd years.

Prerequisites: PSY 101; BIO 101/103.

PSY 470. Internship. 6.

Experience of working under supervision in an agency related to the student's career goals. The student is individually assigned according to the specific interest of the student. The student is evaluated by the supervisor and the course instructor and must write and present a description and analysis of the agency and of the work experience. Emphasis placed on a continuing refinement of written and oral communication skills. Fall.

Prerequisites: Senior status in the Psychology major, an overall grade point average in the major of at least 2.00, and a minimum of 80% attendance in psychology courses attempted in the junior year.

PSY 480. Individual Problems. 3.

Exploration of a topic in psychology in greater depth through an original research project that is done under the supervision of the instructor. Fall, Spring.

Note: Also offered as PSY 481 for one semester hour, and as PSY 482 for two semester hours.

PSY 490. Senior Thesis I. 3.

The student is expected to apply knowledge of psychology, experimental design, and statistics to synthesize a body of knowledge on a topic in psychology and then develop an IRB proposal for an experiment. Both lecture and seminar approaches are used to help the student work as independently as possible. The student presents an oral defense of the proposal (for an experiment or for research) to classmates. Fall.

Prerequisites: PSY 271 and an overall grade point average of at least 2.00 in the major.

PSY 499. Senior Thesis II. 3.

Continuation of PSY 490 in which the student actually conducts the research already proposed. Writing of the thesis which must include at minimum, an introduction, methods/procedures, results, discussion, and reference section, in APA style. Thesis is to be defended in an oral examination with the psychology faculty. The student may have the opportunity to present thesis at a local psychology conference. Spring.

Prerequisites: PSY 490 (completed with at least a grade of C-) and an overall grade point average of 2.00 in the major.

Faculty:

- Professor: Jones (Department Chair).
- Associate Professors: Webster, Werline (Marie and Leman Barnhill Endowed Chair in Religious Studies).

Student Organization:

Alpha Lambda Honor Society (Barton College Chapter of Theta Alpha Kappa—the national religious studies honor society).

Note: All courses listed in the requirements are three-hour courses.

Religion and Philosophy Major (B.A.) Requirements:

- Religion courses: REL 110, 123, 130, 221, 222, 450; choose one course from the following two groups: 1) REL 231, 232, 335, 336; 2) REL 320, 324; choose two courses from: REL 309, 310, 313, 315, 336 (REL 336 can only count once).
- Philosophy courses: PHI 101, 202, 203; choose one course from PHI 301, 302, 410.
- Language courses (Koine Greek or a modern language): Two courses at the intermediate level (201 and 202).

Total: 48 semester hours.

Religion and Philosophy Minor Requirements:

- Religion courses: choose two from REL 110, 123, or 130.
- Philosophy courses: choose one from PHI 101, 202, or 203.
- Any three upper-division REL or PHI courses (9 hours).

Total: 18 semester hours.

Courses of Instruction: GreekGRK 101. Elementary Greek I. 3.

A study of the syntax and morphology of Koine Greek. Fall 2010.

GRK 102. Elementary Greek II. 3.

A study of the syntax and morphology of Koine Greek. Spring 2010.

Note: Second semester continuation of GRK 101.

GRK 201. Intermediate Greek I. 3.

A study of advanced grammar of Koine Greek, with intensive reading from the New Testament, with excursions into other Greek writers. Fall 2011.

GRK 202. Intermediate Greek II. 3.

A study of advanced grammar of Koine Greek, with intensive reading from the New Testament, with excursions into other Greek writers. Spring 2011.

Note: Second semester continuation of GRK 201.

Courses of Instruction: PhilosophyPHI 101. Introduction to Reasoning and Critical Thinking. 3.

An exploration of informal fallacies, deduction and induction, syllogistic arguments, and scientific and legal thinking.

PHI 202. History of Philosophy I. 3.

A survey of Greek, Roman and medieval philosophers/theologians.

PHI 203. History of Philosophy II. 3.

A survey of developments in philosophy from Descartes to the contemporary period.

PHI 301. Contemporary Philosophy. 3.

A study of one or more of the following contemporary philosophical views/movements: Pragmatism, Existentialism, Analytical Philosophy, Logical Positivism, Marxism, and Realism.

PHI 302. Ethics. 3.

A study of classical and contemporary moral language and moral theories.

PHI 410. Western Political Theory. 3.

A review of the main currents of Western political theory from Plato to the present.

Courses of Instruction: Methods and TheoriesREL 130. Introduction to Religious Studies. 3.

This course introduces students to the vocabulary and methodologies of the academic study of religion, with special emphasis on religious experience, metaphors, action, and change.

REL 231. Religion, Society and Culture. 3.

This course examines the way in which religion both orders and is ordered by society and how it creates meaning through practice.

REL 232. Religion and Self. 3.

In this course, we will explore how different religious traditions “understand the self,” including where we come from, where we are going, what we think we are doing and why?

REL 335. Living with Dying. 3.

A study of the religious, ethical, biological, sociological, and psychological dimensions of death and dying. Ethical evaluations of life and death decisions, particularly those arising through advances in contemporary medicine.

REL 336. Health, Healing and Religion. 3.

An exploration of various perspectives on health and healing, in particular the world views that shape those perspectives. Ideas regarding sickness and techniques of healing are studied in a variety of traditional, cross-cultural, and contemporary religious contexts.

REL 450. Senior Seminar. 3.

A thesis writing, defense, and presentation exercise that shows the student has achieved appropriate skills in critical thinking and written and oral presentation as applied to a specific topic in the major.

Courses of Instruction: Global AwarenessREL 110. World Religions. 3.

An introductory study of major living religions: Judaism, Christianity, Islam, Hinduism, Buddhism, Confucianism, and Taoism.

REL 309. African American Religions. 3.

An exploration of the development of African-American religion, considering the historical roots, social and cultural dimensions, impact on American religious life and culture, and contemporary trends.

REL 310. Islam. 3.

An exploration of the development of Islam, considering historical roots, social and cultural dimensions, impact on world culture, and contemporary trends.

REL 313. Judaism. 3.

This course is an introduction to the history, theology, philosophy, practice and experience of Judaism beginning with the events leading to the codification of the Mishnah to the present. Special attention is given to two or three recent Jewish thinkers, as well as the Holocaust, issues related to modern Israel, and the depiction of Jews in contemporary media.

REL 315. Global Christianity. 3.

A study of the main global movements in Christianity in the 20th and 21st centuries.

REL 336. Health, Healing and Religion. 3.

An exploration of various perspectives on health and healing, in particular the world views that shape those perspectives. Ideas regarding sickness and techniques of healing are studied in a variety of traditional, cross-cultural, and contemporary religious contexts.

Note: Rel 336 cannot count both in Methods and Theories and Global.

Courses of Instruction: The Christian Tradition

REL 123. Historical Foundations of Christianity. 3.

This course examines the most important historical events, theological ideas, and institutional structures of the Roman Catholic, Eastern Orthodox and Protestant Christianity from the second century CE to the present.

REL 221. The Old Testament. 3.

An introduction to the history and literature of the Old Testament.

REL 222. The New Testament. 3.

An introduction to the history and literature of the New Testament.

REL 320. Topics in Biblical Studies. 3.

This course will explore a specific topic in Biblical Studies in more depth. Focus will be given to issues of methodology and research.

REL 324. Movements, Mystics and Messiahs in Christian History. 3.

This course examines selected historical movements and persons sometimes judged to be on the fringe of the church, as well as selected examples of the forms of Christianity practiced by average believers.

Note: Each set of double course numbers represents a lecture course/laboratory course combination. The credit hours for each course in the requirements are listed in the parentheses.

Biology Major (B.A.) Requirements:

- Biology courses: BIO 101/103 (3/1), 102/104 (3/1), 201/203 (3/1), 206/208 (3/1), 219 (4), 302/304 (3/1), 303/305 (3/1), 306/308 (3/1), 307/309 (3/1), and either 005 (4), 006 (4), or 007 (4).
- Chemistry courses: CHE 151/153 (3/1), 200/201 (3/1).
- Science courses: SCI 382/482 (1).
- Elective courses: four hours in the biological and physical sciences.
- Research or internship experience. The specifics of the internship or research experience are to be submitted to, and approved by, the Department of Science and Mathematics prior to starting the internship or research. The internship or research must be clearly connected with biology and carry not less than two hours credit.

Total: 53 semester hours.

Biology Major (B.S.) Requirements:

- Biology courses: BIO 101/103 (3/1), 102/104 (3/1), 201/203 (3/1), 210 (2), 211 (2), 315/317 (3/1).
- Choose one group: Animal Group BIO 302/304 (3/1) and 303/305 (3/1), or Plant Group 306/308 (3/1) and 307/309 (3/1).
- Biology electives (8): two 300- or 400-level course.
- Chemistry courses: CHE 151/153 (3/1), 152/154 (3/1), 311/313 (3/1), 312/314 (3/1).
- Science courses: SCI 382/482 (1).
- Physics courses: PHY 130/131 (3/1).
- Mathematics courses: MTH 150 or 170 (4), and 250.
- Research or internship experience. The specifics of the internship or research experience are to be submitted to, and approved by, the Department of Science and Mathematics prior to starting the internship or research. The internship or research must be clearly connected with biology and carry not less than two hours credit.

Total: 63-64 semester hours.

Biology Minor Requirements:

- Biology courses: 18 hours.
Total: 18 semester hours.

Chemistry Majors (B.A.) Requirements:

- Chemistry courses: CHE 151/153 (3/1), 152/154 (3/1), 300/301 (3/1), 311/313 (3/1), 312/314 (3/1), 400/401 (3/2).
- Biology course: BIO 101/103 (3/1).
- Choose one lecture/laboratory combination from BIO 102/104 (3/1), 201/203 (3/1), 206/208 (3/1), or CHE 327/329 (3/1).
- Science courses: SCI 382/482 (1).
- Physics courses: PHY 130/131 (3/1), 132/133 (3/1).
- Mathematics course: MTH 170 (4).
- Research or internship experience. The specific of the internship or research experience are to be submitted to, and approved by, the Department of Science and Mathematics prior to starting the internship or research. The internship or research must be clearly connected with chemistry and carry not less than two hours credit.
Total: 46 semester hours.

Chemistry Majors (B.S.) Requirements:

- Chemistry courses: CHE 151/153 (3/1), 152/154 (3/1), 300/301 (3/1), 311/313 (3/1), 312/314 (3/1), 327/329 (3/1), 400/401 (3/2), 421 (3), 450/451 (3/2).
- Biology course: BIO 101/103 (3/1).
- Science courses: SCI 382/482 (1).
- Physics courses: PHY 130/131 (3/1), 132/133 (3/1).
- Mathematics course: MTH 270 (4).
- Research or internship experience. The specific of the internship or research experience are to be submitted to, and approved by, the Department of Science and Mathematics prior to starting the internship or research. The internship or research must be clearly connected with chemistry and carry not less than two hours credit.
Total: 54 semester hours.

Chemistry Minor Requirements:

- Chemistry courses: CHE 151/153 (3/1), 152/154 (3/1), 300/301 (3/1), and 311/313 (3/1).
Total: 16 semester hours.

Note: Please see page 65 regarding “a minor in a field closely related to the academic major.”

Environmental Science Major (B.S.) Requirements:

- Biology courses: BIO 101/103 (3/1), 102/104 (3/1), 201/203 (3/1), 206/208 (3/1), 318/320 (3/1), 402/403 (3/1).
- Chemistry courses: CHE 151/153 (3/1), 152/154 (3/1), 200/201 (3/1), 300/301 (3/1).

- Physics course: PHY 130/131 (3/1).
- Mathematics courses: MTH 150 (3), 250 (3).
- Science courses: SCI 382/482 (1).
- Research or internship experience. The specific of the internship or research experience are to be submitted to, and approved by, the Department of Science and Mathematics prior to starting the internship or research. The internship or research must be clearly connected with chemistry and carry not less than two hours credit.

Total: 53 semester hours.

Mathematics Major (B.A.) Requirements:

- Mathematics courses: MTH 170 (4), 250, 260, 270 (4), 320, 340, 370 (4), 420.
- Mathematics electives: three hours from courses numbered 220 or above; CIS 201 or 202.
- Modern language: six hours at the intermediate level (201 and 202).

Total: 36 semester hours.

Mathematics Major (B.S.) Requirements:

- Mathematics courses: MTH 170 (4), 250, 260, 270 (4), 320, 340, 370 (4), 420.
- Mathematics electives: nine hours from courses numbered 220 or above; CIS 201 or 202.
- Physical Science courses: choose either CHE 151/153 (3/1), 152/154 (3/1), or PHY 130/131 (3/1), 132/133 (3/1).

Total: 44 semester hours.

Mathematics Minor Requirements:

- Required Mathematics courses: MTH 150, 170 (4), 270 (4).
- Mathematics elective courses: Choose three from: MTH 250, 260, 320, 340, 370 (4), 390, 410, 420, 430.

Total: 20-21 semester hours.

Preparatory Program for Engineering

The student planning to apply to an engineering program would complete the three-year Pre-engineering Program at Barton College. The College has worked out articulation agreements allowing the transfer of pre-engineering courses to the following institutions: North Carolina State University, North Carolina A&T State University, and the University of North Carolina at Charlotte.

Earning a Barton College Degree after Entering an Engineering Program

Upon completion of at least two additional years in another institution's engineering program, the student would receive a degree in engineering from that institution in addition to a degree in mathematics from Barton College.

Pre-Engineering Program Requirements:

- Mathematics Courses: MTH 170 (4), 270 (4), 370 (4), 420; choose one from MTH 260 or 320.
- Computer Science course: CIS 201.
- Chemistry courses: CHE 151/153 (3/1), 152/154 (3/1).
- Physics courses: PHY 220/221 (3/1), 222/223 (3/1).

Total: 37 semester hours.

All science majors are required to complete an internship/research project prior to graduation. In preparation for this experience, students will take SCI 382: Internship/Research Preview for one half semester hour credit. This course will assist them in selecting and completing their projects. Upon project completion, students will enroll in SCI 482: Internship/Research Reflection for one half semester hour credit.

Pre-Professional Advising

The student planning to apply to medical, dental, pharmacy, veterinary, optometry, medical technology, chiropractic, or physical therapy professional schools, normally pursues a degree in biology or chemistry. It is important to know and meet the requirements set by the professional school to which one is applying. The student is advised by faculty in the Department of Science and Mathematics.

Degree Awarded to Those Entering Professional School

In rare cases, a highly qualified candidate may be allowed to enter a professional school without first completing a baccalaureate degree. Upon recommendation of the Department of Science and Mathematics, a student may be awarded a degree in either Biology or Chemistry, after successfully completing one academic year at a post-baccalaureate professional school if: The student passed a minimum of 92 semester hours at Barton College prior to attending the professionally school, completed all the requirements of the General College Core, and completed all major requirements for Biology and Chemistry. The academic year of full-time professional courses are transferred to Barton College as 32 semester hours. Those credits may be used to meet the requirement for electives outside of one's major. Professional school courses can be substituted for major requirements at the discretion of the Department of Science and Mathematics. Grades earned in the professional school are used in calculating the grade point average for honors.

Courses of Instruction: Biology

BIO 004. Tropical Ecology. 4.

Tropical plants and animals are observed in their natural habitat and, when possible, are returned to the laboratory for more in-depth examination, identification, and preservation. Adaptations to diverse environments are emphasized. Class meets on campus prior to departure for study of the culture and survey of the environmental and organismal types of the specific site to be visited. When appropriate, course includes snorkeling practice. January term.

BIO 005. Exploring the North Carolina Coast. 4.

A field study of the distribution and adaptations of plants and animals in the coastal rivers, sounds, and barrier islands of the North Carolina coast. Involves daily field trips for observations and collections. Summer only.

Prerequisite: None, but some prior study and understanding of plant and animal taxonomy is presumed.

Note: Limited enrollment; open only by application to the department.

BIO 006. Exploring the North Carolina Mountains. 4.

A field study of the distribution and adaptations of plants and animals in the valleys, slopes, streams, and ponds of the North Carolina mountains. Involves daily field trips for observation and collection. Summer only.

Prerequisite: None, but some prior study and understanding of plant and animal taxonomy is presumed.

Note: Limited enrollment; open only by application to the department.

BIO 007. Exploring the North Carolina Coastal Plain. 4.

A field study of the distribution and adaptations of plants and animals in varied coastal plain habitats. Involves daily field trips for observation and collection. Summer only.

Prerequisite: None, but some prior study and understanding of plant and animal taxonomy is presumed.

Note: Limited enrollment; open only by application to the department.

BIO 101. Principles of Biology I. 3.

An introduction to the concepts and principles of biological science; the course includes a survey of life processes and life forms which is an introduction to the diverse fields of biological studies.

Corequisite: BIO 103.

BIO 102. Principles of Biology II. 3.

An introductory course on the origin, evolution, and diversity of life on earth. Majority of course involves a survey of viruses and other acellular lifeforms, bacteria, fungi, plants, and animals.

Prerequisite: BIO 101/103.

Corequisite: BIO 104.

BIO 103. Principles of Biology Laboratory I. 1.

Introduction in the use of basic laboratory techniques and experimental design in understanding biological principles. Fall, Spring.

Corequisite: BIO 101.

Note: One four-hour laboratory period per week.

BIO 104. Principles of Biology Laboratory II. 1.

Laboratory that is the second semester continuation of BIO 103. Spring.

Corequisite: BIO 102.

Note: One four-hour laboratory period per week.

BIO 105. General Botany. 3.

A brief survey of the plant kingdom, emphasizing the structure and function of the flowering plant.

Corequisite: BIO 107.

BIO 106. General Zoology. 3.

A survey of the animal kingdom.

Corequisite: BIO 108.

BIO 107. General Botany Laboratory. 1.

Laboratory exercises to accompany General Botany.

Corequisite: BIO 105.

Note: One four-hour laboratory period per week.

BIO 108. General Zoology Laboratory. 1.

Laboratory exercises to accompany General Zoology.

Corequisite: BIO 106.

Note: One four-hour laboratory period per week.

BIO 111. Topics in Biology – Human. 3.

Life processes, unique and common, that humans share with other animals, will be explored using a systems approach. Emphasis will be placed on issues of health and disease.

BIO 112. Topics in Biology – Ecology. 3.

An introduction to basic ecological principles and how they apply to the human population.

Environmental implications and solutions will be considered. Fall and/or Spring.

BIO 113. Topics in Biology – Human Laboratory. 1.

A laboratory component or corequisite for BIO 111, Human Biology. Includes a hands-on application of lecture concepts in human biology.

BIO 114. Topics in Biology – Ecology Laboratory. 1.

This laboratory course is a corequisite for BIO 112, Topics in Biology-Ecology. Students will have hands-on experience with concepts discussed in class in order to demonstrate basic ecological principles of population, community and ecosystems. This will include some local field trips as well.

BIO 201. Introductory Ecology. 3.

An introduction to ecological principles and concepts with emphasis on study of eastern North Carolina ecosystems. Fall.

Prerequisite: BIO 102/104.

Corequisite: BIO 203.

BIO 203. Introductory Ecology Laboratory. 1.

Field and laboratory exercises to accompany Introductory Ecology. Fall.

Corequisite: BIO 201.

Note: Three hours per week.

BIO 206. Introductory Microbiology. 3.

Introduction to the biology of microorganisms with an emphasis on bacteria. Special attention is given to the ways microbes harm and help humans. Fall, Spring.

Prerequisite: BIO 101/103 or CHE 200/201.

Corequisite: BIO 208.

BIO 208. Introductory Microbiology Laboratory. 1.

Introduction to the basic techniques of the microbiology laboratory, including microscopy. Fall, Spring.

Corequisite: BIO 206.

Note: Three hours per week.

BIO 210. Molecular Genetics. 2.

An introduction to the in vivo function, in vitro study, and in vitro manipulation of genes. Spring.

Prerequisite: BIO 101/103.

Note: Three lecture and two laboratory hours per week for half a semester.

BIO 211. Mendelian Genetics. 2.

Introduction to the study of the pattern of inheritance in plants and animals. Laboratory using Drosophila included. Spring.

Prerequisite: BIO 101/103.

Note: Three lecture and two laboratory hours per week for half a semester.

BIO 219. Human Anatomy and Physiology. 4.

A study of the basic structure and physiology of human systems. Fall.

Prerequisite: BIO 101/103.

Note: Four lecture and two laboratory/discussion/demonstration hours per week.

BIO 302. Invertebrate Zoology. 3.

A survey of major and selected minor invertebrate phyla. Fall, odd years.

Prerequisite: BIO 102/104.

Corequisite: BIO 304.

BIO 303. Vertebrate Zoology. 3.

A survey of the vertebrates with an emphasis on evolution adaptation and classification. Spring, even years.

Prerequisite: BIO 102/104.

Corequisite: BIO 305.

BIO 304. Invertebrate Zoology Laboratory. 1.

Laboratory dissection and a personal collection required. Fall, odd years.

Corequisite: BIO 302.

BIO 305. Vertebrate Zoology Laboratory. 1.

Laboratory emphasis on field collecting, identification and natural history of North Carolina species. Spring, even years.

Corequisite: BIO 303.

Note: Field trip participation required. Three laboratory hours per week.

BIO 306. Nonvascular Plants. 3.

A survey of the lower and higher non-vascular plants. Fall, even years.

Prerequisite: BIO 102/104.

Corequisite: BIO 308.

BIO 307. Vascular Plants. 3.

A study of the organization of the tissue in the lower and higher vascular plants, selected life cycles and a recognition and identification of selected families of Gymnospermae and Angiospermae. Spring, odd years.

Prerequisite: BIO 102/104.

Corequisite: BIO 309.

BIO 308. Nonvascular Plants Laboratory. 1.

Field collecting, identifying, and culturing of selected divisions of plants. Individual experiences requiring collecting and identifying. Fall, even years.

Corequisite: BIO 306.

Note: Day and weekend field trips are an integral part of the course and participation is required. Three laboratory hours per week.

BIO 309. Vascular Plants Laboratory. 1.

Individual experiences requiring collection and identification. Spring, odd years.

Corequisite: BIO 307.

Note: Day and weekend field trips are an integral part of the course and participation is required. Three laboratory hours per week.

BIO 311. Structure and Function in Man I. 3.

A study of the anatomy and physiology of the systems in man. Fall.

Prerequisite: CHE 200/201 or BIO 101/103.

Corequisite: BIO 313.

BIO 312. Structure and Function in Man II. 3.

Second semester continuation of BIO 311. Spring.

Prerequisite: BIO 311/313.

Corequisite: BIO 314.

BIO 313. Structure and Function in Man I Laboratory. 1.

Laboratory exercises to accompany Structure and Function in Man I. Fall.

Corequisite: BIO 311.

Note: Three laboratory hours per week.

BIO 314. Structure and Function in Man II Laboratory. 1.

Laboratory exercises to accompany Structure and Function in Man II. Spring.

Corequisite: BIO 312.

BIO 315. Cell Biology. 3.

Studies of the life processes of cells with an emphasis on cell signalling and cancer development. Spring.

Prerequisite: BIO 206/208.

Corequisite: BIO 317.

BIO 317. Cell Biology Laboratory. 1.

Laboratory exercises to accompany BIO 315 - Cell Biology including application of the scientific method to experimental design.

Corequisite: BIO 315.

BIO 318. Environmental Biology. 3.

An examination of the role of environmental factors in the morphological and physiological specializations of living organisms. Emphasis on the biotic responses to specific environmental conditions. Fall, every other year.

Prerequisite: BIO 102/104.

Corequisite: BIO 320.

BIO 319. Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy. 3.

A study of the evolutionary development of vertebrates based on a comparative study of homologous anatomical features.

Prerequisite: BIO 102/104.

Corequisite: BIO 321.

BIO 320. Environmental Biology Laboratory. 1.

Laboratory studies of specific anatomical and physiological characteristics of plants and animals as a reinforcement of the concept of the environment as a selective force in organic evolution. Fall, every other year.

Corequisite: BIO 318.

Note: Three laboratory hours per week.

BIO 321. Comparative Vertebrate Anatomy Laboratory. 1.

Laboratory studies that concentrate on Branchiostoma, Squalus, Necturus, and the rabbit or cat.

Corequisite: BIO 319.

Note: Three laboratory hours per week.

BIO 402. Methods of Environmental Analysis and Assessment. 3.

A survey of the theory and practice of sampling and measurement of the physical, chemical, and biological components of environments. Emphasis placed on the theoretical and technical aspects of evaluating environmental factors. Spring, odd years.

Prerequisites: BIO 102/104, 201/203, 206/208; CHE 300/301; MTH 250.

Corequisite: BIO 403.

BIO 403. Methods of Environmental Analysis and Assessment Laboratory. 1.

Laboratory exercises in practical methods and techniques of environmental measurement. Spring, odd years.

Corequisite: BIO 402.

BIO 404. Animal Behavior. 3.

Course investigates the patterns of behavior among a variety of animal species. Includes discussions of the physiological and genetic influences on behavior and thorough investigations of specific areas of behavior such as communication, reproduction, aggression, and parental behavior. Spring, even years.

Prerequisites: BIO 101/103 and PSY 101.

BIO 406. Animal Behavior Laboratory. 1.

The laboratory section will allow the students to examine different animals in natural and enclosed settings. Students will experience firsthand some of the research techniques utilized in the field of animal behavior. In addition, field trips will allow students to observe many of the behaviors studied in class in a variety of species.

Corequisite: BIO 404.

BIO 480. Individual Problems in Biology. 3.

Individual research chosen by the student, subject to the approval of the instructor. The student must petition the Department of Science and Mathematics for permission to register for this course prior to registration for the following semester. The petition must include an outline or summary of the proposed problem, stating the subject, purpose, and suggested methods and techniques; and it must include the number of semester hours to be completed in course.

Note: Also listed as BIO 481 for one semester hour, and as BIO 482 for two semester hours.

Courses of Instruction: ChemistryCHE 151. General College Chemistry I. 3.

A guided inquiry approach to the basic concepts of inorganic chemistry with emphasis on stoichiometry of chemical reactions of solids, solutions, and gases, atomic and molecular structure, chemical bonding, and thermochemistry. Fall.

Prerequisite: Placement in MTH 130.

Corequisite: Placement in CHE 153.

CHE 152. General College Chemistry II. 3.

Emphasis on equilibria, kinetics, acid-base reactions, electrochemical reactions, and elementary thermodynamics. Spring.

Prerequisite: CHE 151.

Corequisite: CHE 154.

CHE 153. General Chemistry Laboratory I. 1.

A cooperative chemistry approach in which students, working in groups, formulate their own directions to discover the identity and properties of compounds.

Corequisite: CHE 151.

Note: One three-hour laboratory per week.

CHE 154. General Chemistry Laboratory II. 1.

Introduces spectrophotometric methods, the pH meter, and selected methods of analysis. Spring.

Prerequisite: CHE 153.

Corequisite: CHE 152.

Note: One three-hour laboratory per week.

CHE 200. Fundamentals of Organic and Biochemistry. 3.

Designed for students in the allied health areas, but a valuable short course for anyone requiring basic knowledge of organic chemistry and biochemistry. Spring.

Prerequisite: High school chemistry or equivalent.

CHE 201. Fundamental Organic Laboratory. 1.

The basic techniques and procedures used in demonstrating the properties of organic compounds and biological molecules. Spring.

Corequisite: CHE 200.

Note: One two-hour laboratory period per week. Pass/Fail grading.

CHE 300. Introductory Analytical Chemistry. 3.

An introductory-level survey of the basic theory and techniques of analytical chemistry. Emphasis placed on the scope of analytical methods and their application to the areas of chemistry, biology and the clinical sciences. Fall.

Prerequisite: CHE 152.

Corequisite: CHE 301.

CHE 301. Analytical Laboratory. 1.

A basic analytical laboratory program designed to develop skills necessary for standard analytical procedures frequently encountered. Includes some basic instrumental techniques. Fall.

Corequisite: CHE 300.

Note: One three-hour laboratory period per week.

CHE 311. Organic Chemistry I. 3.

A guided inquiry approach to the chemistry of carbon containing compounds. Topics include nomenclature, the relationships of structure to physical and chemical properties, organic mechanisms, stereochemistry conformational analysis, methods of synthesis, and characteristic reactions. Includes interpretation of IR and NMR spectra. Fall.

Prerequisite: CHE 152.

Corequisite: CHE 313.

CHE 312. Organic Chemistry II. 3.

A guided inquiry approach to the study of nomenclature, properties, synthesis, and reactions of organic compounds containing oxygen and nitrogen, including biomolecules. Spring.

Prerequisite: CHE 311/313.

Corequisite: CHE 314.

Note: Second semester continuation of CHE 311.

CHE 313. Organic Laboratory I. 1.

A green chemistry approach to laboratory exercises including methods for the determination of physical properties, separation, purification, and synthesis of organic compounds. Fall.

Corequisite: CHE 311.

Note: One three-hour laboratory period per week.

CHE 314. Organic Laboratory II. 1.

A green chemistry approach to laboratory exercises including synthesis of structures containing oxygen and nitrogen, application of IR and NMR spectra, and multi-step projects. Spring.

Corequisite: CHE 312.

Note: One three-hour laboratory period per week.

CHE 327. Biochemistry. 3.

A study of the structure and properties of biological molecules, metabolism, enzymes, and kinetics of enzyme reactions. Fall, odd years.

Prerequisites: BIO 101 and CHE 312.

CHE 329. Biochemistry Laboratory. 1.

Laboratory exercises in analytical methods for the isolation and purification of biological materials, and studies of enzymatic reactions. Fall, odd years.

Prerequisite: CHE 312/313.

Corequisite: CHE 327.

CHE 400. Physical Chemistry I. 3.

Studies of the major principles of physical chemistry with introductory material on thermodynamics, equilibrium, and related topics. Fall, odd years.

Prerequisites: PHY 132, MTH 170 (270 preferred).

Pre or Corequisite: CHE 300.

CHE 401. Physical Chemistry Laboratory. 2.

Studies of the physical properties of materials. Specific applications involve gas laws, calorimetry, rate law, and other properties of chemical and physical systems. Fall, odd years.

Corequisite: CHE 400.

Note: One hour of instruction and three hours of laboratory per week.

CHE 421. Physical Chemistry II. 3.

Study of the structure of matter; presents both classical and modern theories of bonding. Other topics include molecular orbital theory, theoretical spectroscopy and kinetics. Spring, even years.

Prerequisites: CHE 400 and MTH 370.

CHE 450. Analytical Instrumentation. 3.

Practical studies of modern chemical instrumentation with applications in separation sciences, identification, and quantification. Spring, even years.

Prerequisites: CHE 300, PHY 132/133.

CHE 451. Techniques of Instrumentation. 2.

Study of the applications of the common analytical instruments covering spectroscopy (UV, Visible, IR), and chromatography (GC, HPLC). Spring, even years.

Corequisite: CHE 450.

Note: One hour of lecture and one three-hour laboratory period per week.

CHE 480. Individual Problems in Chemistry. 3.

Application and practice of information or methods contained in the courses offered in the chemistry major. In consultation with chemistry instructor, a project may be designed that is to student's ability.

Note: Also listed as CHE 481 for one semester hour and as CHE 482 for two semester hours.

Courses of Instruction: Mathematics

MTH 100. Fundamentals of Algebra. 3.

Course prepares the student for college level computational skills by focusing on elementary algebraic operations. Topics include properties and operations of real numbers, equations, inequalities, polynomials, and graphing. Fall, Spring.

Note: This course does not count toward fulfillment of the Computational Proficiency Requirement of the General College Core. This course is for institutional credit only; credit hours do not apply toward the graduation requirement.

MTH 120. Finite Mathematics. 3.

Covers the techniques used in decision making in a diversity of disciplines. Emphasis is on applications and problem solving by focusing on the process of mathematical modeling and on analyzing the models. The use of a graphing calculator is required. Fall, Spring.

Prerequisite: MTH 100 or Level II placement.

Note: Satisfies the General College Core requirement in Computational Proficiency. Students who earn credit for MTH 130 may not also earn credit for MTH 120. Use of graphing calculator is required.

MTH 130. College Algebra. 3.

Covers properties and operations on real numbers, linear equations in one variable, operations on polynomials and quadratic equations, simplifying rational expressions, solving polynomial and rational equations, graphing equations and conic sections, functions and their graphs, solving systems of equations and inequalities, and exponential and logarithmic functions. Fall, Spring.

Prerequisite: MTH 100 or Level II placement.

Note: Satisfies the General College Core requirement in Computational Proficiency. Students who earn credit for MTH 130 may not also earn credit for MTH 120. Use of graphing calculator is required.

MTH 150. Trigonometry and Advanced Algebraic Topics. 3.

Course designed for the student having a good background in algebra and preparing for enrollment in calculus. Emphasis on fundamental concepts of sine, cosine, tangent, their graphical representations, and applications involving the trigonometric functions and vectors. Explorations of solutions of right and oblique triangles, trigonometric identities, and trigonometric equations. Also, exploration of advanced algebraic topics including complex number theory, matrix algebra, and analytical geometry. Fall, Spring.

Prerequisite: MTH 120 or 130.

Note: A student who has already received credit for MTH 170 may not enroll in this course.

MTH 170. Calculus I, Differential Calculus. 4.

A study of differential calculus of algebraic, trigonometric, and transcendental functions, including a brief introduction to antiderivatives. Fall only.

Prerequisite: MTH 150 (or equivalent).

MTH 210. Fundamental Concepts of Mathematics. 3.

A study of number systems structured characteristics, axiomatic and logical foundations; systematic development of the integers, rational numbers, real numbers, real numbers properties, and informal geometry. Fall, Spring.

Prerequisite: MTH 120 or 130 (or equivalent).

Note: MTH 210 does not count toward the completion of the requirements for a major or minor in mathematics.

MTH 250. Statistical Concepts. 3.

A first course in probability and statistics for the student majoring in any of the academic disciplines. Emphasis on general descriptive statistics, fundamental concepts and procedures of statistical inference. Course serves as a foundation for further study of hypothesis testing techniques applicable to individual disciplines. Fall, Spring.

Prerequisite: MTH 120 or 130 (or equivalent).

Note: To receive credit for this course, the student may not take MGT 210.

MTH 260. Discrete Mathematics I. 3.

An introduction to discrete mathematics, logic, set theory, summation and product notation, relations, matrices, functions, binomial theorem, counting principles, and an introduction to graph theory. Course is intended to develop abstract reasoning skills necessary in mathematics and computer science. Spring.

Prerequisite: MTH 120 or 130 (or equivalent).

MTH 270. Calculus II, Integral Calculus. 4.

A study of integral calculus of algebraic, trigonometric, and transcendental functions, including indeterminate forms, improper integrals, and infinite series. Spring.*

Prerequisite: MTH 170.

MTH 320. Introduction to Linear Algebra. 3.

An introductory course in linear algebra covering the following topics: systems of linear equations, matrices, determinants, vectors, vector spaces, eigenvalues, and linear transformations.

Prerequisite: MTH 170.

MTH 340. Elements of Modern Geometry. 3.

A critical study of Euclidean geometry from a postulational standpoint and an introduction to non-Euclidean geometries. Spring, odd years.*

Prerequisite: MTH 260.

MTH 360. Discrete Mathematics II. 3.

Continues the topics of MTH 260. Focus on graphs, trees, algorithms, Boolean algebras and other algebraic structures. Fall, even years.*

Prerequisite: MTH 120 or 130.

MTH 370. Calculus III, Multivariate Calculus. 4.

An advanced study of differential and integral calculus in n -space. Includes a study of vector calculus including line integrals, Greens' Theorem, and Stokes Theorem. Fall, even years.*

Prerequisite: MTH 270.

MTH 390. Mathematical Statistics. 3.

A foundation in statistical theory providing an indication of the relevance and importance of the theory in solving practical problems in the real world. Continuous and discrete data taken from both samples and populations are considered. Various distributions including binomial, normal, poisson, geometric, and the multinomial are studied along with their applications. Fall, odd years.*

Prerequisite: MTH 270.

MTH 410. Elementary Theory of Numbers. 3.

Topics from elementary number theory; properties of integers, Diophantine equations, congruences, and quadratic residues. Fall, odd years.*

Prerequisite: MTH 260.

MTH 420. Ordinary Differential Equations. 3.

A study of solution techniques and applications of ordinary equations including first-order equations, linear differential equations, series solutions, and basic concepts of numerical and graphical techniques applied to equations and systems. Spring, odd years.*

Prerequisite: MTH 270.

MTH 430. Introduction to Modern Algebra. 3.

An exploration about algebraic structures. Detailed study of groups and an introduction to rings. Fall, odd years.*

Prerequisite: MTH 260.

MTH 480. Individual Problems in Mathematics. 3.

Individual research chosen by the student with guidance by a faculty member, subject to approval by the Chair of the Department. Results to be presented at a seminar of the department (staff and interested students).

Note: Also offered as MTH 481 for one semester hour, and as MTH 482 for two semester hours.

* On demand only.

Courses of Instruction: PhysicsPHY 130. General Physics I. 3.

A general physics course which is non-calculus based. Includes a study of motion, forces, heat, and elementary concepts of thermodynamics. Although this is non-calculus based course, the student should have command of algebra and a basic knowledge of trigonometry. Fall.

Prerequisite: MTH 150 (or equivalent).

Corequisite: PHY 131.

PHY 131. General Physics I Laboratory. 1.

Fall.

Corequisite: PHY 130.

Note: Three hours of laboratory per week.

PHY 132. General Physics II. 3.

Includes a study of electricity and magnetism, wave motion, electromagnetic radiation, and optics. Spring.

Prerequisite: PHY 130/131.

Corequisite: PHY 133.

PHY 133. General Physics II Laboratory. 1.

Spring.

Corequisite: PHY 132.

Note: Three hours of laboratory per week.

PHY 220. College Physics I. 3.

The fundamental laws of mechanics, sound, and heat presented at a level appropriate for the student planning a career in engineering.

Prerequisite: MTH 270.

PHY 221. College Physics Laboratory I. 1.

Corequisite: PHY 220.

PHY 222. College Physics II. 3.

The basic principles of electricity, magnetism, and optics. Presented at a level appropriate for the student planning a career in engineering.

Prerequisite: PHY 220/221.

PHY 223. College Physics Laboratory II. 1.

Corequisite: PHY 222.

Courses of Instruction: General ScienceSCI 101. Physical Science. 2.

Survey course of physics and chemistry, covering basic concepts. Spring.

Prerequisite: Mathematics Placement Level II.

Note: Three hours of lecture per week. Not open to a student selecting CHE 151/153.

SCI 102. Introduction to Earth Science. 2.

An introduction to earth system science and environmental change, exploring natural processes of and human influences on the lithosphere, atmosphere, hydrosphere, and biosphere. Fall.

Note: Two hours of lecture per week.

SCI 110. Topics in Science. 4.

This course is designed to teach the use of the scientific method including designing an experiment, data collection, data analysis, data presentation and experimental critique. The content of the course topic will be current issues in science from a variety of fields including biology, chemistry, physics and environmental science. The topic of the course will change depending upon the instructor, but will emphasize critical thinking through assignments, projects, and tests. Hands-on experience primarily in the application of the scientific method will be incorporated into a weekly laboratory portion.

SCI 301. Earth Science – Physical Geography. 4.

A study of the distributions of the natural phenomena of the earth's surface and the atmosphere. The laboratory is devoted to using and interpreting published weather data, weather maps, topographic and geologic maps, and aerial photographs.

Prerequisite: SCI 102.

SCI 330. Meteorological Weather Studies. 4.

This hybrid online course is designed as an introductory weather course that focuses on an atmospheric field trip as students explore weather maps, satellite/radar imagery, daily weather summaries, and learning investigations key to the day's weather. Topics will be learned by examining real-time weather data.

SCI 382. Internship/Research Preview. 1/2.

This course is designed to prepare students for the internship/research experience. This includes information concerning professionalism, preparing a resume, decorum, policies, and ethical procedures. Students will also observe presentations by other students who have already completed internship/research projects.

SCI 470. Internship in Science. 3.

An internship position utilizing skills and concepts learned through major course work. Internships may include, but are not limited to, laboratories, museums, animal care facilities, department of health, and treatment plants.

Prerequisite: SCI 382.

Note 1: Minimum of 10 on-site work hours per week (or the equivalent in summer). Course is also offered as SCI 472 for two semester hours.

Note 2: Must have junior or senior status in science majors.

SCI 482. Internship/Research Reflection. 1/2.

This course is designed for students to share their experience of the internship/research projects. Students will discuss pitfalls, changes they have made, and positive and negative aspects of their experience.

Prerequisite: SCI 382.

Dean:

J. Steven Fulks.

Major and Minor Degree Programs

- Criminal Justice and Criminology: B.S. degree; minor.
- Gerontology: B.S. degree; minor/certificate program.
- Social Work: B.S.W. degree.

Faculty:

- Professor: Groskin.
- Associate Professors: Conklin, Fulks, Perry-Brandon.
- Assistant Professor: Diamond.
- Visiting Associate Professor: Shingleton.

Student Organizations:

Alpha Phi Sigma, Criminal Justice Society of Barton College-Lambda Alpha Epsilon-Sigma Chi Alpha Chapter.

Note: All courses listed in the requirements are three-hour courses except where noted with a number in parenthesis. Each set of double course numbers represents a letter course/laboratory course combination.

Criminal Justice and Criminology Major (B.S.) Requirements

- Liberal arts courses: BIO 101/103 (3/1); POL 101, 202; PSY 101, SOC 101, SWK 345.
- Criminal Justice and Criminology courses: CJC 101, 230, 240, 310, 320, 323, 330, 355, 410 and 415 or 420.

Choose one concentration:

General Criminal Justice and Criminology Concentration:

- Criminal Justice and Criminology courses: CJC 451 (2), 452 (10).

Total: 61 semester hours for Criminal Justice and Criminology with General Concentration.

Law Enforcement Concentration:

- Criminal Justice and Criminology courses: CJC 451 (2), 459 (14).
For the lifelong education student, the following courses are substituted for 459 and 451: CJC 453 (7), 455 (1), 456 (7), and 458 (1).
Total: 65 semester hours for Criminal Justice and Criminology with Law Enforcement Concentration.

Criminal Justice and Criminology Minor Requirements:

- Criminal Justice and Criminology courses: CJC 101 (or 230).
- Criminal Justice and Criminology elective courses: choose two from CJC 230, 240, 310, 320, and 355; and choose two from CJC 323, 330, 410, 415, 420, and 440.
- Social Work course: SWK 345.
Total: 18 semester hours.

Gerontology Major (B.S.) Requirements:

- Biology course: BIO 111/113 (3/1).
- Gerontology courses: GRN 101, 240, 330, 440, 470 (9).
- Nursing courses: NUR 335, 346.
- Psychology courses: PSY 101, 230.
- Religion course: REL 335.
- Social Work courses: SWK 101, 320, 321.
- Statistics (MTH 250 or MGT 210).
Total: 52 semester hours.

Gerontology Minor/Certificate Program Requirements:

- Gerontology course: GRN 101.
- Interdisciplinary courses - choose five: GRN 240, 330, 440, 471, 480; NUR 335, 346; PSY 230; REL 335.
Total: 18 semester hours.

Social Work Major (B.S.W.) Requirements:

- Liberal arts courses: SWK/SOC 101; POL 101 (or POL 202); PSY 101; BIO 101/103 (3/1) [or BIO 111/113 (3/1)].
- Social Work courses: SWK 201, 210, 220 310, 320, 321, 328, 345, 428, 429, 450 (10), 451 (2).
For the Lifelong Education student, the following courses are substituted for 450 and 451: SWK 452 (5), 453 (1), 454 (5), 455 (1).
- Social Work elective: one course from approved list.
- Successful completion of admission requirements for the major.
Total: 58 semester hours.

Note: The primary educational objective of the major is the preparation of a student for beginning-level social work practice. Within the framework of a liberal arts education, social work courses embrace the generalist model with a continuous emphasis on the importance of evaluating social work intervention. The Social Work Program at Barton is fully accredited by the Council on Social Work Education. Upon completion of the curriculum, the student has the knowledge, skills and values to enable work in a variety of settings.

Mission of the Social Work Program

The Barton College Social Work Program is committed to the pursuit of excellence in the teaching and the development of competent, ethical social workers. Through coursework, advisement, role modeling and mentoring, faculty and staff in the program engage students in a quest to become more humanistic and holistic in their professional practice. The development of sensitivity, understanding, and ethical responsibility is meshed with a foundation based upon the scientific method. Lifelong self-reflection and the pursuit of new knowledge are promoted. Success in the program implies a graduate who is well educated, has a highly developed social conscience, a self-perception as a global citizen and is optimistic about the role he/she will have in contributing to the enhancement of life for all clients.

Goals of the Social Work Program

The goals of the Barton College Social Work Program are to:

- 1) Prepare baccalaureate level students for entry level, generalist practice with individuals, families, groups, organizations, and communities.
- 2) Prepare students to work with diverse populations.
- 3) Assist students to develop professionally.
- 4) Encourage students to become responsive to new technologies and advancements in social work and related fields.
- 5) Encourage students to use their social work knowledge, values, and skills to enhance the quality of the social work environment in the communities in which they practice.

Objectives of the Social Work Program

Upon completion of the social work curriculum, students will be able to:

- 1) Practice according to the values and ethics of the social work program.
- 2) Think critically about problematic situations with systems of all sizes.
- 3) Focus on the person-environment and transactions.
- 4) Demonstrate a commitment to justice and equality.
- 5) Demonstrate successful use of writing, oral communication, and computer skills.
- 6) Analyze the impact of social policies.
- 7) Evaluate research studies and social work practice.
- 8) Demonstrate the professional use of self in problem-solving.

- 9) Apply knowledge of bio-psycho-social variables in understanding human behavior.
- 10) Utilize supervision and understand responsibilities to the agency appropriate to generalist practice.
- 11) Demonstrate a commitment to professional growth.

Admission to the Social Work Program

The Social Work Program admits students without regard to race, color, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, religion, gender, or sexual orientation. All students whether full or part time, in day or weekend classes, are extended the same access, rights, and privileges while enrolled in the Social Work Program.

Any student desiring entrance to the Social Work Program must make a formal application. Applications should be submitted to the Director of the Social Work Program during the semester in which the student is enrolled in SWK 201; or in the student's first Barton College social work course.

Criteria for admission include:

- Minimum of a 2.00 grade point average - overall.
- Two letters of recommendation.
- Completion of SKW 201 with at least a C- grade.
- Completion of personal essay.
- Submission of a further writing sample may be requested of transfer students.
- Interview with the student may be requested.
- Completed application packet, including essay, references, and face sheet.

There is an admissions committee consisting of the social work faculty. Faculty meet, at the end of each semester or trimester, to review the qualifications of students applying to the social work program. Decisions for full admission, conditional admission, or no admission, are based upon review of the application. A letter is sent to the student indicating the decision and listing the reasons for that decision.

Work and Life Experience Policy

No social work credit can be awarded to any student for either life or work experience.

Transfer Student Enrollment Credit Policy

All transfer credits in social work courses are reviewed by, and decisions made by, the Social Work Program Director, in conjunction with the College Registrar.

Grading Policy

Students must receive at least a grade of C- in all courses with a SWK prefix. Students must repeat any SWK course in which they receive less than a C-.

Termination from the Social Work Program

Evaluation of the student is an ongoing process. At least yearly, the social work faculty reviews the progress of the student in the program and may make termination recommendations based on academic, professional, and/or behavioral considerations.

Criteria for termination may include, but are not limited to:

- Overall grade point average falls below a 2.00.
- Final grades in SWK courses consistently fall below a C-.
- Documented violations of the Barton College Honor Code.
- Documented violations of the NASW Code of Ethics.
- Illegal behavior, such as illegal drug use, weapons violations, etc.

The procedure for dismissal of the student consists of the following steps:

- A summary of academic, professional, and/or behavioral concerns will be documented, in writing, by the social work faculty.
- A meeting between the faculty and the student will occur, to go over the documentation, and to address the issue(s).
- The student and faculty will make a contract that identifies the corrective steps the student needs to take, and a time frame in which to accomplish these steps.
- A second meeting will occur to evaluate progress by the student.
- Continuation in the program, if the student has successfully accomplished the corrective steps.
- Assistance and direction to find a more suitable academic major at the College, if the student is counseled out of the program.
- Students terminated from the social work program may not proceed through the social work sequence of courses until they have been readmitted to the program, following the steps outlined in criteria for admission.

Courses of Instruction: Criminal Justice and Criminology

CJC 101. Introduction to Criminal Justice and Criminology. 3.

This survey course is designed to provide students with a general introduction to the concepts, phenomenon, and issues of concern in the scientific study of crime and justice practice. It provides the introductory student an overview of the nature, dynamics, structure and functions of agencies of the criminal justice system and initial exposure to etiological theories of crime and criminal behavior. It also seeks to establish a rudimentary level of understanding of the major issues of concern in the criminal justice sciences, particularly those warranting further study. Special emphasis is given to current research findings in crime policy and criminal justice practice.

CJC 230. The American Legal System. 3.

This course is designed to provide students with a comprehensive introduction to the American legal system, its origins, and its players. The main content of the course pertains to the court structure in the United States and the relationship between trial and appellate courts, the roles of various players within the system, the contrasts between civil and criminal law and procedure, and the evolution of sentencing guidelines and policies in the past two decades.

CJC 240. Introduction to Forensic Science. 3.

Introduction to the concepts and methods of forensic science. The relationship between criminal investigation and the forensic sciences are discussed. Focus on laboratory methods. Visits to crime laboratories included.

CJC 310. Criminal Law. 3.

An overview of American criminal law with emphasis on definitions, crime data, and case law. Various criminal defenses are outlined and discussed in detail. The American court system, the courtroom workgroup, the criminal trial and sentencing practices are reviewed. Fall.

Prerequisite: CJC 101 (or CJC 230).

CJC 320. Police and Society. 3.

An overview of the history and development of policing in America society, police organization, police management and legal aspects of policing. Various styles of policing are introduced and community policing is discussed. Fall.

Prerequisite: CJC 101 (or CJC 230).

CJC 323. Juvenile Delinquency. 3.

An introduction to the problem of juvenile delinquency in American society. Causes of delinquency and societal responses are outlined and discussed. Delinquency in the contexts of family, school, and group interaction are discussed. The juvenile justice system is a focus of study and the class attends a session of juvenile court. Spring.

CJC 330. Criminology. 3.

A study of the various theories of crime causation and control, identification of criminal typologies and the reaction of society to crime and criminals. Special attention given to controversial issues in criminology with discussion of the different views and theories. Spring.

Prerequisite: CJC 101.

CJC 355. Constitutional Development of the United States. 3.

An analysis of the structure and interpretational changes in the Constitution of the United States. Spring.

Prerequisite: CJC 101 or POL 101 or HIS 201 or 202.

Note: Also listed as HIS 355.

CJC 410. Corrections. 3.

Study of the development of juvenile and adult correctional systems. Includes an analysis of current correctional practices with an overview of various correctional philosophies. Supervisory methods of correction such as probation and parole are discussed. Involves field visits to various correctional facilities. Fall.

Prerequisite: CJC 101 (or CJC 230).

CJC 415. Criminal Justice Administration. 3.

Introduction to supervisory and administrative issues related to police, correctional and criminal justice system administration. Various theories of administration are outlined and case studies are introduced. Special issues and problems related to criminal justice system administration are outlined and discussed. Fall.

Prerequisite: CJC 101 (or CJC 230).

CJC 420. Prevention of Crime and Delinquency. 3.

A survey of the theories, factors, structures and processes that effect crime and delinquency and review of policies, programs, social institutions and measures employed to reduce the level of criminal victimization in American society. The course will place emphasis on contributions from the research literature on approaches that have proven effective and/or hold promise for preventing crime and delinquency. Spring.

Prerequisite: CJC 101 (or CJC 230).

Note: CJC 330 is highly recommended.

CJC 440. Special Topics in Criminal Justice and Criminology. 3.

This course is intended to facilitate development and sharing of knowledge of important and timely subjects in the field of Criminal Justice and Criminology by integrating research, theory, policy and practice through in-depth examination of issues and questions of concern to the field. Students examine (a) the nature and causes of specific crimes (such as terrorism, organized crime, white collar crimes), including incidents, prevalence, and impact on the United States, (b) strategies for preventing and controlling these violations of criminal law, (c) the current thrust of U.S. policy and organizational structure for combating such violations, (d) specific problems such crimes present for criminal justice system agencies.

Prerequisite: CJC 101.

Note: This is a topics course that may be taken for credit two times provided that the course studies a different topic each time.

CJC 451. Field Instruction Seminar. 2.

A seminar convened by the field placement coordinator of field instruction. Spring.

Corequisite: CJC 452 or CJC 459.

CJC 452. Field Instruction for General Criminal Justice and Criminology. 10.

Placement in a selected criminal justice agency or related organization with a minimum of 420 contact hours required on site. Focus is on the integration of theory with practice. Spring.

Prerequisite: Senior standing within the Criminal Justice and Criminology major.

Corequisite: CJC 451.

Note: Required of all students in the General Criminal Justice and Criminology concentration.

CJC 453. Field Instruction for Law Enforcement I. 7.

Course offers basic law enforcement training designed to prepare individuals with the cognitive and physical skills needed to become certified law enforcement officers in North Carolina. This placement requires sponsorship of a law enforcement agency in North Carolina and academy training which meets the certification standards required by the Criminal Justice Education and Training Standards Commission of North Carolina.

Prerequisite: Senior standing within the Criminal Justice and Criminology major.

Corequisite: CJC 455.

Note: Open only to the Lifelong Education student majoring in Criminal Justice and Criminology with a Law Enforcement Concentration.

CJC 454. Field Instruction for General Criminal Justice and Criminology I. 5.

Placement in a selected criminal justice agency or related organization with a minimum of 420 contact hours required on site. Focus is on the integration of theory with practice.

Prerequisite: Senior standing within the Criminal Justice and Criminology major.

Corequisite: CJC 455.

Note: Open only to the Lifelong Education student majoring in Criminal Justice and Criminology with a General Criminal Justice and Criminology Concentration.

CJC 455. Field Instruction Seminar I. 1.

A seminar convened by the field placement coordinator of field instruction.

Corequisite: CJC 453 (CJC 454).

Note: Open only to the Lifelong Education student majoring in Criminal Justice and Criminology.

CJC 456. Field Instruction for Law Enforcement II. 7.

A continuation of CJC 453.

Corequisite: CJC 458.

Note: Open only to the Lifelong Education student majoring in Criminal Justice and Criminology with a Law Enforcement Concentration.

CJC 457. Field Instruction for General Criminal Justice and Criminology II. 5.

A continuation of CJC 454.

Prerequisite: Senior standing within the Criminal Justice and Criminology major.

Corequisite: CJC 458.

Note: Open only to the Lifelong Education student majoring in Criminal Justice and Criminology with a General Criminal Justice and Criminology Concentration.

Conceptual Framework for the Teacher Education Program: The Evolving Professional Teacher

The Barton College Teacher Education Program's conceptual framework emphasizes a commitment to knowledge of content, pedagogical techniques, cultural responsiveness, and leadership skills. The program's mission is to provide a supportive, nurturing environment for candidates as they learn content that serves as a foundation for what they will be teaching, as they develop leadership skills, and as they increase in their acceptance and understanding of all children. These goals, coupled with the underlying Teacher Education Program mandate to provide the pedagogical skills necessary for the success of the classroom, form the basis for the conceptual framework of the evolving professional teacher at Barton College.

Undergirding them are the personal attributes that the Teacher Education Program seeks to instill in its graduates: a love of learning and interest in continued professional growth, reflection on one's teaching effectiveness, and the confidence that results from membership in a supportive community.

Entrance Criteria for Teacher Education Program

In order to be admitted into the Teacher Education Program at Barton College, students must meet the entrance criteria requirements adopted by the Teacher Education Committee. These requirements reflect guidelines established by NCATE, DPI, and Barton College.

Formal Teacher Candidate Assessment Process for Degree-Seeking Student

Pre-Entry Stage I

A student may take the following courses without restrictions:

- EDU 200 - Introduction to Teaching
- EDU 201 - Foundations of Education
- EDU 223 - Educational Psychology
- EDU 225 - Introduction to Exceptional Children
- EDU 300 - Human Growth and Development
- PSY 325 - Psychology of Childhood and Adolescence

Pre-Entry Stage II

Before taking Pre-Entry Stage II courses, a student must:

1. Have declared a major with teacher licensure
2. Have a 2.30 cumulative GPA (Transfer + Barton GPA combined)
3. Have attempted PRAXIS I (Reading, Writing, and Math) or documentation of SAT or ACT scores allowing exemption
4. Have passed 56 semester hours

Decision Point I. Admission to Teacher Education

Before being admitted to Teacher Education, a student must:

1. Have a 2.50 cumulative GPA (Transfer + Barton GPA combined) at the time of admission to the program
2. Have passed PRAXIS (Reading, Writing, and Math) or documentation of SAT or ACT scores allowing exemption
3. Have completed the Strong Interest Inventory
4. Have the recommendation of his/her advisor
5. Have met all additional department entrance criteria requirements

Note: Formal admission to the program must occur at least one semester prior to student teaching (This is defined as the close of the registration period for the semester.)

Decision Point II. Admission to Student Teaching

Before being admitted to student teaching, a student must:

1. Have been accepted into the Teacher Education Program
2. Have maintained a 2.50 (Transfer + Barton GPA combined) GPA or above
3. Have completed all of the departmental entrance criteria requirements
4. Have senior level status
5. Have completed the application required for admittance into student teaching
6. Have been recommended for student teaching and approved by the program area coordinator and advisor
7. Have completed the requirements for all educational methods courses
 - a. Candidate earning a grade of “D” in any education methods course may student teach. However, candidate must repeat the course, earning at least a C-, in order to be licensed.
 - b. A candidate failing any education methods course will not be allowed to student teach until the course has been re-taken and successfully completed.
 - c. All incomplete grades have been satisfied.
 - d. Within the Elementary Education Program candidates must complete all methods courses prior to student teaching in subject areas which are the focus of elementary education curricula in the public schools - elementary curriculum, language arts, reading, social studies, math, and science. Ideally, all methods courses will be completed prior to student teaching; however, the School of Education will consider requests for taking methods courses not listed above after student teaching is completed. All student teaching placements are made through the office of the Director of Field Experience.
8. Have passed the sign proficiency test (Education of the Deaf and Hard of Hearing majors)

Decision Point III. Completion of the Program

In order to successfully complete the Teacher Education Program, the candidate must:

1. Have maintained a 2.50 GPA. (Transfer + Barton GPA combined)
2. Have successfully completed the INTASC Standards Portfolio in EDU 451
3. Have successfully completed the technology Portfolio in EDU 451
4. Have completed Baccalaureate Degree

Decision Point IV. Completion of North Carolina Licensure

In addition to successfully completing the Teacher Education Program, and being recommended for North Carolina license, a candidate must:

1. Have passed EDU 470 and EDU 473/474 (Student Teaching) with a C- or higher, as measured by the Barton College Student Teacher Evaluation Instrument

2. Have passed all education and major courses with a C- or higher
3. Have submitted LEA recommendation
4. Have passed PRAXIS II Specialty Area Test, if applicable

Advisement

Excellent advisement is a hallmark of the Barton College Teacher Education Program, which attempts to address the affective as well as the cognitive development of evolving professional teachers.

Upon admission to the College, all students are assigned academic advisors who work with them during their freshman year. Students who, at the end of their freshman year, express a desire to major in a particular teacher education licensure area are assigned to the appropriate department for academic advisement and registration. Once enrolled in a particular specialty area, student cumulative records are established and maintained.

It is the candidate's responsibility to make sure that all requirements for graduation a licensure have been met. Advisors assist candidates in understanding and fulfilling the requirements, but ultimate responsibility for doing so rests with the candidate. Students are expected to understand the requirements of the Teacher Education Program in general and their own specialty area in particular, as found in the Barton College General Catalog at the time they entered the College and in other information provided by the Teacher Education Program.

Transfer Credit Policy

Although Barton College accepts transfer credit from other institutions of higher education, the grade average is calculated only in credits earned at Barton College.

The Teacher Education Program makes an exception to this general college policy by calculating the grade point average based on all transfer credits. For students who already have college degrees, the cumulative grade point average printed on the transcript at the time of graduation, is used to determine acceptance into Barton's Teacher Education Program.

Praxis Examination or SAT/ACT Minimum Scores

Each candidate seeking teacher licensure in North Carolina must either (a): take Praxis I exams in reading, writing, and mathematics, and either (a) meet the state-mandated minimum score or (b) meet the state-mandated minimum scores on the SAT or ACT. Candidates must also meet state-mandated minimum scores on Praxis II in selected specialty areas. It is recommended that the Praxis I be taken by the end of the sophomore year and the Praxis II teaching specialty area examinations during the senior year. All Praxis scores must be sent to the Director of Teacher Education.

Policy Concerning “D” Grades

In order to ensure the academic integrity of the Teacher Education Program at Barton College, the grade of “D” either in the major or in professional education will not be recognized for licensure. Courses that receive a “D” grade must be repeated. Students may enter student teaching with “D” grades as long as the overall grade point average remains a 2.50.

Any candidate receiving a grade of “D” in student teaching will not be recommended for teacher licensure.

Procedures for Obtaining Field Experience Placements

1. EDU 200, 300, and 360 candidates must complete a Field Experience Request form prior to the drop/add period in order to be placed. EDU 400 candidates will be placed with the cooperating teacher for their student teaching.
2. EDU 200, EDU 300, and EDU 360 candidates who request placement in a public school outside of Wilson County may obtain a letter and form from the Director of Field Experience to take to the school in which they want to observe. Candidates must return the completed form before they begin their observation.

Student Teacher Admission Policy

The candidate will be eligible for student teaching by meeting the criteria for Decision Point II.

Student Teaching in Second Licensure Area Fee

A student who is student teaching in a second licensure area is assessed an additional Preservice Teaching Fee, equivalent to the Preservice Teaching Fee paid by the Lifelong Education student. (See “The Lifelong Education Student” under College Expenses).

Liability

Personal liability insurance is required during the student teaching experience. Candidates can obtain insurance through membership in SNCAE or through personal policy. Proof of liability insurance must be turned in to the Director of Field Experience prior to student teaching. Photocopies of SNCAE membership forms, personal policy liability forms and/or a letter from the candidate’s insurance agent to document the student’s insurance will be accepted.

Early Termination of Student Teaching

There are times when it is in the best interest of the public school system and Barton College that a student teacher be removed from the classroom prior to completion of the student teaching experience. The Director of Field Experience, the college supervisor, the public school supervisor, and the principal of the public school must be in agreement that this is the proper thing to do.

Formal procedures to terminate a student teaching assignment shall begin with the Director of Field Experience, who must inform the student, in writing, of the date student teaching will end and the specific reasons for such actions. Copies of the letter shall be sent to the college supervisor, the public school, the Dean of the School of Education, and the Vice President for Academic Affairs.

A student who has reason to believe this decision is improper and is unable to resolve this issue through discussion with the parties involved may appeal. The student must submit a formal letter to the Director of the Teacher Education Program within two school days of notification of termination stating precisely why he or she believes the decision to terminate student teaching is unjust. The Teacher Education Committee shall serve as a hearing board for such an appeal.

During the formal hearing, the student is entitled to the following due process rights:

1. To be present at all formal proceedings.
2. To be represented by an advisor. The student may seek one person from within the college community to act as an advisor to assist. Attorneys, however, may not represent parties in proceedings.
3. To cross-examine anyone making statements to the hearing board.

Upon hearing the arguments from the parties involved, the Teacher Education Committee may take one of the following courses of action:

1. Uphold the decision to remove the person from student teaching.
2. Uphold the appeal and allow the student to continue his/her teaching.
3. Uphold the appeal and ask the Director of Field Experience to reassign the student to another classroom.

The records of the Teacher Education Committee concerning this case shall be on file in the office of the Director of Field Experience for a period of five years. Members of the committee shall observe strict confidentiality regarding the case.

Application for Professional Licensure

The application form for a North Carolina teaching license must be filled out during the student teaching semester. The form must be returned to the Director of Teacher Education. A candidate desiring teacher licensure in another state or add-on licensure must assume personal responsibility for providing the necessary application forms to the Director of Teacher Education.

College Graduate Seeking License Only

(A candidate who has received a baccalaureate degree and is interested in obtaining North Carolina licensure enters Barton College as a licensure-only student.)

The licensure-only candidate who has graduated from an accredited college or university with at least a 2.50 grade point average may be admitted to the Teacher Education Program with no additional entrance requirements. Students with less than a 2.50 grade point average will be admitted with a passing score on the Praxis I exam and one of the following conditions: (1) a grade point average of 3.00 in the major field of study; (2) a grade point average of 3.00 on all work completed in the senior year; or (3) a grade point average of 3.00 on a minimum of 15 semester hours of coursework related to licensure and completed during the preceding five years.

Lateral Entry Policy

(A licensure-only candidate who holds a degree but not a teaching license and has been hired by a Local Education Agency (LEA) is labeled as a lateral-entry candidate. Upon completion of a licensure program, his/her lateral entry/provisional license will be cleared.)

The requirements for the lateral entry candidate are generally the same as the licensure-only candidate. Field experience and EDU 470 (Student Teaching) or EDU 473/474 (Preservice Teaching) may be waived, however, if the candidate is employed as a classroom teacher in his/her specific licensure area and provides documentation indicating success in this role. If the candidate has had five years of relevant school-based experience, the school system of employment may request that the Praxis I exam be waived. If deficiencies are noted in any area, the Director of Teacher Education, in consultation with the appropriate specialty area coordinator and the Director of Field Experience, reserves the right to impose additional requirements.

College Graduate Seeking a Second Bachelor's Degree

The college graduate seeking a second bachelor's degree will not be required to complete Praxis I if his/her GPA is a 2.50 or greater, and he/she may be admitted to the Teacher Education Program with no additional requirements.

Note: All courses listed in the requirements are three-hour courses except where noted with a number in parenthesis. Each set of double course numbers represents a lecture course/laboratory (or studio) course combination.

Major Program

- Nursing: B.S.N. degree

Faculty:

- Associate Professors: Bland, Massey, Ruwe.
- Assistant Professors: Alligood, Davis, Rose.
- Visiting Assistant Professor: Wray.
- Instructor: Clayton.

Student Organization:

Barton College Association of Nursing Students (BCANS) .

The nursing program is fully approved by the North Carolina Board of Nursing and fully accredited by the National League for Nursing Accrediting Commission.

Mission Statement

The School of Nursing, in concert with Barton College, is dedicated to preparing graduates to function in present and emerging nursing roles as collaborative members of interdisciplinary health care teams. Based on a liberal arts tradition, the School of Nursing provides a scholarly environment that fosters the utilization of research, experiential learning, and public service in a variety of health care settings. The nursing faculty is committed to student success and demonstrates this commitment by providing a supportive environment that challenges and nurtures students to become engaged learners, effective communicators, and responsible to their profession, their community, and the world. Developing critical thinking is central to the mission of the School of Nursing. The humanities / fine arts, biological, physical and social science courses that are integrated into the nursing program provide a sound basis for humanistic, scientific nursing within a culturally diverse community.

Note 1: All courses in the requirements are three-hour courses except where noted with a number in parentheses. Each set of double course numbers represents a lecture course/laboratory course combination.

Note 2: Clinical nursing courses and upper level nursing courses are only offered on an annual basis.

Nursing Major (B.S.N.) Requirements for Pre-Licensure Students:

- Successful completion of admission standards for the professional nursing courses.
- Prerequisite courses before commencing the upper level professional courses: BIO 206/208 (3/1), 311/313 (3/1) and 312/314 (3/1); CHE 200/201 (3/1); PSY 101; SOC/SWK 101; at least a C grade must be earned in each course. NUR 201 (2), 202 (4), 213, and 214; at least a C grade must be earned in each course; NUR 210 (1), a grade of “pass” must be achieved.
- Professional Nursing courses: NUR 307 (7), 313 (2), 317 (9), 401 (2), 407 (8), 413 (1), 417 (9); and 470 or 472 (2). At least a C grade must be earned in each of these courses in order to progress within the program.
- Pre-or Corequisite courses for NUR 307: PSY 220, and one of the following statistics courses: MGT 210 or MTH 250. At least a C grade must be earned in order to progress.
- Oral, written, and computer competence must be demonstrated. Evaluation of these competencies is conducted within each of the levels in a variety of ways.

Total: 81-82 semester hours.

Nursing Major (B.S.N.) Requirements for Registered Nurse Students:

Same requirements as those for pre-licensure students, except:

- NUR 305 required in place of NUR 202 (4)
- Upon successful completion (at least a C grade) of NUR 305, student is awarded placement credit for NUR 307 (7) and NUR 407 (8).
- Application to the program by March 1 prior to the anticipated entrance to the professional nursing courses.

Admission to the Professional Nursing Courses

The following criteria are the minimum criteria for consideration for admission, and acquisition of these criteria does not guarantee admission into the nursing program. The student's admission is dependent upon meeting all of the criteria for admission and the availability of faculty and clinical resources.

- Apply to the program by November 1 prior to the anticipated entrance into the professional nursing courses. Acceptance into the College does not guarantee acceptance into the professional nursing courses.
- Complete NUR 201 with a minimum grade of C.
- Submit a completed application for admission to the Nursing Program.
- Submit a completed physical form with the required immunizations and laboratory data.
- Provide signed statement of physical and mental ability to provide safe nursing care to the public.
- Provide proof of certification in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) of the adult, child, and infant.
- Upon admission to the program, a criminal background check, drug screen, and Ishihana color blindness test are required of all students.

Progression to the Upper Level Nursing Course

In order to progress to the upper level nursing course, students must meet the following criteria:

1. Complete all of the admission requirements.
2. Maintain a grade point average of 2.50 or above.
3. Achieve a C or above in each of the following courses: NUR 202, 213, and 214; BIO 206/208, 311/313, 312/314; CHE 200/201; PSY 101 and SOC 101. Achieve a grade of “pass” in NUR 210.

Transfer Student Admission

A traditional student from another accredited baccalaureate or higher degree nursing program may submit completed coursework for review by the School of Nursing. A letter from the Dean of the nursing program from that institution must state the student is in good standing. The acceptance or waiver of the course(s) is contingent upon the theoretical and clinical congruence with the course offered by the Barton College School of Nursing. A copy of the procedure to be followed by the traditional nursing student may be obtained in the Office of the Secretary in the School of Nursing.

Registered Nurse Student Admission and Advanced Placement

The admissions standards into the professional nursing courses are the same for all students including Registered Nurses and other students who have already completed a Board of Nursing approved program for registered nurse licensure. The student registers for NUR 305, NUR 317, NUR 401, NUR 417 and NUR 470 or 472. NUR 213 is required for the student who does not have college transfer credit for a health assessment course. The following courses may be challenged: NUR 201, 210, 214, 313, and 413.

Dismissal from Nursing Program

A student may be dismissed from NUR 202, 307, 317, 407, 417, 470, 472 at any time for any one of the following reasons:

- Unsafe practice related to course objectives.
- Physical or emotional health problems that do not respond to treatment in a reasonable period of time as determined by the student's health care provider, the Dean of the School, and any combination of the following level coordinators, course nursing faculty, and the School of Nursing Student Affairs Committee.
- Physical or emotional health problems that interfere with successful attainment of course objectives.

Dismissal at any time may occur by:

- Request for the student to withdraw from the program.
- Earning a grade of C-, D, F, or failure in clinical laboratory for work completed which prohibits the student from progressing in the program.

Readmission

Students may request readmission to the nursing program only once when a break in continuous enrollment occurs. Not more than one year may elapse in continuous enrollment in the nursing program in order to be considered for readmission. Students must complete an application for readmission. Applications will be handled based on the criteria designated in the readmission policy in the School of Nursing Student Policy Manual. Minimum GPA for readmission is 2.70.

Additional Expenses for Nursing Majors

A student must have access to an automobile. Other expenses (approximate) include:

- Uniform: $150-200 (a one-time expense).
- Liability insurance: approximately $25 per year in the sophomore, junior, and senior years.
- Standardized Testing: $250.
- Nursing pin: $150 at the time of graduation.
- Equipment: $250 (includes laboratory skills packet).

Policy on Sexual Harassment

Barton College has long been dedicated to maintaining and fostering a fair, humane, and responsible environment for all its students, faculty and staff. Sexual harassment is considered a violation of policy and will be dealt with under the procedures which have been established. We affirm the EEOC Guidelines on Discrimination Because Of Sex (Section 1604.11, November 1980) and Section 703 of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. Unwelcomed sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature constitute sexual harassment when:

- Submission to such conduct is made explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's employment or education;
- Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as a basis for employment decisions affecting such individual; or
- Such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual's work or educational performance or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment. Although the majority of incidents of sexual harassment involve a male supervisor, co-worker, or instructor harassing a woman, the law and the College policy also cover women harassing men, and men harassing men. The College strictly prohibits retaliation against individuals for bringing complaints of sexual harassment.

Detailed information on the Sexual Harassment Policy and Grievance Procedure can be found in the Regulatory Documents Manual 2-17. This manual may be accessed through the College Information Technology "on-line" network

The main campus is located approximately 10 blocks northwest of downtown Wilson.

Barton-Graves House (1923) at 800 West Nash Street, currently serving as the president's home, was given to the College by the Graves family in 1984. The house is considered one of the finest examples of Neo-Georgian architecture in North Carolina.

Mary Irwin Belk Hall (1956) was named to honor Mary Irwin Belk (1882-1968) of Charlotte, North Carolina. The School of Education is located in Mary Irwin Belk Hall and Hardy Center. The Office of Lifelong Education and Extended Programs is located in Mary Irwin Belk Hall.

Case Art Building (1966) was named in honor of S. Perry Case, who served the College as a professor and administrator from 1916 to 1960. The building houses a classroom, studios, the Barton Art Galleries (including the Lula E. Rackley Gallery and the Virginia Thompson Graves Gallery), and offices for the Department of Art within the School of Arts and Sciences.

East Campus Suites (2005) Barton College's newest residence hall, opened in 2005. The new residence hall, approximately 30,000 square feet, is a three-story, traditional brick structure designed to complement the older buildings on campus. The new residence hall features apartment-style living with 22 individual suites offering single and double occupancy bedrooms. Each suite accommodates up to four persons and in addition to bedrooms, each includes a living room, a kitchenette, and two full bathrooms. The suites are fully wired for phone, cable television and internet access. The kitchenettes are furnished with refrigerators, microwaves, double sinks, and spacious cabinets. The building is ADA compliant and provides study lounges and a laundry facility for all residents.

Hackney Hall (1960) was named to honor the Hackney family. Three members of the family served the College as Chairman of the Board of Trustees. All residence hall rooms are provided with connections for computers.

Roma Hackney Music Building (1963) houses the offices of the Department of Communication and Performing Arts within the School of Arts and Sciences, in addition to classrooms, the Sara Lynn Riley Kennedy Music Recording Studio, a library for recordings and musical scores, and the office for the Collegiate newspaper. Wilson Educational Television (WEDT) also maintains studio, production and playback facilities in the building. WEDT produces and cablecasts original programming for the local cable company.

Willis N. Hackney Library (1977) was named in honor of a friend of the College. The library, which has seating for 250 readers, is open at least 87 hours per week to serve the college community. Its resources are also available to the residents of the Wilson community. The library's collection includes over 152,000 volumes, more than 25,000 electronic books, and a substantial collection of non-print materials. It subscribes to approximately 350 periodicals and newspapers, in print and microform format, and provides full-text access to over 19,000 electronic subscriptions, as well as a substantial collection of non-print materials. The Curriculum Lab, located on the second floor of Hackney Library, includes copies of textbooks and other resource materials used in the North Carolina public schools. Hackney Library is also a depository for selected U.S. Government documents and offers internet access to a wide variety of resources. The library provides an automated cataloging system that is accessible via the internet and offers computers for research and other needs to both the Barton community and the public as well. In addition, a wireless computer network and loaner wireless laptops are available to the Barton community. Individual and group study rooms are available (some equipped with computers) on the second floor, as well as a student lounge with vending machines.

Hamlin Student Center (1967) was named to honor Charles H. Hamlin (1890-1985), longtime professor of social studies. The center houses the campus dining hall, Bully's Campus Grill, student conference rooms, a student lounge, a theatre, the offices of career services, student activities, and administrative offices for the Division of Student Affairs.

Hardy Alumni Hall (1936) was named to honor Bert Clarence Hardy (1906-1935), nephew of Clarence Leonard Hardy. The building has a large room used for campus meetings, lectures, and receptions. The building also includes the Trustees' Board Room. The basement level houses the Student Affairs administrative offices and a multipurpose room.

Hardy Center (1951) was named for Clarence Leonard Hardy (1877-1950) of Maury, North Carolina, a longtime (1926-1949) trustee of the College. The School of Education is located in Hardy Center and Mary Irwin Belk Hall.

Harper Hall (1950) was named to honor the Harper family. John James Harper (1841-1908) served as president of the College. President Harper's daughters, Frances F. Harper (1875-1940) and Myrtie Lela Harper (1873-1958), served as professor of mathematics and as college librarian, respectively. During the spring semester of the 2001-2002 academic year, the majority of administrative offices for the college were relocated in Harper Hall, including the President's Office, the Office of Academic Affairs, the Office of Administration and Finance, and the Office of Institutional Advancement, as well as Alumni Programs and the Annual Fund, Publications, Public Relations, Enrollment Management, Admissions, Financial Aid, Registrar, Business, and Personnel offices. Harper houses the college's Information Technology Center. The building also houses the Sarah Bain Ward Parlor, named for the former Dean of Women, as well as the College Archives and the Carolina Disciplina Collection. The Carolina Disciplina Collection is a rich and unique source relating to the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) and other religious movements. The original collection was assembled by C.C. Ware (1886-1974).

Hilley Hall (1966) is a residence hall named for Howard Stevens Hilley (1892-1963), a former professor of ancient and modern languages, who became president of the College in 1920. All residence hall rooms are provided with connections for computers.

J.W. Hines Hall (1956) was named to honor James William Hines (1858-1928) of Rocky Mount, North Carolina. He left a significant sum to the College upon his death on the eve of the Great Depression. Hines Hall is the largest classroom building on campus, housing the schools of Business and Behavioral Sciences; the Departments of English and Modern Languages, History and Social Sciences, Psychology, and Religion and Philosophy, within the School of Arts and Sciences. Computer laboratories are located on the first floor. Students may use the facility outside of scheduled class time.

Howard Chapel (1939) was named to honor Curtis William Howard (1853-1932), a longtime trustee of the College and minister of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ).

The Lauren Kennedy and Alan Campbell Theatre (2009) was named in honor of Lauren Kennedy and Alan Campbell, Broadway stars and friends of the College. The new black box theatre provides the campus with a premier teaching facility and an excellent venue for theatre, dance, concerts, and lectures.

Kennedy Recreation and Intramural Center (1997) was named in honor of the K.D. Kennedy, Jr., family to recognize significant contributions to the College. It is attached to the Wilson Gymnasium and includes an indoor swimming pool, auxiliary gym, weight/fitness center, and a suspended jogging/walking track.

Lee Student Health Center (1956) was named to honor College friends, Mr. and Mrs. Don E. Lee, of Arapahoe, North Carolina.

Moye Science Hall (1956) was named for Lawrence A. Moye of Maury, North Carolina, a former trustee of the College. The building houses the Department of Science and Mathematics within the School of Arts and Sciences.

Nixon Nursing Building (1976) was named in 2004 to honor the generosity of alumnus and trustee, Dr. William P. Nixon, Jr. This facility houses classrooms, a laboratory, and offices for the School of Nursing.

Physical Plant Operations Complex (2001) houses the Physical Plant administrative and staff offices, as well as shop operations.

The Sam and Marjorie Ragan Writing Center (1999) was named in honor of Sam Ragan, noted alumnus, journalist, editor, publisher, Pulitzer Prize nominee, and North Carolina State Poet Laureate, and his wife, Marjorie, an accomplished journalist. The building houses a main conference room for seminars and lectures, offices for visiting scholars, as well as the director of the center, and a number of computer workstations designed for student use.

Waters Hall (1968) is a residence hall named for John Mayo Waters, who served the College as a professor and administrator. All residence hall rooms are provided with connections for computers.

Wenger Hall (1970) is a residence hall named for Arthur D. Wenger (1916-1977), former president of the College. All residence hall rooms are provided with connections for computers.

Wilson Gymnasium (1966) was named to honor the many contributions made to the College by the citizens of the city of Wilson. The building houses the gymnasium, classrooms, locker rooms, offices for the Athletics Director, and offices for the Department of Physical Education and Sport Studies, within the School of Arts and Sciences.

Approximately six blocks northwest of the main campus is the Barton College Athletic Complex. This 30-acre property, dedicated in 1979, includes the Nixon Baseball Field, Jeffries Softball Field, and Barton's soccer field. The Scott Davis Field House was completed in 1993. Across Raleigh Road from the main campus is the Barton College Tennis Complex and public service building.
