2019 Barton College Undergraduate Student Satisfaction Survey

Executive Summary

The 2019 Barton College undergraduate satisfaction survey was conducted to gather input from undergraduate students about their overall satisfaction with their in- and out-of-class experiences, as well as with the programs and services available to them. The survey provides valuable feedback to campus administrators who are constantly seeking input about ways to improve both services and the student experience. The most recent previous undergraduate student satisfaction survey took place in Spring 2017, so it is possible to compare this year's responses to the many of questions which were repeated. It is recommended that the same survey continue to be conducted every other year in the spring of odd-numbered years.

Most of the survey questions made use of the Likert-rating scale based on satisfaction levels reported as follows:

Very Satisfied = 5

Satisfied = 4

Neutral = 3

Dissatisfied = 2

Very Dissatisfied = 1

Questions 3.1, 3.2 and 3.3 made use of a 5-point rating scale based on answer choices of poor (1), fair (2), neutral (3), good (4) and Excellent (5). Respondents also had the option of abstaining or selecting N/A for each of the survey questions.

On March 14, 2019, all freshmen, sophomores and juniors were invited via their Barton email address to participate in the student satisfaction survey (n=748). Seniors were not included in the survey outreach as the annual senior survey was scheduled to be launched on April 6, 2019.

The survey was sent from BCRsearch@ barton.edu using Class Climate software. Reminder emails were sent on March 22, March 30, April 7, and April 16 to those undergraduates who had not yet responded. When the survey closed on April 19, 2019, a total of 109 responses had been received, yielding a response rate of 14.6%. This response rate is quite a bit lower than the 2017 response rate of 24.4% when seniors were included in the survey outreach. In the future, it is recommended that this survey be sent earlier in the semester and that seniors be included in the pool. Incentivizing students to participate or advertising the survey in other ways might also be worth considering.

An overall average score was calculated for the response to each question, as indicated on Attachment 1. This report also provides, on page 7, demographic information about the students who participated in the survey. Average scores for each question were also calculated for the various subgroups of respondents – male vs. female (Attachment 2), traditional vs. Professional Studies students (Attachment 3), students living on-campus vs. off-campus (Attachment 4), members of each of the undergraduate classes (Attachment 5), and members of the 3 ethnic groups that the majority of the respondents were members of (Attachment 6). The results of each of these sub-evaluations appear as attachments to this report. Finally, a report comparing the 2017 responses to the 2019 responses is included (Attachment 7) as is a blank copy of the questionnaire used (Attachment 8). Note that several new questions and/or response options were added to the 2019 version of the survey, so these new items will not appear on the report comparing the 2017 and 2019 results.

Key Findings:

- Overall, Barton students responded positively regarding the experiences and with the services available to them. The key exceptions being satisfaction with the selection of food offered in the cafeteria (question 4.37, average score of 2.3), selection of food offered by additional food service options on campus (question 4.38, average score of 2.9), and their on-campus housing options (question 4.29, average score of 2.9). These were the only questions to receive a mean score of less than 3.0 (Attachment 1).
- Students expressed the greatest satisfaction with academic advice from their advisor (question 2.3, average score of 4.2), accessibility of faculty (question 2.2, average score of 4.1), quality of services offered by the Library (question 4.17, average score of 4.1), and quality of services offered by the Office of Student Success (question 4.23, average score of 4.1). Many of the other student support areas and programs also received high marks (Attachment 1).
- For the vast majority of questions, male and female satisfaction rates varied little (Attachment 2).
- Professional Studies students appear to be slightly more satisfied with programs and services, although the number of Professional Studies students' responses was less than 10 for many of questions (Attachment 3).
- Students living off-campus appear to be more satisfied across the board, although those living off-campus are more likely to be upperclassmen who were generally more satisfied than freshmen. Students living on campus did show greater levels of dissatisfaction with the academic reputation of the college (question 3.1), reliability of wireless connectivity on campus (question 4.22), cleanliness of campus buildings (question 4.27), and selection of food offered in the cafeteria (question 4.37) (Attachment 4).
- Mean scores did not vary significantly between members of the freshmen, sophomore and junior classes, although, as a general rule, juniors tended to respond slightly more positively to questions about academics whereas freshmen were more positive about facilities, services, programs and safety. Sophomores tended to respond somewhat more negatively. Question 4.33 about the quality of disability services offered by the Lee Student Health Center showed one of the greatest differences in responses between members of the different classes.
- Mean scores of the responses provided by students of different ethnicities showed greater variation, although the numbers of Black (n=12) and Hispanic (n=5) students were relatively low. With respect to the questions about services (section 4) and student life (section 5), the average score of the response provided by Black students was less than 3.0 when it came to course availability (question 2.5), services available to GI Bill recipients (question 4.5), lab facilities (question 4.28), on-campus housing options (question 4.29), quality of counseling services offered by the Lee Health Center (question 4.34), opportunities for employment on campus (question 4.35), selection of food offered in the cafeteria (question 4.37), selection of food offered by additional food service options on campus (question 4.38), selection of products in the vending machines (question 4.39), and extracurricular activities such as clubs and student groups (question 5.3) (Attachment 6).
- Attachment 7 displays the average score for each response provided in 2017 and 2019 for each of the questions that appeared on both of the surveys. While many of the responses are slightly less positive in 2019, this may be attributable to the fact that nearly half as many students responded in 2019 and seniors, who tend to have greater perspective, were not included. With this in mind, students in 2019 continued to respond favorably about the quality and accessibility of faculty, academic support services, the value of their Barton education, availability of tutoring services, quality of the Ragan Writing Center, quality of the Library and its staff, quality of the Office of Student Success, classroom environment, and student safety.
