

BARTON-APPROVED SOCIAL GATHERINGS 2/25/21

Protocol

In alignment with the recommendations of the state of North Carolina issued on 24 February, Barton College has revised its guidance on attendance at indoor social events.

Such events may, as of 26 February, accommodate at any one time up to 30% of the occupancy limit of the space where the event will be held. Attendees are still required to wear masks, and maintain social distancing of at least 6 feet. Event organizers are required to have their event plans approved in advance, and must monitor compliance with capacity, mask, and social distancing requirements during the duration of the event.

Barton College reserves the right to set attendance limits at less than 30% for certain events or venues, and to revisit this policy should state or campus conditions suggest it. Students who participate in events which fall outside these guidelines continue to be subject to campus disciplinary procedures.
